PASS WISCONSIN BILL OUTLAWING SITDOWN STRIKE

Labor Relations Act Sent to Gov. Heil.

BY FRED GRAFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., April 20.—[Special.] —The Wisconsin legislature, which three weeks ago passed a bill forbidding strike abuses, today completed favorable action on a second and more stringent measure designed to end industrial strife in the state.

The new bill would replace the La Follette "little Wagner act," under which violence and destruction of property spread through Wisconsin. It is similar to the legislation enacted or pending in a constantly growing group of states which now includes Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, and Oregon.

The proposed law specifically outlaws all forms of sitdown strikes, virtually prohibits a closed shop, and provides punishment for those who resort to violence and intimidation in labor disputes.

Ban Stranger Picketing.

The previously enacted measure, the Catlin bill which was signed into law by Gov. Julius P. Heil on March 30, limits legally recognized labor disputes in Wisconsin to controversies between an employer and a majority of his employés. It thus bars so-called stranger picketing by labor unions and also outlaws secondary picketing of outlets.

Supporters of the bill passed today say it will rid the state of labor racketeers, equalize the rights of employers and employés, relieve the farming industry of the danger from sudden strikes, and protect both employers and employés from coercion and intimidation.

The senate voted 22 to 11 today in passing the labor relations bill, which originated in the house and was approved there on March 9. It was sent to Gov. Heil for his signature or veto. It is expected he will make it a law as promptly as he did the Catlin bill.

Changes Outlined.

Sitdown strikes will be outlawed. The closed shop will be prohibited except by approval of 75 per cent of employés through a secret ballot. A new labor relations board will act solely in the capacity of a judge or mediator in labor disputes, eliminating criticism against the old board that it was investigator, prosecutor, judge, and jury.

The checkoff system of paying union dues will be prohibited except by approval of the workers individually. Ten days' notice will be required in strikes involving perishable farm products. Collective bargaining negotiations will be limited to an employer and a majority of the employés.

Unfair labor practices will be listed both for employer and employés, contrary to the present law which lists them only for the employer.

Covers Same Ground.

The new legislation covered the same ground as the Catlin law in two instances. One states that labor disputes will be deemed to exist only between an employer and a majority of his employés when the controversy results in a strike or lockout. The other prohibits so-called stranger or collateral picketing by labor unions not a direct party to the dispute, as now defined.

The proposed law was backed by the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, which embraces more than thirty organizations and coöperatives claiming a membership of 80,000 farmers.

Opposition of the farmers was brought to a head last summer at Richland Center, where members of a coöperative creamery resisted efforts to unionize their plant. Some 500 farmers went to the creamery and ousted seven employés, members of a teamsters' union. The plant refused to take back the employés, despite their backing by the federal labor board.

Other Cases Numerous.

Prior to that outburst, Racine county farmers were harassed by a canning factory strike at the height of their spinach and cabbage season. Numerous other labor disputes, many accompanied by violence, have plagued employers and tied up industries, especially motor car plants, throughout Wisconsin.

200 SEARCHERS RING FUGITIVES; SEIZED IN HOTEL

BoyFlees St. Charles; 37th This Year!

Two convicts who escaped from the honor farm of Pontiac reformatory were seized last night near the southern boundary of Cook county after a six hour search in which 200 policemen and state guards participated.

Much of the intense activity was based on a report that one of the fugitives, Walter Mancino, had threatened to kill Assistant State's Attorney Richard B. Austin. The prosecutor's home in Flossmoor was kept under guard until the capture was announced shortly before midnight.

Seized at Hotel Door.

Mancino and his companion, John Underwood, were caught in the Crown hotel in Steger by state highway policemen. There was no resistance. Both men were taken to the state police headquarters in Joliet, where they admitted they had held up a filling station at New Lenox late Wednesday. They denied making any threats against Austin.

Meanwhile, authorities in other sections were hunting for Walter Van Dyke, young incorrigible who ran away from the St. Charles Training School for Boys late Tuesday. He was the thirty-seventh inmate to escape since Jan. 1.

Mancino and Underwood left Pontiac on Friday. There was no trace of their whereabouts until early yesterday, when Prosecutor Austin received an anonymous telephone call.

Warning Call Traced.

"This is a friend," the caller said. "Look out. Walter Mancino is out and is gunning for you."

Austin, who prosecuted Mancino for burglary in 1936, took the warning seriously. The call was traced to Carroll C. Bragg, a real estate dealer at South Bend, Ind. He said that J. J. Mancino of Matteson, a brother of the fugitive, told him of the threat.

State highway policemen led by Lieut. Morris Schwartz went to the Mancino home in the afternoon. There they learned that Walter and Underwood had driven away only a short time before in a gray automobile they had stolen in Springfield.

Joliet Sends Fifty Guards.

A call for assistance was sent out and the police concentration began. Fifty guards were sent from the Joliet prison. All the state highway policemen in the vicinity of Chicago and thirty county highway policemen were added to the searching detail.

Some of the searchers went at 7 p. m. to the Crown hotel, which was suggested as a likely rendezvous by First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley. They learned there that two men in a gray automobile had driven away just a little earlier. Less than an hour later Police Chief Joseph Dineen of Flossmoor found the car abandoned near the Illinois Central tracks in Matteson.

Later Underwood said that they had made their way back to Steger and their supposedly safe refuge by walking along the railroad tracks and

FIFTY POLICE SEARCH PARIS OPERA ON TIP IT WILL BE SET AFIRE

PARIS, April 20.—Acting on a tip that there would be an attempt to set fire to the Paris Opera house, fifty police searched the famed building just before the curtain went up for a gala performance of "The Damnation of Faust." The searchers found nothing to justify the report.

Coming on the heels of the fire which wrecked the liner Paris, the tip stirred the prefecture, especially since the opera house had an accidental fire in 1936. After the minute two hour search the performance was allowed to begin, although police stayed at the building.

100 KANE COUNTY FARMERS ATTEND 3D S. O. S. FEAST

For 50 cents each here's what more than 100 Kane county farmers feasted upon at the Geneva city hall last night:

Thick pork steaks, creamy potatoes, custard pie topped with fluffy meringue, plenty of milk with lots of cream content, tasty cheese, hot rolls, and butter.

The dinner was one of a series of S. O. S.—Serve Only Surplus—feasts started in Kane county recently. The idea is to use up farm surpluses and raise farm prices. The first dinner was attended by only seven farmers, the second by forty. A. H. Kirkland, temporary secretary of the S. O. S., hopes the surplus foods dinner idea will spread in chain form throughout the country. Each guest at a dinner is expected to invite six to the next. At that rate, Kirkland says, more than 4,000,000 persons will be partaking of dinners of surplus foods throughout the nation in a short time.

GIRL, 1, MAKING LONE TRIP FROM MANILA TO U. S.

Josephine Amelia Jacobs, 1 year old, who has traveled alone from the Philippine Islands to live with relatives in Joliet, will arrive in Chicago tonight aboard a United Air Lines plane. She will be met at Chicago airport by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rakoski of Joliet, cousins who will become her foster parents.

Josephine's father is Joseph Jacobs, a sailor attached to the United States submarine base at Manila. Her mother died there in December. The child on March 30 left Manila aboard a navy gunboat commanded by Capt. Warren Woods. The captain's wife went along to care for the infant.

Jim Has Pride and Grit; He Stays Off Dole

[From time to time The Tribune will print stories about people whose pride and enterprise have kept them off relief. Following is the first of these stories.]

He's a familiar figure around Evanston. Everybody knows him. He pushes a little cart and sells peanuts, popcorn, and hotdogs. It's a gay little cart of many colors. On the side, in neat letters, is printed: "James' Rolling Kitchen, America's Finest."

It's hard work, but Jim Petihakis doesn't complain. And you have to know him pretty well before you find out that until five years ago he owned a good restaurant on Chicago's south side or that he was a first wrestler with his own troupe.

In 1933 Jim decided to get married. So he left his business in charge of another man and went back to Greece, his homeland, for a bride. When he returned to Chicago, however, he found that his restaurant was in bad shape. Jim lost it.

He Isn't Discouraged.

For a few months then, he admits, he didn't know what to do. He made a brief comeback in the ring. That wasn't so good. Finally he got enough money to buy a little cart [he has a newer one now] and he's been peddling ever since.

On good days he may make as much as $3. That's exceptional, however, and in his best week he has never topped twenty. Out of that he cares for his wife, who is in poor health, and for his four little children.

Then there are outlays for such things as licenses. Jim was brought into court in Evanston a few months ago for not having one. He told Judge James M. Corcoran he had always tried to keep off relief and make his own way. He could still do so, he added proudly, if given a little time. The court gave him time. Jim borrowed the money and another crisis was passed.

His Day's Walk a Long One.

Jim now lives on Chicago's far west side, but he walks to Evanston and home again five or six days a week. And on Sundays he takes long hikes looking for a good spot for his cart this summer.

"On a good day in summer," he says, "you can make a lot of money. You stay there till 2 in the morning and sell maybe four, five hundred bags of popcorn."

And James' rolling kitchen, America's finest, starts rolling again.

NEWS PICTURES BY RADIO.

Yesterday Adolf Hitler celebrated his 50th birthday in Berlin. In the afternoon he watched 60,000 soldiers march by with their war machines. Yesterday the German fleet was sighted off England on its way to Spanish waters. THIS MORNING The Tribune's back page illustrates these news events with pictures sent by radio and cable from London.

COLLEGE BOYS AND GEN. FRANCO THROW THE BULL

Minneapolis, Minn., April 20.—(AP)—Frolicsome University of Minnesota students cabled Generalissimo Francisco Franco as he was marching to Barcelona, Spain:

"Lay off Ferdinand the Bull."

They signed it "Oak Street Club, University of Minnesota."

This letter, from a Franco aid, came today:

"Don Ferdinand the Bull:

"My dear sir: By order of his excellency the generalissimo, through the office of the minister of foreign affairs, it gives me pleasure in telling you that his excellency was greatly pleased with the telegram which you sent him on the occasion of the conquest of Barcelona by our glorious army. With this motive he offers you his best wishes."

PEACE ARRIVES; WOMEN WEEP AT INDIANA COLLEGE

North Manchester, Ind., April 20.—(AP)—Manchester college students conducted a peace demonstration here today so realistic many persons were convinced war had been declared. Many women wept and one student fainted.

School officials, townsfolk and the students enacted a faked broadcast from Europe in which Europe had gone to war and the United States had only a few hours before it declared war on Germany and Italy. Listeners thought the broadcast was originating in England.

The program concluded with the statement, "You have been through a dress rehearsal for what may really come in a few weeks or even in a few days."

RUSSIA READY TO JOIN WAR ALLIANCE, LONDON HEARS

Would Pledge Huge Forces to Resist Aggression.

LONDON, April 20.—(AP)—Soviet Russia was reported reliably tonight to have sent the British foreign office proposals which indicated soviet willingness to participate in the British-French anti-aggression coalition.

Leslie Burgin, named to head new ministry of supply.

A source usually well informed said that the entire forces of the three nations would be pledged to resist any aggression in Europe if the proposals were accepted.

[Reports from Helsingfors said the soviet was carrying on diplomatic conversations with the Baltic states of Finland, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania regarding a Russian offer of military assistance in case their independence is threatened by a third power. It was understood Estonia and Latvia informed Moscow that neither country is threatened by war and therefore require no outside military support.]

Progress with Turkey.

The soviet proposals to Britain, which countered those put forward in Moscow by the British ambassador, Sir William Seeds, to Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov, were being considered by the British foreign office.

It was reported also that talks with Turkey were progressing.

[The Turkish newspaper Vakit of Ankara reported that British-Turkish negotiations for a mutual anti-aggression pact had been successfully concluded. The report could not be confirmed in official quarters.]

Some quarters believed that if an agreement could be reached with Moscow, Britain shortly would be able to announce the inclusion of two new allies—one with great reserves of man power and raw materials and the other of prime strategic importance—in the front she is building in an attempt to check the Rome-Berlin axis.

Supply Minister Named.

Poland, Greece, and Rumania already have received promises of French-British aid if their independence is threatened.

Prime Minister Chamberlain today appointed a minister of supply—in effect a dictator charged with speeding up delivery of munitions supplies for the army and finding and storing raw materials for wartime use.

Leslie Burgin was named to the post with cabinet rank. He is 51 years old and a member of the National Liberal party. He was in the British secret service in Italy during the world war. He was brought into the cabinet as transport minister in May, 1937. His successor there has not been named.

A number of branches of supply will be transferred from the war office to Burgin's ministry. It also will be Burgin's duty, Chamberlain said, to obtain priority for government orders over purely normal business. Creation of the new ministry was a triumph for Winston Churchill, wartime minister of munitions, who had urged such a step for years.

Eased by Hitler Speech.

The government rejected a plan to build deep air raid shelters as impracticable, but promised to increase production of individual "family dog houses"—little steel backyard shelters.

The foreign office took a little more optimistic view of the European situation, meanwhile, partly because there was no announcement of new territorial acquisitions during the Berlin celebration of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's birthday.

Government circles appeared not greatly perturbed by the address of Premier Mussolini in Rome and some thought it even comparatively mild, inasmuch as Il Duce cited plans for a world exposition in Rome in 1942 as proof of peace expectations although he called President Roosevelt's proposal for a ten year peace agreement "absurd."

The foreign office, however, is awaiting Hitler's speech on April 28, which is to answer the Roosevelt appeal.

60,000 Troops March Past Hitler on His 50th Birthday.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

BERLIN, April 20.—While Adolf Hitler displayed the German war machine today in a gigantic parade in honor of his 50th birthday, two Poles were reported slain by Germans in clashes near Graudenz in the Polish corridor.

Many Germans were said to have been arrested by the Polish police. The Polish corridor separates East Prussia from Germany proper.

At the same time Slovakia, apparently eager to demonstrate its loyalty to Hitler, the state's protector, launched a violent campaign against Poland.

Charges Poles Tricked Slovakia.

Using the occasion of a program in honor of the Fuehrer's birthday, an announcer of the Slovak radio station at Bratislava said:

"There was a time when we trusted Poland, but we have been bitterly deceived by her fair promises. Nevertheless, it provides a good lesson for us to know just how far we can trust Poland."

The announcer did not disclose the nature of the Polish promises.

[Dispatches from the Free City of Danzig said Nazis returning from a torchlight parade in honor of Hitler clashed with workers at the Baltic port last night. Two Nazis were said to have been seriously injured. Eight more persons were arrested on charges of conspiring, with the help of the Poles, to overthrow Danzig's Nazi government, the dispatches said. Two of the prisoners were said to be political police agents. Thirty-one former members of opposition parties, including Socialists, were reported to have been arrested there Wednesday on the same charges.]

Reviews 60,000 Troops.

Hitler reviewed 60,000 troops in the greatest military parade in the history of Berlin.

The procession lasted four and one-half hours. It revealed the tremendous efforts Germany has made in the last year to build up an army and air force unrivaled in the world. Foreign observers were especially impressed by the progress in motorization of the Nazi forces and by the rapid development of heavy artillery.

[Dispatches from Paris said Hitler was preparing to reply to President Roosevelt's peace proposal by asking the little nations of Europe whether they felt themselves menaced by Germany. Details on page 2.]

The parade was led by the Pan-Germany infantry regiment, consisting of volunteers who served three years instead of the customary two. Their goosestep was cheered by the spectators.

Regiment of Marines Marches.

A regiment of marines in white trousers and blue jackets followed. The marines came from the petty officers' naval training school. Last year only one battalion from the naval school participated in the birthday parade.

A detachment of Germany's parachute regiment No. 1 made its first public appearance. The parachute jumpers wore olive green uniforms and carried folded parachutes on their backs. They were armed with light aircooled machine guns and with rifles.

The hundreds of thousands who jammed the new Triumphal road for six miles got their first thrill when heavy anti-aircraft guns of 6 inch bore were displayed for the first time. The guns were drawn by tractors. One tractor drew the barrel, another the gun carriage, a third the recuperator, and a fourth the fire controls.

Believe Gun Highly Efficient.

Foreign military observers believe the anti-aircraft gun is highly efficient despite the theory that the firing range of a gun exceeding a 5.2-inch bore decreases because the shell is too heavy to attain a maximum range.

The heavy anti-aircraft guns were followed by searchlight and range detector batteries. The generators for producing the current for the searchlights looked like huge steel coffins. They were mounted on wheels and drawn by tractors.

Then came columns of motorized infantry in trucks. They drove along four trucks abreast, each truck carrying twelve soldiers. Beside light and heavy machine guns—over forty to a battalion—light and heavy trench mortars, anti-tank guns, and twin machine guns for use against aircraft, the infantry has introduced heavy infantry guns. They were displayed for the first time in the parade. Judging by their appearance they are of about 4 inch bore and can be used for high angle fire.

Big Guns Draw Cheers.

The display of artillery was impressive. Germans cheered when several batteries of long barreled guns carried on five tractors appeared. This long range gun is believed to have a caliber of approximately nine inches.

A large number of divisional guns—the dual purpose howitzer-gun of 105 millimeter bore—was in evidence as well as many batteries of 6 inch guns.

Most of the artillery was motorized, but a number of guns were drawn by horses, showing that Germany takes into account bad road conditions such as prevail in eastern Europe.

Motorized engineer units with pontoons and motor boats mounted on trucks were included in the procession. Several hundred tanks were driven along at great speed. The number of medium size tanks armed with 75 millimeter guns and machine guns has increased greatly. Light tanks were mounted on trucks and trailers.

150 Planes Roar Overhead.

During the parade 150 military planes roared overhead.

Hitler reviewed the procession from a tribune in front of the Technical High school. He was flanked by the three commanders in chief of the army, navy, and air force—Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, Grand Admiral Erich H. A. Raeder, and Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering—and by the chief of the military high command, Gen. Wilhelm von Keitel.

In a box to the Fuehrer's left sat Emil Hacha, last president of conquered Czecho-Slovakia; Baron Konstantin von Neurath, reich's protector of Bohemia and Moravia, and the Rev. Joseph Tiso, premier of Slovakia.

In a tribune opposite Hitler sat the foreign guests of honor. The United States, Great Britain, and France were not represented with official delegations.

Before the parade began Albert Forster, Nazi district leader of the Free City of Danzig, made Hitler an honorary citizen of Danzig.

GERMANS BUY MERCHANT SHIPS FOR USE IN WAR

Norfolk, Va., April 20.—[Special.]—Germany in the last three weeks has purchased several merchant ships and is believed to be enlarging her merchant marine for war purposes. News of the purchases became known through shipping circles. Among the ships purchased are: The Norwegian motorship Prinsdal, built this year by Moltzau & Christensen of Oslo, sold to H. Schuldt of Hamburg and removed to Ahrensburg; Norwegian motorship Viator, built last year at Sonner for C. H. Sorenson; British steamer Laleham, built in 1915 by the Alpha company, Ltd., of London; Norwegian tanker Mendocino, sold to John T. Essenberger of Hamburg; the British Meophan, built in 1916 at Sunderland for the Apex Shipping company, Ltd.; the British Peckham, built in 1912, also for the Apex company; the Greek steamer Vassos, which was owned by J. D. Chandris of Piræus, and the Norwegian tanker Mantilla, which was sold to John T. Essenberger of Hamburg.

FUEHRER POLLS NATIONS TO DEAL ROOSEVELT BLOW

Asks if Germany Perils Any of Them.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 20.—Put on the spot by President Roosevelt's peace proposal, Reichsfuehrer Hitler has hit upon a diplomatic counter strategy as spectacular as the President's own message, according to reliable reports reaching Paris tonight.

If Hitler's plan succeeds the Fuehrer will tell the reichstag—and the world—on April 28 that all or most of the small European nations named in the President's message have no fear of German aggression.

Here is how Hitler is going about it:

The government of each of the small countries named in the Roosevelt message is being asked through German diplomatic channels whether the government in question has any reason to fear German aggression and whether any appeal has been sent to Mr. Roosevelt asking him to try to forestall such aggression.

Risk Gesture of Hostility.

The Germans apparently are assuming that the small nations, when approached secretly and individually, will not dare to make an answer which Germany can hardly fail to take as a gesture of hostility. Thus the Nazis expect to line up an imposing list of official declarations denying a lack of confidence in Germany. This, Hitler can present to the world in a lump as proof that President Roosevelt did not know what he was talking about.

It is believed here that Germany will not approach any of the big European powers on this basis, but at least the Fuehrer will be able to declare that only the big nations profess to fear German aggression. This alleged fear doubtless will be attributed to bad conscience on the part of the powers which are accused of trying to encircle Germany.

It is not known here how successful the Germans have been in rounding up the small powers and it is assumed that if there are too many or too important omissions in the roll call of trusting neighbors Hitler will abandon the idea.

Believe Plan Will Succeed.

However, diplomatic observers here have every reason to believe that the Fuehrer's strategy will succeed. This, is is admitted, will put Mr. Roosevelt in a tough spot and indirectly will handicap French and British diplomacy.

On the other hand, the French and British derive comfort from this news on threefold grounds:

FIRST—It will show that Hitler cannot afford to appear as the aggressor in the eyes of his own people.

SECOND—It shows that the Nazis have not as much confidence as they seem to have in their own propaganda machine.

THIRD—It seems to indicate that the strategy of tying Hitler in knots by appealing directly to the German people might succeed if applied cleverly enough.

The acute war scare, prevalent the last week, has begun to subside and the same military and political circles which believed that an armed attack on France was imminent appeared to think that the propaganda machine of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels is of more menace to this country than Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's air force.

Though the hypothesis of an ultimate German military attack has not been dropped, these circles think that the decisive struggle for domination of Europe between the democracies on the one side and the dictatorships on the other is more likely to take the form of what one French writer calls a "white war."

In this kind of a war, which really has been going on for nearly a year, the democracies use as their main weapons economic pressure—American trade sanctions against Germany are an example—and diplomatic pressure, such as Prime Minister Chamberlain's "Halt Hitler" coalition.

Aim to Weaken Morale.

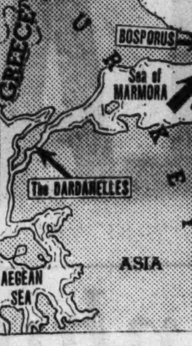
The dictatorships, it is said, are hammering mainly at the morale of the enemy in two ways. One is by direct mass terrorism in the form of troop concentrations, occupation of strategic positions and the like. The other is by "dissolvent" propaganda, which aims at creating disunity within national groups and discord among allies to paralyze collective action.

Referring to the propaganda campaign, Henri de Kerillis, nationalist deputy and editor, in L'Epoque, under the heading "Treason Unleashed," cited a number of examples of deliberate or unconscious propaganda in the French press which is handicapping the government in its fight with the dictatorships.

He referred specifically to an article by the Alsatian deputy, Joseph Rosse sometimes called the Little Fuehrer of Alsace-Lorraine, accusing England of trying to get France into a war against Germany. Similar accusations, coupled with a sneering reference to America, are made in a poster issued in Paris yesterday by an obscure Fascist group.

NAZIS WIN CONTRACT TO BUILD $12,000,000 TURKISH NAVAL BASE

LONDON, April 20.—(AP)—A Reuters [British] news agency dispatch from Ankara today said that Germany had won a contract for the construction of a large new Turkish naval base at Gueldjuk in the Sea of Marmora over British and Dutch firms. The base will cost $12,000,000.



Heavy arrow locates site of new Turkish naval base.

[A reliable source in Berlin said yesterday that Lufthansa, the German official air line, had succeeded after ten years of effort in obtaining a concession for a commercial service to Turkey.]

SENT TO PRISON AS THIEF.

Joseph Sikora, 31 years old, of Chicago was sentenced to one to ten years in prison yesterday by Judge William J. Fulton at Wheaton on a charge of larceny.

MUSSOLINI CALLS ROOSEVELT PLEA FOR PACT ABSURD

Blasts President's Note as Messiah-Like.

ROME, April 20.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today cited plans for a world exposition in Rome in 1942 as proof that Italy expected at least three years of peace, but asserted that President Roosevelt's proposal for ten year nonaggression guarantees was absurd.

"If we were cherishing obscure aggressive designs we would not be dedicating ourselves to work of such vast proportions," Il Duce told directors of the exposition assembled to report on their progress.

"No less absurd is the proposal of reciprocal guarantees lasting ten years which do not take into account the pyramidal errors of geography into which individuals have fallen who have not even the most rudimentary knowledge of European affairs," Mussolini added.

Hints at No Other Reply.

"Whether or not any reply is sent to the well known message, I cannot pass up this occasion," he said, "to reaffirm that the policy of Rome and of the axis is a policy inspired by the criterions of peace and of collaboration of which Germany and Italy have given many concrete proofs.

"It is absolutely unjust and unjustifiable from any point of view to attempt to place nations of the [Rome-Berlin] axis on the seat of the accused.

Calls Parleys Failures.

"It is time to reduce to silence the sowers of panic, anticipators of catastrophes, professional fatalists who often cover with a great banner their fear, their insensate hatred, or defense of their more or less inadmissible interests."

Of the disarmament and economic conference which Mr. Roosevelt proposed to call, Mussolini said: "As for the proposed expansive conference in which the United States would limit itself effectively to its customary rôle of distant spectator, experience gives us some bitter lessons on this score—namely, that the greater the number of conferees the more certainty there is of a failure."

Belgians Demobilize 2,250 Experts of Army Reserve

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 20.—(AP)—Belgium today ordered the demobilization of about half the 4,500 technical experts called to the colors from the military reserve on April 12. This apparently indicated that the government considered international tension relaxed.

HITLER RECEIVES 63,000 TELEGRAMS ON HIS BIRTHDAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 20.—Four halls of Adolf Hitler's chancellery were filled with birthday gifts tonight. Twelve secretaries were at work listing the presents and names and addresses of the donors.

The Fuehrer received 63,000 telegrams, 110,000 letters, 180,000 floral tributes, 46 special musical compositions, 90 volumes of poems, hundreds of birthday cakes, and an eagle in a wrought iron cage.

ITALY DEMANDS SERBS AGREE TO HUNGARIAN AXIS

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 20.—Alexander Cincar-Markovich, Jugo-Slav foreign minister, will leave here tomorrow evening for Venice for talks with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister. The talks will have a decisive bearing on the question of peace or war in Europe, and just what the setup will be in the event of war.

The idea which Ciano will present in these conversations, according to reliable information received by THE TRIBUNE, is the construction of a new axis—a minor one attached to the big Rome-Berlin axis. This would be the Belgrade-Budapest axis, with an extension to Warsaw if the Poles pay attention to songs the sirens are singing from Berlin and Rome.

Want an Effective Neutrality.

Ciano will present to Cincar-Markovich the argument that Hungary and Jugo-Slavia are compelled by geography to join with the axis powers in any foreseeable conflict. The best Jugo-Slavia can hope for is a status as a benevolent neutral as regards Germany and Italy. These two powers, therefore, want this benevolent neutrality to be as effective as possible, and want the Jugo-Slavs and Hungarians to cease bickering with each other.

It is certain, therefore, THE TRIBUNE learns, that Ciano will press Cincar-Markovich to make concessions to Hungary which, to satisfy the Hungarians even partially, must take the form of territorial cession. The minimum the Hungarians demand is at least one-sixth of what it terms the Hungarian territory inside Jugo-Slavia. That means Jugo-Slavia would have to give up part of the Banat, the region lying north of Belgrade and along the Hungarian border.

Must Make Decision.

All of which means that Jugo-Slavia must make a momentous decision, with either alternative seeming unpleasant to this people. Like the people of every new European nation, the Jugo-Slavs claim they did not get their just deserts in the peace treaties, and that, far from having anything to cede, they have claims to more territory.

When questioned sharply responsible Jugo-Slav officials admit this is so much rhetoric, but they stick to the view that a cession of territory is a practical impossibility. The slightest break in the hard enameled surface of one of these mosaic states made up of variegated nationalities, creeds, and temperaments, like Jugo-Slavia, is dangerous.

Likely to Stir New Demands.

A cession to the Hungarians is likely to unleash the appetite of the Bulgarians, Germans, and Italians, who say they have claims on Jugo-Slavia. It also will have a profound effect on the forces working to disrupt the nation from within, like the Croatian autonomists.

On the other hand, Jugo-Slavia is hardly in a position to refuse anything which Ciano may demand imperiously. Since the Italian conquest of Albania and the presence there of 150,000 Italian soldiers with airplanes, tanks, and all implements of modern mechanized war, Jugo-Slavia feels trapped. Its flank has been turned even before a battle began. The Jugo-Slavs must, therefore, listen with respectful attention to any proposition Ciano may make, however impossible or preposterous they may consider it.

Wants Answer at Once.

Making things still worse for them, it is known here that Premier Mussolini will not be satisfied with any dilatory answer. He wants an immediate decision. Expecting the hour of destiny to strike soon he wants a clear declaration from Jugo-Slavia on whether it is friend or foe. If a friend—and Jugo-Slavia does not dare come out openly as a foe—Mussolini wants Jugo-Slavia to show that the axis can expect from it the fullest economic coöperation in case of war.

The Italian position amounts to saying: "All powers friendly to Italy must be friendly with each other. We, therefore, intend to make Hungary and Jugo-Slavia friends with each other whether they like it or not. Jugo-Slavia cannot seriously say it has any claims on Hungary. But Hungarians can say they have claims on Jugo-Slavia. It is therefore the duty of Jugo-Slavia to satisfy these claims—at least partially—and this must be done if Jugo-Slavia wants to remain on friendly terms with Italy."

Otherwise Jugo-Slavia knows only too well that the consequences are more than likely to be unpleasant.

BALKAN ENTENTE WOOS BULGARIA WITH NEW OFFER

Hints War Lost Areas Will Be Returned.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 20.—(AP)—Members of the Bulgarian parliament said tonight that a new invitation to join the Balkan entente had been extended to Bulgaria, this time with strong hints that some Bulgarian territorial aspirations would be satisfied.

Area in black represents southern Dobrudja, which was offered to Bulgaria.

After a meeting of the parliamentary foreign affairs committee, members indicated that informal discussions with the entente [Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Grecce and Turkey] were proceeding in what was called an entirely friendly atmosphere.

Offered Slice of Rumania.

Bulgaria was said to have been offered a portion of southern Dobrudja, a region she lost to Rumania after the world war. This, it was said, had been declined with insistence on greater concessions. There was widespread belief here that a more generous offer would be made by the entente powers in their effort to win Bulgaria over to their security bloc.

Observers in Sofia also found evidence of a more conciliatory attitude toward Bulgaria's demands for an outlet to the Aegean sea through Grecian Thrace.

Also to be considered is Bulgaria's less important claim for a strip of Jugo-Slav territory along Jugo-Slavia's eastern frontier.

Both Groups Vie for Bulgaria.

Bulgaria's claims on Jugo-Slavia, Rumania and Greece result from her losses to them in the second Balkan war and world war.

[Like Turkey, Bulgaria was on the losing side in the world war, being an ally of Germany. The Balkan entente invited Bulgaria to join some months ago and lifted the military restrictions imposed on Bulgaria by the world war settlement, but hitherto has rejected territorial demands.]

Informed quarters saw in today's development a new phase of the contest the British-French and German-Italian blocs are waging for direction of policy in the Balkan countries. Both groups are trying to enlist Bulgaria's military and political coöperation.

GERMAN FLEET PASSES ENGLISH CHANNEL ON VOYAGE TO MANEUVERS

LONDON, April 20.—(AP)—It was reported tonight that two cruisers and destroyers, believed to be part of the German fleet heading for maneuvers in Spanish waters, had been sighted heading southwestward through the English channel. The warships were sighted off Beachy Head, fifty-five miles southwest of Dover.

Later the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer passed St. Catherine's point, Isle of Wight, seventy miles west of Beachy Head. It was believed between thirty and forty vessels were in the fleet, which was shrouded most of the time in a fog and avoided using its radio in order to escape detection.

[A British aerial camera man reported one of the German destroyers listing and apparently damaged was being towed by a convoy ship.]

The arrival of two British warships today at Alexandria, Egypt, raised to thirteen the number of war vessels and auxiliary ships now stationed at that point near the mouth of the Suez canal. More were expected there. Five British warships left Malta, mid-Mediterranean naval base, last night for Gibraltar. French warships on Monday assumed virtual naval control of Gibraltar.

China Wants to Be Named in Anti-Aggression Bloc

CHUNGKING, China, April 20.—(AP)—A Chinese government spokesman said today that Quo Tai-chi, ambassador to London, had suggested to Great Britain the inclusion of China in the bloc of nations Prime Minister Chamberlain announced he was forming for the coöperation against aggression. The spokesman said China would not expect the nations actually to fight Japan but to enforce economic measures and embargoes.

3D TERM IS GOAL IN WAR CAMPAIGN, REP. ALLEN SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—The drive to involve the United States in a European war is the chief weapon of President Roosevelt in his attempt to obtain a third term of office, Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.] declared in a nation-wide broadcast today.

Leo E. Allen.

Allen has been appointed a member of the executive board of the National Committee to Keep America Out of Foreign Wars. Founded by Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] a few days ago, the committee has launched a campaign to counteract the effects of the war hysteria being spread by the White House.

Allen, a long time member of the house committee on foreign affairs, ascribed purely political motives to the President and his radical advisers in their propaganda to convince the nation that it cannot escape embroilment in a European conflict.

Calls Program a Failure.

"War talk is the chief weapon of the third term for Roosevelt forces," he said. "I am convinced that the President, unable to stem the tide of opposition to his continued policies of spending and other pressing problems of national concern, has dragged a red herring across the trail of his failure to advance a program to solve the continued problem of unemployment, the ever decreasing farm prices, and the loss of world trade.

"He therefore wants to divert the attention of the country from consideration of national concerns to a discussion of international problems.

"What difference does it make to our people what river or chain of mountains defines the boundaries of central or southern Europe, Asia or Africa—what flag of what nation flys over Djibouti or Tunisia?

"What difference to our people whether foreign countries choose to be ruled by czars, kaisers or kings, whether they call themselves commisars, fuehrers, or duces? That is for them to decide.

Points to Unemployed.

"The workers of the United States care little whether the standing army of any European country is raised from 600,000 to 800,000 so long as they themselves are enrolled in a standing army of unemployed now upwards of twelve million.

"The press of London, Paris and Warsaw are doing all in their power to convince their nationals and colonials alike that America will go into a world war in their support.

"America as never before would do well to heed the warnings of congressional statesmen rather than the internationally minded burocratic brain trusters who would barter our cotton and our corn in order to impose their personal conceptions of a better form of government upon the peoples of other lands."

COL. LINDBERGH IN CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT

Talks Plane Research with Experts.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who was summoned to active duty with the army air corps Tuesday to aid in recapturing military air supremacy for the United States, today conferred for 25 minutes with his commander in chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Col. C. A. Lindbergh.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

In the White House visit, the trans-Atlantic flyer continued the game of hide and seek he has been playing with reporters and photographers. He darted from an automobile into the White House through a side door, but was ambushed by waiting newspaper men. However, he would neither answer questions nor pose for pictures.

Arranged by Cousin.

The meeting with the President was arranged by Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission and cousin of the flyer. The uniformed soldiers, who have been guarding his office in the army munitions building, did not accompany him on the visit.

Lindbergh, who was called to active service to study aviation research facilities in order to help build up the army air force, discussed his assignment with the President. Neither he nor the White House staff would discuss details of the conference.

Aeronautical Meeting Held.

During the day he received word that his wife and their two sons were en route to the United States aboard the liner Champlain.

In the afternoon, Lindbergh attended a meeting of the national advisory council of aeronautics in the Navy building. The meeting with the nation's only organization devoted to basic aeronautical research was held behind closed doors.

The meeting was regarded as important, because the senate on Monday restored an appropriation pruned by the house to give 4 million dollars for the creation of a second basic research laboratory at Sunnyvale, Cal. The government's only research laboratory at present is at Langley Field, Va.

It was learned that Lindbergh told the eighteen high ranking army and navy officers and scientists at the meeting that quality of aircraft is more important in emergency than quantity production of planes.

Discuss Air Research Work.

The committee said that it reviewed progress known to have been made in European research centers and developments in its own research laboratories in the last six months.

"The committee considered at length the necessity for greatly expanding its research facilities," a formal statement said. "The discussion emphasized that the quality of the research in the United States is second to none, but that in view of the expanded aviation program it is necessary to have more research facilities to investigate the many pressing problems, and to have newer types of facilities for the scientific study of new problems incident to larger size and higher speed of aircraft."

Members said that specific recommendations were deferred until after a special meeting May 2 at Langley Field for further discussion of the subject.

Preceding Col. Lindbergh's visit the President received another trans-Atlantic flyer—Capt. Harold Gray, who recently pioneered a southern passenger route across the Atlantic and back with the Yankee Clipper.

Gift for President.

Capt. Gray told reporters the President asked him several questions about the flight and appeared greatly interested in the possibilities of future commercial trans-Atlantic aviation.

The captain presented to Mr. Roosevelt a model of an old Portuguese sailing bark which he had obtained in the Azores from Padre Joao Periera da Silva, who has been making ship models for sixty years and is now 75. The model was carved from the core of an Azorian fig tree. Da Silva used only two knives, a razor, tweezers, and an ordinary pin.

MRS. LINDBERGH AND 2 SONS LEAVE FRANCE TO JOIN FLYER IN U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LE HAVRE, France, April 20.—The French liner Champlain, which departed for the United States today, had among its passengers Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and her two sons, Jon, 6 years old, and Land, nearly 2 years old. They were accompanied by a nurse.

The journey from the Lindberghs' apartment home in Paris was made in the company of French detectives who stayed with the party until the ship pulled away.

Mrs. Lindbergh and her sons will join Col. Lindbergh, who departed for the United States on April 8, and who now is on active duty with the air corps of the United States. Lindbergh, a reserve officer, has been ordered to survey American aviation facilities.

The Champlain bore most of the passengers who had scheduled passage on the French liner Paris earlier in the week. The Paris was destroyed at its dock by fire which investigators charge was the work of saboteurs.

BURGLAR, 17, MADE WARD OF COURT.

NEW WAR SCARE GIVEN BY CALLER AT WHITE HOUSE

Senate Yes-Man Emerges with Dire Forecast.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Another war scare emanated from the White House today when Senator Theodore F. Green [D., R. I.], a New Deal yesman on the foreign relations committee, conferred with President Roosevelt. On leaving the White House Green solemnly averred that, if war breaks out in Europe, "the United States probably will be unable to keep out of it."

Senator Green.

Green also conferred with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, recently called to active army service to survey the research facilities of the air corps. In speaking of the possibility of war and the probability of United States participation in it, Green, however, presumably reflected the views of Mr. Roosevelt.

In adopting as his own pronouncement a Washington Post editorial on April 11 Mr. Roosevelt spoke of the "virtual certainty of American involvement" in a European war.

Warns on Foreign Travel.

Green said he was "neither optimistic nor pessimistic" over the possibility of a European war being avoided, but added that he would "advise any one against planning a trip to Europe this summer."

While Green was talking to reporters after his White House visit Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the naval affairs committee, was telling the senate that millions of people throughout the country are alarmed by the policy being pursued by their government.

"An overwhelming number of my correspondents have strongly urged and pleaded that we avoid any and every possibility of being involved in a European war," he said.

Walsh read to the senate a telegram he sent to a constituent who had demanded that the senator support the administration's proposal to nullify the neutrality act and make war supplies available to the so-called democracies of Europe. Walsh's reply said:

Opposes Taking Sides.

"To attempt to stop aggression by every resource short of war means war, unless our country is to be placed in the position of an international bluffer, lacking courage to continue to support by war those principles that our country advocates. In my opinion, we have no business to take sides between countries threatening war upon each other, unless we are ready to cowardly shrink from supporting those principles when war results."

PRESIDENT GETS $66,800,000 NAVY AIR BASES BILL

Washington, D. C., April 20.—(AP)—The house completed congressional action today on a $66,800,000 bill authorizing a chain of new navy air bases. The measure now goes to the White House. The house accepted senate amendments adding $17,000,000 southeastern air base near Jacksonville, Fla., and an authorization to spend $1,000,000 for acquisition of land for a similar base at Quonsett Point, R. I.

In addition, the bill would authorize establishment of bases at Kodiak and Sitka, Alaska; Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii; Midway, Wake, Johnston and Palmyra Islands in the mid-Pacific; Tongue Point, Ore.; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and provide for expansion of facilities at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Nervous Robber Menaces 15 in Restaurant; Gets $250

A nervous bandit obtained $250 last night in a holdup in the Glass Kitchen restaurant, 1169 North State street. As if to strengthen his nerve, he first bought two drinks at the bar. Then he threatened with a gun John Ferrarini, the manager; Miss Kathleen Becker, the cashier, and another employé, and then forced them and three customers into the main dining room, where he menaced nine other patrons. He apparently intended to search all, but was too nervous. He fled a moment later.

MOSCOW CANCELS NAVAL EXERCISES TO SAVE ON FUEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TALLINN, Estonia, April 20.—Large scale maneuvers of the soviet Baltic fleet, scheduled to begin today in the Finnish gulf and off the coast of East Prussia, have been canceled by special order of Klementi E. Voroshilov, commissar of war.

The decision was reported to have been made because of Moscow's desire to economize on the consumption of motor fuels. Submarines and other warships using oil for fuel were ordered to limit their exercises to brief cruises in the Finnish gulf.

Another urgent order broadcast from all soviet Russian stations forbade the use of kerosene for lighting purposes. Administrative departments of all northern districts, including Arctic stations and concentration camps, were informed that stringent economy of the products is the order of the day. Special premiums were offered to officials showing the greatest savings. Russia is economizing on the use of motor fuel, because it is sorely needed for the nation's mechanized agriculture. Between 60 and 80 per cent of the winter grain crop was destroyed by weather conditions.

CZECHO-SLOVAK COUNCIL BACKS LIBERTY DRIVE

The newly created Czecho-Slovak National Council of America, made up of five delegates from each of the three great Czech and Slovak organizations in this country, held its first meeting yesterday at 2345 South Kedzie avenue.

Three resolutions were passed. One indorsed the foreign policy of President Roosevelt. Another, addressed to Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czecho-Slovakia, supported the move for restoration of the republic. The third asked the people to rally to the cause of a free Czecho-Slovakia, "within the limits of the spirit of American citizenship."

VISIONS AND REVISIONS

By CALEB

IN the sense that it yields largest gains in greatest measure to strength, enthusiasm, adventurousness, and the will-to-risk, the world is always a "young man's world." For never are such qualities so available in such rich reserve as in one's teens and twenties.

Visions, too, support the heart that is young — promises and prophecies always seem possible of fulfillment. From canoeing the Grand Canyon, or climbing the stratosphere, to stringing an invisible thread of exploit between Newark and Dublin, nothing, in those magic days, is too daunting or too big to be dared.

Yet, despite this wealth of high aims, dreams and vitality which youth enjoys, the world of today is no man's oyster—not even a young man's! For one thing, compared with the pre-War world, it is socially and industrially tenfold more complex. For another, it is politically far more perturbed and hazardous. And for still another, because of the shifting structure of society and trade, it requires more delicate adjustments than ever before between personality and environment. In short—whether their young possessor wills it or not—his visions must undergo drastic revisions. Sooner or later, he must supplant the illusions of carefreedom and happy camaraderie with the rigors of strenuous job-seeking and practical job-holding.

Yet these conditions are in no sense phenomenal. Rather, they are the same which the youth of former generations have also had to meet—and mostly managed to meet successfully. The discipline of so doing yielded them a depth of experience—a realization of their own resources—which enable them now, as men of middle age, to become helpful counselors to these modern wrestlers with vision and revision. For while Business needs and seeks the energy and teachableness of youth, for guidance and maintenance it also depends on older years and steadier minds . . . and Youth can well afford to follow suit.

The obligation on all men of older years and minds is obvious. Toward youth and its dilemmas, our attitude should be that of understanding, sympathy, specific guidance where possible, and earnest encouragement always. For Youth today is worried by many uncertainties and wearied by many platitudes. The common sense remedy lies in giving a careful hearing to its problems, and honest answers to its questions.

CALLS ALLIANCE O. K. DESPITE RULE BY COMMUNISTS

WPA Boss Sees No Need to Drop Recognition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, today defended the Workers' alliance from congressional criticism that it is a subversive organization and said he believes it has the right to represent relief workers.

Testimony before the house appropriations committee has shown that the alliance, which claims to represent 260,000 relief workers, is dominated by members of the Communist party of America. The alliance is now recognized by the WPA as the official bargaining agency for WPA workers.

Sees No Objection.

The house committee has indicated that it plans to call Harrington before it to testify, in view of the testimony on communist influence, on whether he intends to continue recognition of the alliance as a bargaining agency.

"I do not see why we should have any objection to a spokesman for workers discussing questions of wages, hours, and conditions with their superiors," Harrington said at a press conference.

His conference followed one by David Lasser, president of the alliance, who criticized the house investigation of WPA and his organization as a "well calculated effort to pillory the Workers' alliance" by questioning political affiliations of its officials. Herbert Benjamin, general secretary of the alliance, had admitted to the house committee under protest at the line of questioning that he is a member of the communist party and has been one for eighteen years.

Remove 145,699 in Week.

Harrington announced that WPA rolls were cut 145,699 during the week ended April 12 under orders to make reductions and stay within the 100 million dollar deficiency appropriation provided by congress.

Harrington refused to discuss reports that President Roosevelt plans shortly to offer a reorganization plan combining public works construction and WPA activities under a single agency.

Harrington said, however, that he believed such activities could be carried out under a central authority, but that they would have to be divided into subordinate units.

DENIES ALLIANCE IS A BARGAINING AGENT FOR WPA

Denial that the Workers' Alliance is the official bargaining agent for Illinois WPA employes was made yesterday by Charles E. Miner, state WPA administrator.

"The WPA cannot 'bargain' with labor," Miner said. "We are a work relief unit created by Congress to alleviate the distress of the unemployed. Any organization may present grievances or petitions in behalf of its own members, but any individual has that same right and will receive the same consideration, no matter what his affiliations or lack of them.

"A worker making a complaint, who is not satisfied with the decision of the project official, may take an appeal to the district director, then to the state administrator and then to Washington if still dissatisfied with previous decisions. But the report that any labor organization is our official bargaining agency is without any foundation."

Create Own Fashions

La Verne Dammner of Washburne Trade school wearing a dressmaker suit with straw hat and purse to match in the school's spring fashion show yesterday. She made them herself.

Louis Streich (left) in a double breasted Chesterfield of Scotch twist, and Clarence Thomas in a double breasted sport suit with a raglan top coat, which they made and wore in the school's show.

Chicago's future dressmakers, milliners, tailors, and hairdressers, destined to be in the humble background of many a fashion parade, had their day yesterday. They were models, sauntering proudly in the limelight.

Wearing costumes that required weeks of fitting, matching, basting, stitching, and painstaking finishing, 162 young men and women, students at Washburne Trade school, 1225 Sedgwick street, entertained the school for two hours with their own creations. In the audience were Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. William H. Johnson, parents and friends.

There were the Mad Hatters, two dozen young hat designers, and the Beau Brummels, fifteen boy tailors, and one girl. The deaf oral class, deaf and dumb boys and girls, came next. Then followed business clothes, maids' uniforms, and fifty-three varieties of daytime, afternoon, and evening frocks.

BALK ROOSEVELT ON 1ST STEP FOR REORGANIZATION

Hit Plan to Give Lending Agencies to Hopkins.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Plans of President Roosevelt for the first shift of executive agencies under his new reorganization powers were apparently checkmated today. Conservatives and New Dealers joined in protesting vigorously the transfer of independent agencies to cabinet domination, reported to be the President's intention.

Opposition was centered on the proposal that lending agencies, such as the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the Federal Housing administration, and the Home Owners Loan corporation, be put under Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins. Hopkins achieved fame as the nation's greatest spender while WPA administrator.

Another proposal was the consolidation of all relief and public works agencies, with supervision of the combined agencies possibly going to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Reports of the President's plans were confirmed today by reliable sources. Opposition was apparent immediately in congress as heads of independent agencies, including fervent New Dealers, were seen on Capitol Hill rounding up opponents to the expected executive orders authorized by the recently enacted reorganization law.

Among those on the hill were Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, and Aubrey Williams, active New Dealer who is now head of the National Youth administration. He formerly was with Hopkins in the WPA.

There was a feeling in congress that if the President issues the order affecting the credit agencies he undoubtedly will be rebuked and all further reorganization moves will be subject to close congressional scrutiny. The reorganization act gives congress veto power, within sixty days, over any reorganization order issued by the President.

May Doom Money Powers.

Officials said privately that an order for transfer of the lending agencies not only would curtail further reorganization moves but it also would bring denial of the "emergency" monetary powers sought by Mr. Roosevelt. The President has requested congress to extend these powers from June 30, when they expire, to Jan. 15, 1941. They include dollar devaluation, stabilization fund control, and silver price fixing.

The chief criticism of the proposed transfer of the lending agencies to Hopkins was that there is nothing logical in the move. The agencies are big enough in themselves and would be unwieldly as part of the commerce department, opponents of the proposal declare.

The move was viewed as a blow against the conservative camp of Vice President Garner. Jones frequently has been in the company of his fellow Texan recently. The Garner forces gained the upper hand, however, by premature release of the President's plans. Reliable sources traced the information directly to the Vice President.

Sense Hopkins Build-Up.

Conservatives further resented the move as a deliberate plan to give Hopkins a build-up among business men through liberalization of loans to business. The RFC, which has lent more than 9 billion dollars, has been criticized frequently for its conservative policy. The other lending agencies have been subjected to the same criticism. Under Hopkins' domination this policy could be expected to be relaxed, and he could match his spending reputation with a fat lending record.

Hopkins is still regarded as the President's first choice as a successor in the White House should Mr. Roosevelt choose not to seek a third term.

It was learned that in order to appease Jones, who naturally opposes the reorganization move, the President planned to offer him the post of administrator of the combined agencies under Hopkins. However, Jones would not take this post, according to reliable opinion.

REPORT NET PLACED OFF HALIFAX TO TRAP MYSTERY SUBMARINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., April 20.—Alarmed by repeated reports of the appearance of a mystery submarine off the port of Halifax, the Canadian navy was reported today by official sources to be stretching a submarine net across the entrance to Halifax harbor.

Arrow locates area where submarine was reported seen.

The reported action accompanied a statement to the house of commons by Defense Minister Ian MacKenzie that search by the Canadian air force, navy and Royal Canadian mounted police had failed to locate the submarine, which has been reported to authorities by at least three sea captains.

FLOW OF ALIENS TO AMERICA ON UPGRADE AGAIN

Jews Lead All Races in Rush to U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Immigration to America, which dropped to record lows during depression years here, is on the upgrade again, an inspection of government records disclosed today.

A few years ago fewer aliens were entering the country than were leaving it. But from 1936 through 1938 a total of 66,975 more aliens came in than went out.

The increase is attributed largely to the persecution of minorities in Europe and a general fear of turbulent politics there. Jewish immigrants lead all other races by a wide margin. In the last three years more than 35,000 Jews have entered this country to make their homes here.

Number Almost Doubles.

In 1933 only 2,372 Jews immigrated here, but in each of the next two years the number almost doubled. It nearly trebled the following year, was about five times higher the next year, and in 1938 Jewish immigrants numbered 19,736, more than any other two races combined.

The number of German immigrants, which was about the same as Jews in 1933, rose only to 7,743 in 1938. Immigration from England, which also reached a low in 1933 and compared with Jewish aliens in that year, increased to 5,733 last year.

Immigration figures began to fall below those who left the United States in 1931 and continued in that ratio in 1932 and 1933. With the beginning of minority persecutions in 1934 the number of immigrants again exceeded the number leaving this country and has successively widened that margin every year since.

Many Skilled Persons.

Observers of the trend say racial persecutions have brought a greater proportional increase in the number of professional and skilled persons entering the United States as compared with unskilled persons.

In 1935 a total of 2,277 professional persons came here, but in 1938 the number in that class had leaped to 5,463. The figures for skilled persons in the same years were 3,786 and 8,607. Commercial immigrants for those years were 1,387 and 5,813. The number of unskilled entrants was proportionately less, being 22,488 in 1935 and 36,012 in 1938.

ALDERMEN GET NEW BOOTH FOR TETE A TETES

Aldermen complained that the partitions between telephone booths outside the council chambers were too thin. They told Sergeant at Arms William Harrah that bystanders could overhear their confidential conversations.

Yesterday they saw the installation of a booth that may solve their problems. It is three sided, has no door, and is lined with a sound insulating material that makes it difficult for bystanders to overhear conversations. Four more booths will be in operation shortly, Harrah told the aldermen.

Jewish Immigration Increases

EX-ALD. CORR'S NEPHEW HUNTED IN TAX SWINDLE

Grand Crossing police were searching yesterday for Frank Corr, 7651 Coles avenue, who is charged with collecting $1,300 from a grocer's wife who believed she was paying the retailers' sales tax. He is charged with operating a confidence game, a felony.

Mortimer Porges, assistant attorney general, said that Corr is a nephew of the late Frank J. Corr, alderman who served as interim mayor after the death of Anton J. Cermak.

Judge Francis Borrelli of Municipal court also ordered the arrest of James B. McDonald Sr., 7601 Saginaw avenue, after the victim, Mrs. Esther Bourbules, 2148 East 75th street, told her story in court yesterday morning and implicated him. The two told her they could have her taxes reduced by half and she paid them $1,300, obtaining a receipt, she stated.

THREE ORDERED JAILED TILL THEY PRODUCE $30,000

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday ordered three officials of the bankrupt Roxy Liquor company held in the county jail until they obey a court order to produce $30,000 of the company's assets. They are Herman Rocklin, president of the company; a brother, John, vice president, and Earl S. Fisher, general manager. The three are under indictment in federal court on a charge of concealing assets in bankruptcy. The company, which was established at 1100 Washington boulevard, failed a year and a half ago after John Rocklin reported he had been robbed of $19,450.

BANDIT GETS $283.

A young bandit held up Ben Gelderman in the latter's clothing store at 6500 South Halsted street last night, and forced Gelderman to hand over $283.

ONE MAN CRIME WAVE IS HALTED AFTER 3 HOURS

Paul Kelly, 19 years old, 1914 West 71st place, who, police said, started a one man crime wave at 8 o'clock last night, was through at 11 p. m.

At 8 o'clock Kelly, who recently served a three month sentence in the House of Correction, stole an automobile at 71st street and Racine avenue. At 9 he allegedly held up Leonard Goldstein, 5461 Greenwood avenue, and Miss Lillian Ross, 941 East 54th place, near her home, and got $8.

Fifteen minutes later, according to police, he stole several dollars from William Aitchenson, 5717 La Salle street, near his home, and a half hour later he allegedly robbed Mrs. Lena Ellman, 5645 Maryland avenue, of $3.50 near her home.

A few minutes before 11 Detectives Dennis Twoomey, Lawrence Snedeker, and Walter Fleming of the Hyde Park station seized Kelly at 53d street and Harper avenue.

G. O. P. LEADERS BUILD PROGRAM FOR '40 VICTORY

Expect to Sweep Nation Next Year.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—With the slogan "Forward to 40," leaders of the Republican party assembled here tonight at the first of a series of informal dinners designed for discussion of a program upon which they hope to march to victory in the November elections next year.

Joseph W. Martin.

Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr., Republican leader in the house, told the gathering that a rising tide of Republicanism during the last three years presaged a sweep of the country next year.

"We seek to put this great country of ours back on the track to genuine progress, sustained prosperity and peace," he declared.

Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican national committee said that the march to victory was not confined to Republicans.

Chance to Restore Sanity.

"It is a march of all Americans, wearied by six years of confusion and fumbling experimentation," he declared. "It is a march to restore our United States to economic recovery, sanity and constitutional government, to strip the strait-jacket of New Dealism from business, agriculture and labor in order that we may return our 11,000,000 unemployed to jobs in private industry at decent wages."

Hamilton referred to President Roosevelt's message to a Jackson dinner last night as "whistling in a graveyard."

"The President at last night's graveyard séance aptly described the pitiful state into which he has led his party," he said. "He put the finger squarely on the cause when he asserted that a party can commit suicide by abandonment of the policies which brought it power. It was he who forced the Democratic party to abandon the sound policies and promises set forth in the Democratic platform of 1932."

Democrats Welcomed.

The President's statement that Democrats in variance with the New Deal course should get out of the Democratic party was also noted by Hamilton.

"That was pretty sharp notice to several million genuine Democrats who have become disconcerted at finding that the party of their forefathers has fallen into the hands of strange men promulgating strange 'isms,'" he commented.

"Let those Democrats take heart, however, in the thought that the doors of the Republican party swing open for them."

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] was toastmaster at the dinner. He introduced another speaker, Senator Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, who discussed the President's foreign policies.

Oppose Entanglements.

"The people of America overwhelmingly demand peace, not war," he said. "The first duty of accredited representatives to the congress is to maintain peace. Every act of ours should be carefully considered with the primary object in view.

"I am unqualifiedly opposed to the suggestion that the President of the United States, or even the congress of the United States, should set his judgment upon a foreign war and declare what nation or nations are to be considered the aggressor. Once we determine the 'aggressor' and begin to take sides it is difficult, if not impossible, to find a stopping place short of the logical result of our action which would be participation in the conflict itself."

Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut discussed the relief problem, advocating the return of the distribution of relief funds to the states.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio told the assemblage that the administration was constantly ballyhooing the foreign situation in an attempt to stir up prejudice against certain countries and to take the minds of the people off their troubles at home.

Calls New Deal Failure.

"The New Deal is not only a failure but has reduced us to a tremendously dangerous situation," he said. "The average per capita income in ten years has dropped 25 per cent. No wonder that times are hard.

"The New Dealers don't know what to do to change the present situation. The only government policy is that of spending more money. If we have learned anything from the last ten years it is that government spending cannot produce prosperity.

"There is only one solution to our difficulties and that is a complete change of policy which can be carried through by the Republican party. We need not abandon any humanitarian enterprise undertaken in the last six years, but we can reduce the regulation which puts every business man in a strait-jacket."

Dancer Will Wed

Roberta Jonay, dancer, with Martin Jurow, theatrical manager, after she arrived in Chicago yesterday.

Roberta Jonay of St. Petersburg, Fla., came to Chicago yesterday for two purposes. Roberta, who became a featured dancer through the help of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, came, first, to see the man she soon will marry. He is Martin Jurow, manager of the "What a Life" company playing at the Erlanger theater. Second, she will dance in some of Chicago's night spots. Jurow is a protégé of George Abbott, the actor-playwright-producer. He is the youngest manager on the road today, show folk assert.

G. O. P. 1940 CLUB TO MARK DATE OF LINCOLN TRIUMPH

Urges National Wigwam Day Observance.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Plans were started yesterday by the 1940 Club, Inc., for an observance by Republicans May 18 of the anniversary of Lincoln's nomination for President in 1860. The club will urge national Republican headquarters at Washington, to make the celebration nationwide. Lincoln was nominated in the old Chicago Wigwam.

The object of Wigwam day is twofold, the 1940 club said. Its first aim is for a rededication of the Republican party to Lincoln standards of Americanism. Its second is to register protests against any American entanglements in foreign wars and disturbances.

Luncheon Honors Secretary.

The celebration was approved by the club at a luncheon yesterday in the Hotel Sherman in honor of Miss Lorraine Ford, who for years has been executive secretary at Republican county headquarters.

Resolutions from William E. Kaiser in calling for Wigwam day said:

"The time has arrived to rededicate the Republican party to the ideals of our martyred leader, that the time tested standards of American life may have a rebirth in the nation." The text set forth these objectives:

"A vital and active rejuvenation of true American principles, an inspiration and a pledge for 1940 to all those who desire American sanity restored and who view with horror and consternation the attempts of the New Deal to involve the United States in foreign entanglements."

Nationwide Day Sought.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican national committeewoman, announced she will ask John Hamilton, national chairman, to call on party organizations in other states to observe the day. In Chicago there will be meetings, addresses, and possibly a parade to the site of the old Wigwam at the southeast corner of Lake and Market streets.

Speakers at the luncheon assailed the Roosevelt administration on its stand toward the controversies in Europe. Harry S. Ditchburne, president of the club and one of the Republican candidates for Circuit court judgeships, was toastmaster.

Oscar E. Carlstrom, former Illinois attorney general and principal speaker at the luncheon, said:

"The responsibility of the Republican party to present experienced leadership and a sound national program is of serious moment. The public debt, having reached the staggering total of forty-one billion dollars, is within four billions of the debt limitation placed by congress. One year more and the present administration is at the end of that string. Then what?"

The 1940 club was incorporated some three months ago by Attorney Ditchburne and a group of other Republicans as a non-factional unit. Its aim is to coöperate with the elected party organization in the interest of the party in the 1940 elections.

Bridge Damaged by Boat Will Be Closed 10 Days

Loran D. Gayton, city engineer, said yesterday that the Canal street bridge, near 20th street, will be closed for about ten days for repairs. It was damaged Wednesday when struck by the sandboat Fizgerald.

Hewitt Asks $1,481,158 of WPA to Level Lots

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, yesterday applied to the Works Progress administration for approval of a $1,481,158 lot leveling and cleaning project.

MOVE FOR QUICK CHANGE IN PLAN BOARD BLOCKED

Hopes faded yesterday for swift action on Mayor Kelly's proposal to streamline the Chicago Plan commission. Recently appointed members of the city council judiciary committee demanded that a subcommittee be appointed to hold public hearings on the reorganization ordinance. Ald. H. L. Brody, chairman of the judiciary commitee, said this will be done. The proposed ordinance provides for a plan commission of thirty-two members, who would be officials of the city government and would prepare and recommend plans for public improvements.

G. O. P. LAUNCHES JUDGESHIP RACE; RAP 'BOSS RULE'

Six Candidates Denounce Democrats' Tactics.

Six of the twenty-six candidates on the straight Republican Cook county judicial tickets opened their campaigns last night. The issue in the election June 5, they said, is this: "Shall the people or a group of dictators led by Pat Nash elect the judges of Cook county?"

The candidates spoke before members of the Seventh Ward Young Republican club, the Caravel club, 7515 Yates avenue. The gathering was the first in support of the G. O. P. slate for Circuit and Superior court judgeships.

Denounces Boss Rule.

Attorney William D. Saltiel, who is seeking a place on the Circuit court bench, denounced "the dictatorial, despotic deeds of the Democratic machine in attempting to control the judiciary of the county."

"This is still a republic and a democracy," he said. "It is not a government of the bosses and for the bosses. We must keep the bench removed from the taint of men like Nash and Jake Arvey who seek to dominate our judges."

Referring to the eight sitting Republican judges who have accepted places on the Democrats' coalition ticket, Saltiel said:

"They have chosen to carry the banner of Pat Nash! But we will win because the people of Cook county are ready for the Republican party."

Following are the comments of the other speakers:

Charles C. Kirk, candidate to fill vacancy of Judge Walter Steffen: "Such men as State Senator Serritella and Oscar De Priest showed evidences of selling out when they tried to dictate to the Republican central committee who should and shouldn't be placed on the ticket. They are only so-called Republicans! We'll show them on June 5."

Marion G. Kudlick, candidate for Circuit court judge: "We need a cleanup of the autocratic machine that tries to control our judges. It's time for a Republican victory."

L. G. Thorsness, candidate for Circuit court judge: "Are the boys in the back room going to say who our judges shall be?"

Benjamin Morrison, candidate for Circuit court judge: "It's up to us to break the domination of the judiciary by the Democratic machine."

Michael V. Ostrowski, candidate to fill the Judge Joseph David vacancy: "The people of the United States are looking to Cook county for a sign that the Republican party is back. Our entire slate will be elected. The machine grip must be broken once and for all.

Nicholas J. Bohling Jr., president of the club, announced plans to organize a series of political schools for Republican groups throughout Cook county. Veteran party officials and professors in political science at local universities will lecture on methods of training political workers.

Wife Divorces Chairman of Westinghouse Board

Pittsburgh, April 20.—(AP)—Charging her husband deserted their home in 1934, Mrs. Andrew W. Robertson, wife of the chairman of the board of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, won a divorce yesterday. Robertson married her in 1918, seven years after the death of his first wife.

FAMOUS RAINBOW GARDEN OF Gladioli

50 BULBS $1

Five flowering-size bulbs separately bagged and labeled, of each of these 10 varieties. Prepaid 600 miles.

Picardy, champion giant pink.
W. H. Phipps, finest true pink.
Cadillac, rich golden giant.
Dr. Bennett, finest of scarlets.
Marmora, largest of the smokies.
Minuet, giant orchid.
Kalamazoo, large violet-purple.
Mrs. F. L. Karcher, vivid scarlet.
Yellow Mixture, fine named varieties.
Seafoam, lovely white.

Rarely are flowers of the highest merit the most easily grown. But such is the case with these gladioli. Every bulb comes with a flower in it, which with simplest culture will grow for you.

Each variety on this list is a champion. If you have known only ordinary glads, the size and beauty of these varieties will amaze you. Four feet tall, some of them, with 6-inch florets! With these in your garden you can win the plaudits of your neighbors and ribbons at the flower show.

Three Everblooming Roses, $1.50. One each of Southport, new red ($1): Golden Dawn, huge yellow (85c); Mrs. Henry Bowles fine pink (75c). A $2.60 value, prepaid 300 miles.

Privet Hedging, 10 for $1. Hardy Amoor river privet plants, 18-24 inches. The hardiest hedge for Chicago winters.

Chinese Elm, 6-8 ft., $1. Chinese elms grow as rapidly as poplars but are far better subjects for parkways and home grounds. 8x10 ft., $1.25.

Flowering Shrubs, 3 of a Kind, $1. Golden Bell, 4-5 ft.; Bridal Wreath, 4-5 ft.; Persian Lilacs, 3-4 ft.; Snowberry, 3-4 ft.; Coralberry, 3-4 ft.

Evergreens, $1. White Spruce, Norway Spruce, Mugho Pines, American Arborvitae, all fine for Chicago conditions, each $1 and up.

Lake Open for Ships

Dotted line marks route which Tribune paper boat, which left Thorold, Ont., yesterday, will take on way to Chicago with first load of newsprint this season. The Coast Guard cutter Escanaba yesterday reported a path had been cut through the ice.

The first of the Tribune paper fleet, the steamship New York News, was on its way to Chicago last night with the spring's first lake shipment of paper from the Ontario Paper company, a Tribune subsidiary. The vessel carries a cargo of 2,250 tons of newsprint. It is scheduled to dock at the Tribune warehouse, near the mouth of the Chicago river, Monday evening.

Spring sailing has been delayed because of ice jams in the Straits of Mackinac, usually navigable early in April. T. C. Brand, Tribune trafic manager, was notified yesterday that the straits had been opened by the coast guard cutter Escanaba.

The motorship Chicago Tribune is scheduled to leave for Chicago today. This vessel will carry 3,100 tons of newsprint. The remaining Tribune ships, their cargo and sailing dates are: Motorship Franquelin, 2,050 tons of paper, departure tomorrow; steamers Shelter Bay, 1,265 tons of paper, and the Thorold, 1,260 tons of paper, departure Sunday or Monday.

ELEPHANT FALLS INTO PIT WHERE HE PUSHED MATE

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Bill, a 3,500 pound elephant at the Prospect Park zoo in Brooklyn who pushed his mate, Hilda, into a moat last summer, tumbled into the same moat himself today.

Bill's right hip and leg appeared to be seriously injured. Both of Hilda's hind legs were injured so seriously she had to be killed.

Bill has been moody ever since Tilda's death. The arrival of a new mate did not seem to improve his disposition. Today he was in the exercise run. When he reached for a tidbit offered from the outside, he got too near the edge of the moat and fell eighteen feet to its concrete bottom.

FIGHT TO REVIVE CRAWFORD AVE. NAME RENEWED

Proponents Pledge More Petition Signatures.

A petition to the city council, requesting that the name Crawford avenue be restored to Pulaski road, is invalid because it does not have enough signatures. This report was made yesterday to Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt by Howard Brodman of the city map department.

Another petition urging that the name Crawford avenue be applied to Haussen court, a short west side street, also was held deficient in signatures. The council had asked Hewitt to determine the validity of both requests.

O. F. Duensing, executive secretary of the Crawford Avenue association, composed of civic and business groups favoring the renaming of Pulaski road, said last night the fight was not ended.

Promises More Names.

"Instead it has just begun," he asserted. "We will file enough additional signatures with the council committee on local industries, streets, and alleys to make good the deficiency. More will be filed next week. The vast majority of property owners on Pulaski road want the old name Crawford reinstated."

Under the law, the council must make a change in a street name if owners of 60 per cent of the frontage on it so demand. Brodman determined that the total of frontage on Pulaski road is 174,207 feet, and that the petitioners were short 9,727 feet of having enough to qualify under the 60 per cent clause. Duensing claimed at least 10,000 feet more already have been signed up.

Named After War Hero.

Pulaski road was given its name in 1933 in tribute to Gen. Casimir Pulaski, Polish hero of the American Revolution. The old name Crawford avenue, in memory of a pioneer Chicagoan. The Crawford avenue proponents since have spent about $25,000 trying to get the name restored.

Haussen court's fate has a bearing on the Pulaski-Crawford controversy. The state law provides that there cannot be two streets of the same name, and if Haussen should be called Crawford, then Crawford would not be applicable to Pulaski. Brodman held that the Crawford-Haussen signers represented only 1,174 feet of frontage and needed 1,264.

BOTH SIDES QUIT WIEBOLDT LABOR DISPUTE PARLEY

Disagree on Time to Hold Employes' Election.

Negotiations between the Wieboldt department stores and the trucking unions broke down yesterday. Both sides walked out of conferences called by the city council committee on labor and industrial relations.

Elmer F. Wieboldt, president of the stores, objected to an immediate election to choose a bargaining agent for the employés. He said his workers would be at a disadvantage if they were called at this time before the city council committee, and asked whether undue influence was used to persuade them to join the union.

Fears Effects of Terrorism.

"A fair determination could not be made merely on the statements of the workers," he asserted. "The same influence that might prevent a fair vote concerning representation at this time could prevent candid statements to the committee.

"The effects of the violence and disorder during the last two weeks are bound to persist for some time. If the unions want a free and fair election, and not a frightened ratification, they should approve a period of tranquility while the men are no longer under duress."

Wieboldt referred to a proposal made by the unions that the council committee should interview each of the sixty-eight former Wieboldt truck drivers and helpers who now are union members.

The unions asked the committee to demand an election within twenty-four hours if it found no evidence that force or coercion was used to persuade the employés to join the unions.

If such evidence were found the union offered to withdraw from the controversy. The election would be postponed for fourteen days in accordance with company wishes. And in either case the Weiboldt company truck drivers would be allowed to return to their jobs immediately without prejudice.

Calls Officials Insincere.

Leslie G. Goudie, president of the joint council of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, charged that the store officials were not sincere.

"We consented to an election as they asked," said Goudie. "And we called their bluff in every other way. Now they want to have an election after a period of weeks during which they can coerce and influence their employés.

"By going on strike their employés have indicated their wishes. They have not asked to go back to work and last night [Wednesday] they voted confidence in their leaders. We believe that unless an immediate election is held the store will exert undue influence upon their workers. We think the store is asking for the sort of election it believes it can control."

CHICAGO YOUTH HANGS HIMSELF IN INDIANA JAIL

Huntington, Ind., April 20.—[Special.]—William P. [Lucky] Moran Jr., 15 years old, the son of a Chicago park policeman, hanged himself in the county jail here tonight.

The boy had been held in the jail, which is a federal repository for juvenile criminals, since April 3 pending his formal commitment to the federal boys' school in Washington, D. C., where he was to remain until he was 21. He was sentenced on April 13 by Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick at South Bend for the theft of an automobile.

Moran and Robert W. Patten, 17 years old, also of Chicago, were arrested in South Bend March 28 with a car they had stolen in Detroit.

CONTEMPT CASE AGAINST SUMNER AND 2 QUASHED

Writs issued for the arrest of three officials of local 756 of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union on the charge that they violated a temporary injunction restraining them from calling a strike of Bowman Dairy company drivers were quashed by agreement yesterday. Judge Charles A. Williams of the Superior court also dismissed the dairy company's injunction suit when company attorneys informed him that danger of a strike had passed. Details of the agreement reached with the union were not disclosed by the attorneys. One of the union officials named in the attachment writs was Steve C. Sumner, 89 years old, secretary and treasurer of the local.

Hamburger Henry Turns to Grocery Robberies

Hamburger Henry, who specialized in robbing small hamburger shops, has switched to new fields. He's now holding up groceries. He appeared yesterday at the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store at 1714 Lawrence avenue, and at the point of a gun forced Joseph Busbum, the manager, to put $35 into a brown paper bag.

THE GOVERNMENT'S FINANCES.

A treasury department report shows that in the first 9½ months of the fiscal year, which ends June 30, the government spent 7 billion 188 million dollars. That is a record breaker for any like period in the Roosevelt administration by more than a billion and a quarter. The volume of spending in previous years was the cause of grave concern for the country's solvency. Now the outgo is dwarfing all past performances.

While spending has been on a more lavish scale than ever before, income has fallen off. In the 9½ months collections of taxes were 425 millions less than last year. That was a decline of 8 per cent. Since the first of March, however, the decline in receipts has amounted to 20 per cent less than last year.

With expenditures boosted to new heights and revenues falling off, the deficit for the fiscal year down to April 15 was the greatest for any like interval of Mr. Roosevelt's two administrations. Down to the middle of last year the government had spent 911 millions more than had been collected in taxes. Down to that date this year, the excess expenditure over revenues is 2 billion 665 million dollars. The financial record of the government last year was awful. This year it is nearly three times as bad.

How long can any creditor sustain a debt of 40 billion dollars? Especially, can any debtor do that who is not reducing his obligations, but is adding to them at the rate of 2½ billion dollars per year?

What Mr. Roosevelt might have said in answer to these questions if the previous administration had practiced excesses comparable with those of his administration can only be a matter of conjecture. But what he did say about the situation which existed in 1932, when he was a candidate, has been recorded.

During Mr. Hoover's term of office there had been an increase in the national debt which caused Mr. Roosevelt grave concern. The increase during Mr. Hoover's administration was from 17 billion 300 million dollars to 20 billion 900 million dollars. Here is what presidential nominee Roosevelt said about that: "Our federal extravagance and improvidence bear a double evil; first our people and our business cannot carry its excessive burdens of taxation; second, our credit structure is impaired by the unorthodox federal financing made necessary by the unprecedented magnitude of these deficits. . . . Would it not be infinitely better to clear this whole subject of obscurity—to present the facts squarely to the congress and the people of the United States and secure the one sound foundation of permanent economic recovery—a complete and honest balance of the federal budget?"

Equally quotable on the point are statements made by Mr. Roosevelt as President. In each of his earlier budgets he explained that the deficit was going to be big in the current year but would be reduced the year following and thereafter the budget would be in balance. And when he persuaded congress to pass the share the wealth inheritance tax in 1936 he promised faithfully to use the funds collected as a result to pay off the debt.

Mr. Roosevelt, who perceived the dangers in deficits so clearly and who criticized deficits so effectively, has been in office one full term and well into the second half of a second term. Under him the debt has been advanced from 20 billion 935 million to 40 billion 43 million. Expenditures are at the maximum. Due to these expenditures and falling revenues the deficit is greater than it ever was. And now Mr. Roosevelt is trying to get us into a war. If Mr. Roosevelt could not operate the government establishment except at an increasing deficit in time of peace, what would a war cost under his régime? Mr. Roosevelt, as a candidate, thought that congress should deal with the situation. Congress now will have to deal with a much graver situation and before very long if certain collapse is to be avoided.

COMMUNISTS IN THE WPA.

In the congressional investigation of the Works Progress administration the activities of the Workers' alliance were taken up. David Lasser, its president, and Herbert Benjamin, its secretary, were examined. Benjamin said he was a member of the communist party and named six other officials as communists. Lasser denied membership, but appeared as a sympathetic fellow traveler.

Membership in the communist party is not the loose affiliation which prevails in other parties. A member of the communist party carries his card and pays his dues. Fellow travelers may be affiliated, may be doctrinally associated, and may be agreed as to method and purpose but still not enlisted in Earl Browder's ranks and subject to the orders he receives from Moscow.

The Workers' alliance is the communist vanguard in the WPA recognized as the collective bargaining agency by Harry Hopkins and Aubrey Williams when they were in charge and recently recognized by Mr. Roosevelt. The communist assumption has been that WPA can be converted into a permanent organization of several million persons paid by the government and used for political purposes. The New Dealers made the great political scandal of last year by voting these workers, intimidating them, and even taking their money from them by political assessments.

The communist strategy seeks the spots where discontent may be expected to prevail or where disorder would hit the largest concentration of production. For the latter they chose steel, coal, and autos. For the former they could do no better than pick the WPA, which they did. Unless the Roosevelt revolution can be broken up, private industry will not be able to reabsorb the unemployed, many of whom have already become unemployable. In such a prospect the continuance of WPA is not improbable. Given enough time it will become an institution.

The New Dealers revealed how such an institution could be used politically. It would furnish several times more votes than the number of persons on its pay rolls. The New Deal used the voters but not to their own profit. The communists will know how to teach them to become revolutionaries. With the encouragement of the White House and the New Deal administrators the communists moved in and took possession, seeking to organize a very large voting population which has become accustomed to looking to government for subsistence and is not content with the amount received. When that institution has been continued long enough the communist party in the United States will be larger than the communist party in Russia.

ELECTING THE JUDGES.

Judicial position has presented one of the toughest problems the American democracy has faced. The bench offers an attractive career for high grade men and a great temptation for low grade or corrupt politics. If place goes by appointment there is always the danger that the executive who makes the selections will try to serve his own purposes to the detriment of justice and the misuse of the courts. Mr. Roosevelt's court appointments have put this method in greater disrepute than before.

People have been trained to think, particularly with regard to the state judiciary, that they must retain control of the courts and choose their judges in elections. They also desire an apparently contradictory or inconsistent thing—to keep the judges out of politics. To get as close as possible to the election without politics we have in this state provided for judicial elections. In the permutations of our primary laws it has come about that the judicial tickets are nominated by the county committees—by the politicians managing the parties.

With regard to able sitting judges it has come to be the general opinion that they should not be subjected to the expense and other demands of an exacting campaign both for renomination and reëlection. Once, when a corrupt political organization tried to take over the courts, the judges were saved by a coalition ticket and that method gained favor. In large part it broke down this year.

The thing desired seems to be simple in purpose and highly complicated in method. It is that a well qualified elective judge should feel reasonably sure of his place on the bench, that the advantages of the appointive system should be combined with the advantages of the elective, and that a judge on his record should feel the independence of continued tenure while the people felt that they had not surrendered their control.

Given the objective, how can it be reached? One suggestion might be that sitting judges be automatically renominated. Their names go on the ticket. Other candidates might be nominated by petition. A sitting judge then could not be discarded by the politicians. He could be defeated only by the people.

CIVILIAN TALENTS IN WAR.

There are a lot of people in this country old enough to remember what a fine time the admirals and generals had in the months which immediately followed the declaration of war in 1917. They went to town in a big way. The declaration was to them what an election victory is to the party of opposition. The admirals and generals, and, for that matter, the regular officers of all ranks and services suddenly found themselves with new jobs and the prospect of even better ones. The officers spent the first six months of the war trying on new uniforms and otherwise enjoying themselves, with the result that no war was made. As late as August, 1918, the army ordnance corps had not yet decided what kind of cannon it would manufacture when it got around to start manufacture.

The army was bad enough, but the navy was even worse. A small part of it became a squadron in the British fleet and the rest of it was very busy, indeed, in the more attractive metropolitan areas of our country. Many an engagement took place in Chicago's loop. More or less storm-tossed young men wearing the uniforms which celebrate Lord Nelson's great victories and mourn his death were to be seen on every street corner.

Those were the days and they are readily recalled now that both branches of the service are being expanded. Something like the misdirected effort of 1917 is again on view. The war preparations which appear to be occupying the minds of our great captains today have to do largely with interfering with the civilian activities of the nation. Relatively little attention is being paid to preparing the military and naval organizations of the country to make war. Instead of concentrating their thought upon training men and providing them with suitable arms, the high commands are day dreaming about running factories. Presumably the officers know something about making war and nothing about industrial management, but they are not allowing a sense of their limitations to check their eagerness to tackle both jobs.

Meanwhile some valuable military assets are being neglected. The generals are thinking so hard about taking Henry Ford's job from him that they have given no time to utilizing the talents of the crack wing-shots of the nation for anti-aircraft work. A man who can hit a low-flying duck with a shotgun has a natural aptitude for winging low-flying airplanes with a machine gun, but the army isn't interested. Likewise, the great number of yachtsmen and motorboat men of the nation constitute a reserve of trained handlers of small boats for the navy, but little effort is being made to recruit their considerable talents for commanding and manning small torpedo craft.

It is apparently very difficult for the professionals in our armed forces to bring themselves to admit that any one else knows anything. Time, effort, and money, to say nothing of lives, were lost in the last war because of this notion of civilian incompetence and it looks as if the same story is about to be repeated.

RIGHT BACK.

An American was being shown around Glasgow. "Why, we have buildings ten times that size over in America," he said.

A little further on he made the same remark, and the little Scotsman replied coolly: "Och, aye, and if they are all like you, mon, they'll need them. That's the asylum."—Honolulu Advertiser.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

"A STEIN ON THE TABLE."

Once upon a time, in the old Chicago years when good fellows got together o' nights instead of skittering like lone wolves out into the suburbs, there was the Ground Hog club. Its members met for dinner every once in a while in a Bavarian restaurant called the Isaria, on Randolph street somewhere west of the river.

A line drawing in a tattered clipping from the Chicago Herald of March 18, 1894, sent to this column by Edward Pickard, an ex-Ground Hogger, shows that this Isaria was quite a place. It was decorated in the grand style for German restaurants of the old school—beamed ceilings, elaborate wood carving on the paneled walls, tapestries and murals showing scenes of Bavarian gemütlichkeit, antlers from stags that had roamed the Black Forest, a stand of ancient swords and halberds around a central pillar, a huge clock that was a true museum piece, and rarest of all, a porcelain stove of collector's value.

Here the Ground Hog club, a small group of writers and lawyers, met for comradely dinners that were in no sense orgies. Beer was the only sanctioned beverage. Dinner was followed by a formal speech or reading of a paper, generally on themes of civic interest. Free-for-all anecdotage and song then tapered off the sessions, which closed at 10 p. m.

The Ground Hogs had only one officer, who presided in the biggest chair, drank from the biggest stein, and was called the Big Tyhee. Among the members were:

Col. Ayme, H. E. O. Heineman, Charles E. Pickard, Edwin Kimball, W. W. Denslow, Austyn Granville, John Fay, Harry O. Landers, Leroy Armstrong, Wyatt McGaffey, Edward Pickard, Opie Read, and Montgomery B. Gibbs.

It all reminds us of certain verses in the mood of the Isaria restaurant:

"Hans Breitmann gife a barty, Where ish dat barty now?"

SPRING IN CHICAGO.

(After winter song, "Love's Labors Lost.")

When icicles melt down to mud
And Dick takes out his garden tools,
And roofs do leak and basements flood,
And Tom peruses planting rules;
When frosts persist, though gardeners plan,
Then daily sings the weather man,
Continued cold,
A dreary note,
While Joan still wears her leopard coat.

When all around the wind doth rage,
And golfers sit at home and fret,
And damp commuters feel their age,
And Marian's Easter hat gets wet;
When frustrate waits the baseball fan,
Then daily sings the weather man,
Continued cold,
A dismal note,
While Joan still wears her leopard coat.

Geoff.

Definition of Der Fuehrer.

Mention of old Bridgeport [4-18-'39] and the "immortal Mr. Dooley" reminded me of his great crack about fanatics—an epigram which sounds especially good in this day of Herr Hitler et al. "A fanatic," said Mr. Dooley, "is one who does what he thinks the Lord would do if He knew the facts of the case." Jack Donohue.

He Probably Found It in a Movie Caption.

"The duke of Windsor did not originate the phrase, 'At long last,'" writes Kathleen of County Down, who then gives a magazine reference dated Sept. 30, 1933. Laws-a-mercy, chile, whoever said he did? His royal highness popularized the phrase in this period, of course, but it had been floating around in fancy writing for many years. Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David Wettin, later Windsor, is a stylist only in the matter of clothes.

Fodder for a Feature Film.

PRELUDE TO LILAC TIME.

'Ere long a lace of lilacs will adorn
The hem of yonder bush and gently blow
Their soothing fragrance on the air. They'll show
Again the freshness of creation's morn,
Serenity and gladness to a torn,
Deluded world. Wherever lilacs grow
A benediction hovers and we know
That blessings from the beautiful are born.

Await the lilacs coming with a mind
And heart prepared for ministry! The sweet
Caress they brush upon the spirit springs'
From sources deeper than we ever find
In trivial joys, for in their grace we meet
A Memory and hear the sound of wings!

Newcomer.

The Abolition of Agatite Avenue.

Apropos of that 4-bit street named Agatite, let's end the argument for once and all. Prevail upon the city fathers to dispose of that aggravating name which sounds like a mineral, but isn't. Retain the geological flavor, but do the job properly with four names, to-wit: Hematite, Siderite, Limonite, and Magnetite, each of which is a perfectly good iron ore. W. A. Schulte.

The End.

Indictment for Treason.

April has turned traitor, and those who loved her best stand bewildered at her treachery. Lilac buds that three weeks ago threatened to become leaves overnight are less green than they were then. The grass has lost its early spring sheen, and is dully gray again. No sunny, dimpling skies alternately smile and weep on us, but a dour, gray heaven that would do credit to November hangs heavy above us. The birds are back, looking much as though they wished they weren't. There is no gay courting, fierce quarrels, or sweet domesticity. For the most part, the robins stand bleakly on one cold foot, complaining of the weather. Helene.

The Nameless Month, resentful of the sentence of outlawry that we have passed upon her, glared at us balefully with a red morning sun yesterday, depriving us of several hours' sleep. Then, having had her revenge, she went back to clouds and rain as usual. CHARLES COLLINS.

VITAMINS ON PARADE.

Part II.

SHORTLY after the discovery of vitamins physicians and those interested in nutrition regarded the problem as solved. Had not Christiaan Eijkman been awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for his identification of the substance which would prevent polyneuritis or beriberi—a term meaning "I can't do anything"? He found that fowls or human beings fed wholly on polished rice developed this malady. But this did not supply the answer in toto. Further experiments disclosed other parts of this particular vitamin. In fact, lack of this same portion which is responsible for beriberi is also causative in alcoholic neuritis.

Until recently the acute distress suffered by chronic drinkers was thought to be due to direct poison of the nerves by the alcohol alone. To ascertain the accuracy of this theory a group of habitually heavy imbibers were allowed just as much whisky as they were in the habit of consuming; but—at the same time—they were forced to eat a balanced diet high in B1. To the astonishment of every one the neuritis cleared up entirely.

Nicotinic acid—another fraction of the whole B—sometimes called G—has within the last few months produced favorable results in the treatment of pellagra—a deficiency disease rather common throughout the United States, especially the southern part. The characteristic signs of the affliction are an eruption on the skin [particularly the backs of the hands and the face], diarrhea, and manifestations of mental deterioration [dementia].

At first the victim may complain of weakness, loss of appetite, and indigestion before the onset of diarrhea. Then come pains along the intestinal tract, dizziness, and nervousness—making the patient exceedingly difficult to handle. Forgetfulness is common and ideas may be flighty, reflecting periodical attacks of mental confusion. Sore mouth is experienced early and the tip and margin of the tongue are red and swollen. Presently ulcers may appear on the inside of the cheeks as well. Sometimes the diagnosis can be made from the skin changes together with this rawness within the mouth.

With the administration of nicotinic acid the sufferer begins to show improvement within seventy-two hours and complete recovery can be obtained by its continued use. Work is in progress to determine whether the giving of small amounts of the acid in some substance—such as ordinary table salt—will check the onset of the disorder. This is the same idea as utilizing iodized salt for the prevention of the kind of thyroid enlargement which arises in the absence of sufficient iodine in the food. The plan is now showing great promise, although it has not yet been fully confirmed.

Although there are at least four or five more subdivisions of vitamin B which have been singled out, their rôle in the human body has not been established, although their requirements in animals are recognized. The influence of this element in stimulating appetite and on the movement of the intestine is receiving considerable attention.

C, the anti-scurvy element, has been isolated in crystalline form [cevitamic acid]. The proportion of this acid in the blood can now be measured and the degree of the individual's shortage determined. Although C has been recommended for such widely dissimilar troubles as heart failure, insomnia, asthma, hives, arthritis, and peptic ulcer, its value in diseases other than scurvy and certain kinds of anemia remains to be proved. Claims regarding its anti-infective powers are in approximately the same position as that for vitamin A—doubtful.

Within the last month there has been found another division of C which has been named citrin [vitamin P]. This material would appear to have some control over the integrity of the walls of the fine blood vessels of the body, and hence some significance in purpura hemorrhagica, discussed in this column a few weeks ago. The work awaits further trial. C [and probably P] is contained in practically all citrus fruits, such as lemons, oranges, and grapefruit — and tomato juice.

END OF A JITTERBUG.

T. C. writes: I did a lot of jitterbug dancing recently and my ankles now seem to be weak. What can I do about it?

REPLY.

Follow the custom of other bugs—when injured they crawl into their holes and rest. Even though they have more feet than you, they get off them until healing is complete.

UNDER ARM SORENESS.

G. G. G. writes: What causes a soreness under the arm? There is no lump.

REPLY.

This is probably due to some irritation: from deodorants, perspiration, tight and constricting sleeves, infection of the hair follicles, too close shaving, etc. The cause should be found and removed.

HOW MANY RIBS?

M. C. writes: How many ribs are there on each side of the body?

REPLY.

Male or female—twelve on each side.

HOW SOON?

S. L. writes: How soon after conception can a physician tell if a woman is pregnant?

REPLY.

The Aschheim-Zondek test will reveal the pregnant state shortly after conception.

A UNITED STATES IN EUROPE.

Chicago, April 16.—McCutcheon's cartoon in today's paper takes me back to boyhood, when one of the familiar phrases of press, pulpit, and platform was, "There will be war in the Balkans before spring." During one of those oft-recurring hysterias I was privileged to listen to a sermon by the great London preacher, Charles H. Spurgeon, in which he spoke of the United States as the great western democracy, and expressed a fervent hope that Almighty God would ultimately bring about a United States of Europe which would forever free that continent from the bloody racial conflicts which had bathed the valleys of the Rhine and the Danube with blood for the last thousand years.

Now that we are in the midst of another era of world worry over the racial conflicts of mid-Europe, my mind goes back to that prayer of Dr. Spurgeon. Although I am an English born American citizen I must admit that my admiration for the genius of the Germanic race is second only to my admiration for the good old U. S. A. Hitler, to me, is merely an incident in the evolution of a great nation; just as Roosevelt is merely an incident in the evolution of our own country. I have no use for either of them. But if the movement toward a consolidation of racial groups in Europe were an aspiration of the Germanic race as such, I'd say Godspeed to it. But it is their problem and not ours.

ENGLISH BORN AMERICAN.

HE DOUBTS THE INVESTIGATORS.

Chicago, April 18.—I note that the joint committee of the house and senate appointed to investigate padding of pay rolls and illegal expenditures has really gone to work.

They have discovered a most alarming situation which, if thoroughly aired, will shake the nation to its very foundation, viz:

Some state employé traded a spavined horse with the blind staggers for one which was broken winded and foundered.

The committee will now spend the next two months trying to figure out: Who gypped who? If some of the state departments were investigated thoroughly and honestly, we, the taxpayers, would have to build some grand new, streamlined, knee action penitentiaries, and a Democrat couldn't be elected to office in Illinois for the next four centuries.

J. R. MILLS.

MORE ON CHILDREN.

Chicago, April 13.—I agree with the man "Reader," April 11, who protests against children destroying others' freshly seeded lawns, stepping upon the young plants, flowers and gardens! I am the mother of two children and if parents will teach them to respect other people's rights and property we might accomplish a great deal toward bringing them up to be good law abiding citizens; consequently, it might also help decrease the crimes many of them commit in later life against the peace of the community. Instead of "turning them loose" on other people's gardens it might be well to inspire them to make a tiny garden of their own.

MRS. FREDERICK ROBBINS.

RUSTY LICENSE PLATES.

Chicago, April 17.—Again the Illinois license plates are rusting.

AMI AHRENDT.

THE SOUND TRUCK NUISANCE.

Chicago, April 17.—Why are sound truck racketeers permitted to disturb the peace and violate the city ordinance intended to protect the public against such forms of "advertising"?

The public minded citizens who stopped the littering of streets with campaign literature might well apply pressure on the so-called enforcers of the law to relieve this far worse violation of ordinary decency before the sound truck racketeers succeed in their obvious purpose of establishing a continuous rather than the present intermittent bedlam, with sound truckers bellowing orders at the public about how to vote, what not to buy, and whom to believe.

Recently the C. I. O. truck went through the loop howling at the public, followed by an A. F. of L. truck howling at the public about the C. I. O. We were surprised that there wasn't a truck following both howling about the splendid law enforcing done by Mayor Kelly.

A CITIZEN.

PERSECUTION UNDER THE DICTATORS.

Chicago, April 15.—I would like to submit this reply to Mr. B. A. Sterling: When you condemn Nazi Germany for the persecution of the Jews and uphold Russia you do not follow through and you are partial in your hatred.

I object to all forms of racial persecution whether it be in Germany and Italy or in Russia and Spain. Russia is and has been a hotbed of Christian persecution even worse than the deplorable Jewish persecution in Germany. I think what Father Coughlin is driving at is that the de-Christianization of these countries is the root of all this racial discrimination today.

JOSEPH A. CRONIN.

WPA CONTRIBUTIONS TO POLAND.

Chicago, April 16.—Things certainly have come to a sorry pass when one is able to read in the columns of the Polish-American press blatant accounts of WPA workers giving part of their miserable earnings toward the support and more efficient arming of the Polish army!

It is hard to understand why any naturalized citizen of the United States, who has solemnly renounced allegiance to any foreign government, should continue to support financially the army of that government, be it with Uncle Sam's funds, or with funds earned in private industry.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

UNDIVIDED INTERESTS.

Chicago, April 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father, deceased, had 160 acres of land, assessed at about $800, according to tax receipts. He built a house on part of the land. I put $75 into materials that went into the construction of the house. There are six children. My sister and I, the oldest, do not want this part of the land to be sold, or rather we do not want the house to be sold. The other four members would sell the house as quickly as possible if they could. There is no will.

1. Can I claim the house on the basis that I did more for father than any one else all during his lifetime? I want to keep the house, not because of its value, but because of its sentimental value.

2. Every one wants the house.

3. Can a clause be inserted in the final agreement to the effect that no one could sell the house?

4. Can any one sell his or her share of the land?

1. Probably not. In general such services between near relatives are regarded as gratuitous.

2. Where owners of undivided interests in real estate cannot agree, any one of them is entitled to force a division or a public sale by partition proceedings. The cost of such proceedings, including the complainant's solicitor's fees, are chargeable against the proceeds of sale.

3. If all the parties are adults, presumably they can make any agreement that they please.

4. Yes.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ANTE-NUPTIAL AGREEMENT.

Chicago, April 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man and woman both owning property sign an agreement giving up all rights to each other's property before and after death owned by each before date of marriage. Later they separate and one of the parties sells some of the property.

1. Is it necessary to have the other's signature to deed?

2. If so, can the other be compelled to sign the deed? If so, what action is necessary? After two years' separate maintenance has been paid in a childless marriage [3] what is the necessary action a man must take? C. B.

1. Not if the ante-nuptial settlement has been recorded.

2. See 1.

3. He is in a position to file suit for divorce if that is what you mean to ask. The first step would be to employ an attorney. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LOAN FROM CONSERVATOR.

Moline, Ill., April 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I purchased a home on the monthly payment plan, borrowing the money from a conservator of a world war veteran secured by first mortgage. Mortgage is due in May. I wish to have the mortgage extended five years and changed from monthly to yearly payments. Can this be done legally?

C. O.

It seems probable that the conservator would have to obtain court authority. We cannot advise to advantage without having the surrounding circumstances more adequately before us.

LIFE TO ZACHINI IS A SERIES OF KICKS IN PANTS

Circus 'Cannonball' Tells of His Job.

He flies through the air at a speed of nearly three miles a minute. His long graceful arc carries him from the mouth of a cannon into a net.

The audience in the stands is just a blur to this human cannon ball, Vittorio Zachini. His thoughts in the few seconds of his flight run something like this:

"Did I lock the door when I left home this morning?" or

"Where did my wife get that hat?"

Cannon Ball for Twelve Years.

Zachini is one of the star performers at the Greater European Olympia circus now appearing at the Chicago Stadium. He is a slight man, 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighing 134 pounds. He has been a cannon projectile for twelve years.

Zachini explained the technique of his act and his reactions yesterday. The aluminum cannon is set at one end of the Stadium floor facing a net 175 feet away. Zachini climbs into the mouth and straightens himself out so that he is facing the mouth. His hands are clenched in front of his face.

"Are you ready, Vittorio?" asks his brother, Hugo, standing nearby.

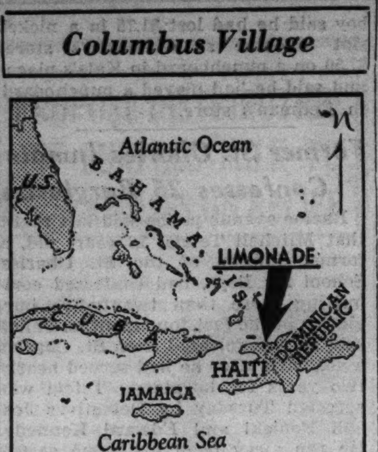
Vittorio says he is ready, Hugo yells "Go!" and presses a valve. The piston on a compressed air device inside the cannon leaps forward with tremendous force.

Uses Hands as Rudders.

"It feels like somebody was giving me a mighty kick in the pants," Vittorio said. "I shoot out and straighten my hands so that they are ahead of me for a swan dive. I go up at a forty-five degree angle half the distance and go down at the same angle for the remaining half to land in the net. I use my hands as rudders to guide my body.

"My head and body are encased in leather but there are openings for my eyes and I can see where I am going."

Zachini said he has broken his shoulder and ribs on several occasions. These injuries never occur as he hurtles from the cannon, but in hitting the net if there is some defect in the netting.



Arrow points to the fishing village of Limonade in Haiti, near which the site of Christopher Columbus' first settlement in the new world is believed to have been found.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 20.—(AP)—Discovery of the probable site of the first settlement by Columbus in the new world—lost since a handful of Spaniards in armour died in a battle with naked Indians four centuries ago—was reported today to the American Philosophical society.

The settlement, known as Navidad, was established on the north coast of Haiti by Columbus in January, 1493, on his first voyage of discovery. He returned eleven months later, but the fort had been burned and the garrison of 40 men slain. The discovery was reported by Samuel E. Morison, Harvard university historian, who last January retraced Columbus' route in that vicinity.

Near the modern fishing village of Limonade Bord de Mer, Morison located a mound which he believes is the site of the fort—a conjecture that eventually will be proved or disproved through excavation.

PHYSICIAN'S KIT STOLEN.

Dr. Alex J. Arieff, 839 East 49th street, reported to police yesterday the theft of medical instruments valued at $100 from his car parked at Monroe and LaSalle streets.

New House Paint made by Du Pont stays whiter in spite of Chicago weather and industrial smoke

"IT'S UNCANNY," say local home owners, "how much whiter this paint stays even under conditions where ordinary paint quickly turns dull and dingy."

Du Pont House Paint starts whiter. It contains titanium—the whitest pigment known to science.

It stays whiter because this paint is self-cleaning. It is made so that every rain washes off accumulated dirt, leaving your house cleaner and whiter.

Du Pont House Paint is economical, too. Its better hiding means fewer coats. Better coverage means fewer gallons. And it wears longer.

When you paint, ask your painting contractor to use Du Pont House Paint. Your house will stay whiter.

For the name of your nearest Du Pont dealer, write to the Du Pont Co., 2100 Elston Ave., Chicago, or phone BRU. 6900

MANHUNT TRAPS 2 FELONS FLEEING FROM PONTIAC

Escapee No. 37 Flees St. Charles.

across fields. Mancino said he had gone to Matteson to see his mother.

Although Mancino is only 22 years old, he was serving his second prison term. He was first sentenced in October, 1933, to five concurrent terms of one to ten years for larceny. He was paroled Aug. 30, 1935.

He was arrested Feb. 1, 1936, on a charge of stealing farm machinery in Homewood. He pleaded guilty to burglary and Austin withdrew a charge that he was a habitual criminal. Judge Denis Normoyle fixed his punishment at one year to life.

Underwood, 24 years old, was sentenced for burglary four years ago in Springfield. At Pontiac it was said they were honor inmates with good records.

Protest to Governor.

The flight of young Van Dyke from St. Charles, where he was sent in January, 1936, for a burglary in Mattoon, occurred just after three well known residents of the town of St. Charles had protested to Gov. Horner about conditions at the school.

They are Col. E. J. Baker, Lester J. Norris, and J. E. Thompson. Baker and Norris control most of the fortune of the late John W. [Bet a Million] Gates, who gave the state the land on which the St. Charles school stands. Thompson is superintendent of schools in the town of St. Charles. Their message read:

"1. Walls make a prison and walls would result in sending even worse criminal types to the school than are there now. We are unalterably opposed to walls here.

"2. The name of the school should be changed, because of its bad reputation.

"3. The institution should be made a training school for boys.

"4. Well trained personnel should be selected on a merit basis.

"5. Married couples with a zeal for handling boys should be appointed heads of the cottages in which the boys live.

"6. Boys over the compulsory school age of 16 years should be barred from the school.

"7. The legislature should provide for the immediate transfer of young hoodlums who do not belong in the school and no more such inmates should be sent there.

"8. If these changes cannot be made the school should be closed."

Flees While Hauling Ashes.

At present boys up to 21 years old are kept in the St. Charles school.

Arnold J. Rauen, assistant manager of the school, said that Van Dyke, who is 16, was paroled last November to his brother Virgil, who lives on a farm near Mattoon. He left the farm and was returned to St. Charles on Jan. 23 of this year.

On Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. he was set to work hauling ashes from the school power plant. There were no guards. At 10:30 p. m. he fled. A fireman, who was supervising the working boys, notified the management.

Boys' Club Gives Study to Perils at St. Charles

The problem created by the escapes of young criminals from the St. Charles School for Boys was considered by boys themselves last night. Young members of the Boys' Brotherhood Republic discussed the problem at their twenty-fifth anniversary meeting in the city council chambers.

Senator Abraham L. Marovitz [19th district], a former member of the republic, explained the bill he has introduced providing for a separate building for incorrigibles.

2 SENT TO JAIL FOR PERMITTING BOY TO GAMBLE

Owners of two candy stores near an elementary school were sent to jail for thirty days yesterday for allowing a boy to gamble in their establishments.

The sentences were inposed by Judge Lambert K. Hayes on Paul Gistenson, whose store is at 3578 Armitage avenue, and Paul Katz, 3816 Armitage. They were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Sam Redman, owner of another store at 3705 Armitage, was granted a continuance until May 3 on the same charge.

The three were arrested on the story of Richard Gasiorowski, 16 years old, 3718 McLean avenue. The boy said he had lost $1.75 in a nickel slot machine at Gistenson's store, $7.50 on a punchboard in Katz's place, and said he had played a punchboard in Redman's store.

Former St. Charles Inmate Confesses 25 Burglaries

Racine avenue police said last night that Mitchell Tetela, 18 years old, a former inmate of the St. Charles School for Boys, had confessed committing more than twenty-five burglaries in the last four months. Police said he was released from St. Charles a year ago after he had served nearly two years for burglary. Tetela was arrested Tuesday by Detectives Joseph Ponicki and Edward Kennedy. He ran away from his home at 903 North Hermitage avenue about four months ago, taking his father's pistol. The father asked police to find him.

'PRINCE OF JAIL BREAKERS' DIES, STILL FREE MAN

Clyde Stratton Despair of Wardens for Years.

Toledo, O., April 20.—[Special.]—The jail defying career of Clyde Stratton, known as the "prince of jail breakers," is over. The man who broke out of more prisons than the average culprit gets into, died here in a small rooming house Tuseday.

Stratton was 56 years old and was said to have been at one time a student of a leading midwest university. He had the Greek letters of a national fraternity tattooed on his arm.

His most notable adventure in proving the futility of prison bars was his escape from the Illinois state prison at Joliet, Ill., by crawling half a mile through an eighteen inch sewer, and a similar flight from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., through a mile long sewer.

In Again, Out Again.

Stratton escaped three times from the Ohio state prison at Columbus and broke out of numerous county jails in a long "in again out again" record that dated back to 1904.

The gentleman crook first escaped from the Ohio prison, where he was serving a sentence for burglary, by scaling a wall in 1904. Recaptured and then paroled, he was sent back to the prison on another charge of burglary. In 1910 he and three companions again scaled the prison wall. Recaptured in Chicago, he was taken back to prison, but escaped two months later by picking a cell lock with a wire removed from a top hat.

The year 1913 found the elusive criminal in Leavenworth penitentiary beginning a five year sentence for burglarizing a postoffice at McCool, Ind. He had been sent there following his arrest in Chicago in a richly furnished apartment at Clifton and Wilson avenues, where police found an arsenal of guns and ammunition, dynamite, skeleton keys, and loot.

Stratton boasted he would not stay a month in Leavenworth, although it had the reputation at that time of being the country's most impregnable prison. He was out in eighteen days. With two other convicts he crawled through a mile long sewer. The others were caught.

Again Escapes in Sewer.

In December, 1913, he participated in the burglary of a bank at Silvis, Ill., in which the cashier was fatally beaten. He was captured and turned over to the sherif at Rock Island, Ill., but he escaped ten days later. Recaptured, he was sent to Joliet prison to serve a fourteen year term for murder. On July 7, 1916, he crawled away through a sewer.

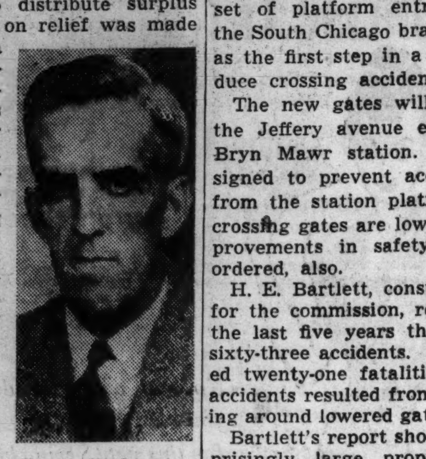
Stratton remained free for three months, then was captured again and returned to Joliet, where he stayed until his release in 1921. Nine years later he was sent back to Joliet to serve a term of one to ten years for burglary and he served his term.

Town Dark as Auto Skids Into Power Line; 2 Killed

Paxton, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Vernon Miline, 20 years old, and John Campbell, 20, both of Paxton, were killed tonight when the automobile Miline was driving skidded on wet pavement north of here and crashed into a metal supporting standard for an electric line. A power line was broken, plunging Paxton into darkness. Linemen discovered the victims.

PROPOSE DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS MILK TO FAMILIES ON RELIEF

A proposal to distribute surplus milk to families on relief was made yesterday at a meeting of producers, consumers and dealers in the Palmer house. J. L. Lloyd, state director of agriculture, was chairman. The group was organized at a milk conference in Springfield sponsored by Lieut. Gov. John Stelle.



Thomas E. Courtney.

Thomas E. Courtney of De Kalb, president of the Chicago Milk Producers council and secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, estimated that milk consumption would be increased 200,000 quarts daily by the relief distribution plan. It provides that farmers would sell a portion of their milk at the surplus price, about 2.2 cents a quart. The regular fluid market price is 3.1 cents. Dealers and labor would contribute their services at cost, according to the plan. Coupons redeemable in milk would be supplied reliefers.

Director of Agriculture Lloyd announced that Dr. H. A. Ruehe of the University of Illinois has been assigned to investigate milk control boards in eastern cities.

STATE DIRECTS I. C. TO INSTALL SAFETY GATES

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday ordered the Illinois Central railroad to install an experimental set of platform entrance gates on the South Chicago branch of the road as the first step in a program to reduce crossing accidents on the line.

The new gates will be erected at the Jeffery avenue entrance to the Bryn Mawr station. They are designed to prevent access to or exit from the station platform while the crossing gates are lowered. Other improvements in safety devices were ordered, also.

H. E. Bartlett, consulting engineer for the commission, reported that in the last five years the line has had sixty-three accidents. The list included twenty-one fatalities. Twenty-six accidents resulted from persons walking around lowered gates.

Bartlett's report showed that a surprisingly large proportion—38 per cent—of the passengers using the line either duck under or go around lowered gates on leaving or entering the platforms.

West Side Hospital Sale to County O. K.'d by Court

The sale of the bankrupt West Side hospital, 1850 Harrison street, to the county for $110,000 was approved yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly, administrator of the hospital's receivership. The hospital will be used as an annex of County hospital for housing interns and convalescents, according to County Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke.

Two Thieves Offer $50,000 Antique for $1,500; Seized

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Police reported tonight they had trapped two men in an effort to return for $1,500 a $50,000 miniature of George Washington's mother, part of the $100,000 loot taken in a holdup of the Louis XIV. antique shop in East 55th street last Jan. 1. The offer to return the bust was telephoned to the shop with instructions to give a messenger $1,500. After the antique was handed over in exchange for an envelope containing a $20 bill wrapped around newspapers, the messenger was trailed by police and the arrests were made at a downtown apartment.

PEDESTRIAN, HIT BY AUTO, DIES OF HIS INJURIES

Gustave Braun, 72 years old, 3235 South Throop street, died yesterday in St. Bernard's hospital of injuries suffered last Saturday when he was struck by an automobile at Garfield boulevard and Ashland avenue. Rudolph Van Gellinger of 608 West 60th street was the driver.

Samuel A. Waldman, 36, of 1821 South Avers avenue, an accountant, died last night in St. Anthony's hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday when he was struck as two cars collided. He was on the sidewalk at 19th street and Harding avenue when the automobiles of Edward L. Weiss, 1925 South Harding avenue, and Richard Bojack, 3859 Ogden avenue, crashed. Police said Bojack's machine hurtled upon the sidewalk, hitting Waldman.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 269 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 209 were killed in Chicago, where 5,628 were injured in the same period.

DIES IN STATION.

As he walked into the La Salle street station late yesterday to board a train for home, Pasquale Lombardi, 5'2 years old, chief engineer of the New York Life building, 39 South La Salle street, died from a heart attack. He lived at 10116 South Racine avenue.

Has SPRING FEVER Got YOU?

Get a BOOST from Extra Vitamins in this MORE EFFECTIVE way

THESE early spring days, when you're likely to feel pepless and run-down, try boosting your energy with extra vitamins.

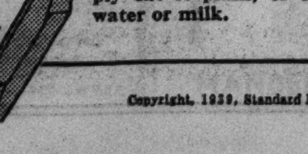
But remember—not all ways of getting vitamins outside your meals offer the same kind of help. Be sure to choose the way that can offer you more complete results than vitamins alone—by eating the new Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast.

More help than vitamins plain—Now, this improved yeast is richer than ever in 4 necessary vitamins—"Resistance" Vitamin A, "Nerve" Vitamin B_1, "Bone" Vitamin D and "Vitality" Vitamin G.

In addition, the fresh yeast itself offers digestive aid—help you may need if slow digestion is keeping you, like many others, from making full use of the vitamins you eat.

"Booster Action"—Fresh yeast helps quicken and stimulate digestion that is too slow. In this way it acts like a "booster" for vitamins you eat, helps you assimilate them better so you can get fuller benefit from them.

Eat extra vitamins this effective way—in Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast. Eat 2 cakes each day. See if you don't feel peppier!



2 cakes of Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast supply:

VITAMIN A—6200 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN B_1— 300 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN D— 800 UNITS (Int.)
VITAMIN G—100-120 UNITS (Sh. Bour.)

All the average person needs (plus meals) of Vitamins A, B_1, D—and a rich supply of Vitality Vitamin G.

Eat one cake ½ hour before breakfast or lunch, one ½ hour before supper. Or, if you prefer, eat the 2 cakes at one time. Simply eat it plain, or in a little water or milk.

DEMOCRATS CUT BUDGET; SLASH MORE, G.O.P. ASKS

Stelle's Session Trimming at Rate of 6.4 Pct.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Under Democratic auspices, the $456,000,000 proposed state budget was reduced today by $2,180,600 to the satisfaction of Gov. Henry Horner and Lieut. Gov. John Stelle.

Stelle sat as an examining magistrate with a group of legislators while Democratic state officers and department heads voluntarily cut their appropriation requests. This work will go on, the lieutenant governor stated, until every item in the budget is covered. Some predictions were that a total of 4 or 5 millions would eventually be sliced.

Republicans, who originated the economy move in the current legislative session, were both pleased and a little scornful at the proceedings.

Cut 15 Per Cent, Says Searcy.

Senator Earl B. Searcy [R., Springfield], chairman of the joint committee which has been seeking waste, said:

"The Democrats are making a little start toward reduction. Maybe our committee can add to it. I think a 15 per cent cut should be kept in mind as the objective."

Since, $2,180,600 was taken today from a total of $33,527,326 appropriation requests considered, the reduction was about 6.4 per cent.

"We had the fullest coöperation of all officials who appeared," Stelle said. "The cuts mean a reduction in personnel, contingencies and lump sum appropriations, and will result in more work being performed by the remaining personnel. I wish particuarly to thank Speaker Hugh Cross and Senator Searcy for their help. They helped carry on their own promises of economy and Gov. Horner's economy program."

Governor Full of Pleasure.

The governor expressed great pleasure at the reductions.

"It is gratifying," he said in a statement, "to witness such decided progress in this necessary task. It is my intention that Illinois remain on a pay-as-you-go basis and these, as well as other reductions, must be made if we are to do so."

The governor's statement totaled the day's reductions at $2,180,600. Reporters, who were kept out of the meeting, reputedly at the instigation of Sam Nudelman, director of finance, had interviewed the department heads as they came out and had computed the sum saved at $1,356,600.

This figure was about $800,000 short of the one the governor mentioned. And $805,000 was the sum reported to have been suggested to Oscar G. Mayer, president of the trustees of the University of Illinois, as a proper reduction in the university's $18,201,536 requested appropriation.

Mayer told reporters the suggestion would be considered by the trustees next Thursday. He said he was in sympathy with efforts to keep the state budget in balance.

Statement Hints It's Settled.

The apparent inclusion of the $800,000 sum in the governor's statement was taken to mean, however, that Mr. Horner and Mr. Stelle were inclined to consider the suggestion a direction.

Representative Clinton Searle [R., Rock Island], chief examiner for the Searcy economy committee, attended the economy sessions. He described the reductions thus:

"It's all a lot of monkeyshines!"

The largest cut of the day came from the proposed appropriation for State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis. It totaled $1,035,000, of which $1,000,000 was taken from the fund for inheritance tax refunds. The explanation was offered that the treasury was in such shape that it could stand whatever might be needed for this purpose. It was doubted that the sum would reach one million.

Only one minor clash was reported from behind the closed doors. It was said John A. Wieland, superintendent of public instruction, stated to Lieut. Gov. Stelle that he would not accept a reduction.

"It isn't up to you to say," Stelle was reported to have informed him.

Wieland's appropriation was cut $19,000.

State Auditor Edward J. Barrett struck $100,000 from his appropriation. Barrett said the reduction would work a hardship on his department, which would have to operate without additional help and without needed equipment.

"We will continue our practice of working overtime when necessity demands," he said.

Departmental Cuts Listed.

The following table shows the officers, the reductions, and the size of the appropriations affected today.

Department—	Cut.	Appropriatinn before cut.
State treasurer	$1,035,000	$2,129,170
State auditor	100,000	2,205,100
Secretary of state	63,260	5,187,534
Department of registration and education	60,340	2,240,576
Insurance department	10,000	1,382,680
Conservation department	83,000	1,670,620
Department of mines and minerals	5,000	295,460
University of Illinois	805,000	18,201,536

Searcy Group Claims Credit.

The Searcy committee invited itself to the Stelle conferences. Searcy only had been asked to attend, but the committee approved a motion by Representative David I. Swanson [R., Chicago] asking Searcy to request Stelle to allow the committee to attend. Stelle granted the request.

Searcy recalled that all ten department heads appeared before the Searcy committee last week and insisted they could make no reductions.

"If reductions are eventually made the credit can be given this committee," Searcy said. "We welcome all cuts, no matter under what auspices they come."

70 Pound Baby

KENNETH JOHNSON.

Louisville, Ky., April 20.—[Special.]—Medical men are watching with interest the abnormal growth of Kenneth Johnson, 13 months old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Johnson of the Horsemill neighborhood near Morgantown in Butler county.

The child is three feet tall and weighs seventy pounds. Each month he gains four pounds and grows an inch taller. His parents said he would be larger if he hadn't had pneumonia in January. They haul him about in a wagon, for he cannot walk but he can support his weight. He has eight teeth.

Kenneth weighed 10½ pounds when he was born March 13, 1938. When he was five months old his father took him to the Vanderbilt clinic in Nashville and was told the case is similar to that of Robert Wadlow, the Alton, Ill., giant, except that Kenneth is larger for his age than Wadlow was at the same age.

HONOR SLATTERY, NAMED TO LEWIS' SENATE VACANCY

James M. Slattery, recently appointed United States senator by Gov. Horner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, was fêted by his former associates on the Illinois commerce commission at a dinner in the Palmer House last night. Slattery is former chairman of the commission.

More than 150 persons attended, among them Charles Byrne, Andrew Olson, and James Murnane, members of the commission. Olson described Slattery as an "ideal public servant who understands the will and need of this great country."

It is expected Slattery will leave for Washington Sunday to take up his senatorial duties.

CHICAGO LOWEST OF 9 BIG CITIES IN TAX DELINQUENCY

Findings Given in Survey by Legislative Council.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Chicago stands at the bottom of nine American cities in percentages of recent tax levies remaining uncollected, the legislative council reported today.

The council gathered statistics showing uncollected levies since 1934, and rated cities in the following order: San Francisco, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Boston, and Chicago.

Conclusions reached were set forth by Dr. Charles M. Kneier, who directed the study.

Downstate Compared.

"An analysis of tax delinquency in fifteen downstate [Illinois] counties indicated that the degree of delinquency is less than in Cook county," said Dr. Kneier, "and that delinquency as between farm lands and city property does not vary greatly, although the latter has a slightly higher delinquency.

"Tax delinquency appears to be economic, being due to conditions which make it impossible for the taxpayer to pay his taxes. For such delinquency the remedy most generally suggested is legislative assistance through the waiver of tax penalties, provisions for instalment payment of back taxes, etc.

"Some tax delinquency, it is generally said, is due to the attitude of the taxpayer, a desire on his part to avoid or delay payment if possible, and to defects in the tax collection machinery which encourage this attitude."

Delinquency Analyzed.

From 1928 to 1937, the report showed, tax delinquency in Cook county totaled: Real estate, $152,528,999; railroads, $6,930,632; personal property, $228,640,215. The grand total is $388,099,848.

Another fact brought forward in the report, Dr. Kneier said, dealt with the delinquency of properties having a tax bill of $1,000 or more in 1936 in Chicago.

Figures accompanying the survey gave the total number of properties in the city as 532,812 and the number of properties in the survey as 1,463, or 27 per cent of the total.

The sample had an assessed value of $70,090,292. The total assessed value of all properties in the city was $1,324,814,066. Total delinquent taxes in the city during 1936 were $120,877,890; total delinquent taxes for the sample, $28,216,217, or 23.3 per cent.

"That the higher valued properties are responsible for a greater percentage of the tax delinquency in Chicago than their percentage of the total assessed value would justify is shown," the report said.

JUSTIFY SLAYING OF ROBBER; PIN HOLDUPS ON PALS

A coroner's jury yesterday held justifiable the slaying of Joseph Meneghini, 22 years old, a bandit, who was shot by William Phillips, a rookie policeman, during the attempted holdup of a tavern at 1124 West 69th street Tuesday night. Meneghini's brother, John, 19, and Walter Cedergren, 20, were seized in connection with the robbery attempt. Both were paraded in the detective bureau showup last night. John Meneghini was identified by Walter Erlandson, attendant at a gasoline filling station at 8600 Stony Island avenue, as one of two bandits who robbed him of $42 at the station Jan. 17.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK.

John Wilfinger, 55 years old, died of a heart attack yesterday at Western and Waveland avenues. He lived at 3724 North Claremont avenue.

BLUE ISLAND HIGH SCHOOL WILL BE OPENED MONDAY

The Blue Island Community High school, which was closed March 10 because of lack of funds to operate it, will be reopened Monday, the school board decided last night.

Although the school is to be reopened no solution to its financial troubles has been found. Voters of the district five times have defeated a tax boost for educational funds. One school official said it may be necessary to pay teachers with certificates.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, attended last night's meeting. He urged rival factions to make peace. As a result John J. Joens, president of the board, and Frank Van Operstratten, former president, who opposed the tax increase, shook hands.

NOW'S THE TIME TO BUILD UP HAY FEVER IMMUNITY

Injections May Save You Misery in August.

Now is the time for hay fever sufferers to take preventive measures. The heavy bombardment of ragweed pollen doesn't arrive until mid-August, of course, but already extremely susceptible sufferers are being bothered, and they can fortify themselves by using vaccines.

This was the advice yesterday of Dr. Irving S. Cutter, THE TRIBUNE'S health authority. He said those persons who now may be reacting to the first traces of tree and grass pollens in the air may get some benefit from vaccine.

Immunity Can Be Built.

But more important, Dr. Cutter said, the vaccines administered periodically from now on will build up immunity against the second hay fever season, when the air is heavy with the pollen that claims the greatest number of victims.

Pollens identified with the first hay fever season come from the short grasses and sedges, shrubs, box elder, elms, maples, oaks, and other trees. Hay fever traceable to grasses is often termed "rose fever," Dr. Cutter said, the error arising because roses have the same blossoming time.

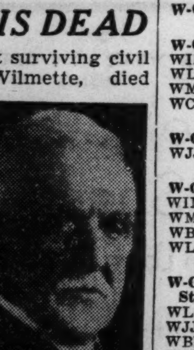
Scratch Test Finds Foe.

The exact irritant is determined by a scratch test. First, tiny cuts are made on but not through the skin. On these are placed a bit of the most likely suspect. Then a drop of dilute sodium hydrate is added to hasten absorption. After a half hour the arm is washed. The positive irritant will cause whitish swellings and an encircling reddened area.

It is possible, Dr. Cutter explained, to combine many of the irritants in a single vaccine. Ten to thirty injections are usually required. Some physicians advise monthly injections throughout the year to accustom the body to the protein against which it rebels. Pollens are not the only irritants. The physician tracking down the cause of hay fever must bring whatever instincts he has to the test.

JOHN A. HOOD, 96, WILMETTE CIVIL WAR VET, IS DEAD

John A. Hood, oldest surviving civil war veteran in Wilmette, died Wednesday in his home at 106 6th street. He was 96 years old and was known throughout the village as "Daddy" Hood.



John A. Hood.

Mr. Hood enlisted in the Union army in 1861 and served under Gen. Sherman on the famous march through Georgia. He also fought at the battles of Shiloh, Chickamauga, Stone River, and Lookout Mountain. He recalled hearing President Lincoln deliver the Gettysburg address.

Two sons, Guerne and Guy, and a daughter, Mrs. Lenoir Hood Miller, with whom he lived, survive. Memorial services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church of Wilmette.

SUN SHINES 7½ HOURS, BEATING WEEK'S RECORD

Chicago got just a little more sunshine yesterday than it had in the preceding six days—about 7½ hours—compared with 7.3. Soon after noon, however, more bad weather came in from the west. In the last six days there has been some rain every day. There has been only 9 per cent of a normal amount of sunshine. The daily sunshine records: Last Friday, .6 of an hour; Saturday, 2.9 hours; Sunday, none; Monday, 1.4 hours; Tuesday, 1.6 hours, and Wednesday, .8 of an hour. Slightly cooler weather and more rain is forecast for this morning. Generally fair is the promise for tomorrow.

The W-G-N portion of the transmission will include photos of the Crown Princess Martha of Norway, who is coming to visit America soon, and of Benay Venuta, Mutual songstress who is now appearing in a Broadway play. WOR, Mutual's affiliate in New York, will transmit a comic strip for the first time.

CABINET MAKER DIES IN DE KALB.

De Kalb, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—George W. Jensen, 69 years old, for thirty years a cabinet maker at the Wurlitzer company piano plant, died last night. Born in Denmark, Mr. Jensen came to this country when a child, living in Chicago for more than thirty years before coming here.

OBITUARIES

John Yiubong Lee.

SHANGHAI, April 20.—(AP)—John Yiubong Lee [Li Yao-pang], a Chinese Christian educator and government official who was educated in America, died today. He went to the United States in 1896, studied in Chicago public schools and was graduated from the University of Chicago. As an instructor of physics at Chicago he devised methods which made possible Dr. R. A. Millikan's measurement of the electric charge of an electron. He returned to China in 1917.

Col. Andrew T. Thompson.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 20.—(AP)—Col. Andrew Thornburn Thompson, 68 years old, soldier and former Liberal member of parliament, died today. Col. Thompson was elected in 1901 to the Canadian house of commons for Haldimand, a seat which his father had held for many years, but retired in 1904 after one term. Col. Thompson commanded the 114th regiment of the Canadian expeditionary force in 1916. He was invalided back to Canada in 1918.

Frank E. Warren.

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Frank E. Warren, 56 years old, superintendent of construction jobs in many cities, died of a heart attack today. He directed construction of the Los Angeles postoffice, Kansas City terminal, Supreme Court building in Washington, Aetna Life Insurance Company building in Hartford, Conn., and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers building in Cleveland.

Dr. Thomas Russell Garth.

Denver, Colo., April 20.—(AP)—Dr. Thomas Russell Garth, 67 years old, Denver university experimental psychology professor, died today. Dr. Garth had served on the Denver university faculty since 1922. From 1919 to 1922 he was a psychology professor at Texas university.

Joseph A. Sargent.

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Joseph A. Sargent, 66 years old, consulting engineer, recently PWA supervising engineer on the Lincoln tunnel here, died today. A native of Escanaba, Mich., he served in the Spanish-American and world wars and at various times acted in a supervising capacity on reconstruction projects in Belgium, France, Spain, Poland, and central Europe. From 1903 to 1906 he was the United States reclamation service engineer on the Gunnison tunnel, known as the longest irrigation tunnel in the world.

Arthur Stevenson.

Arthur Stevenson, retired president of the National Office Supply company, died yesterday in his home at 230 Stewart avenue, Waukegan. He was 72 years old. He retired in 1935 after twenty-seven years with the supply company. His widow, Rebecca, two sisters, and two brothers survive. Services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the First Methodist church in Waukegan. Burial will be in the North Shore cemetery.

Mrs. Mary R. Rockwell.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary R. Rockwell, 89 years old, will be held at 3:30 p. m. today at 5203 Lake Park avenue, instead of at 3203 Lake Park avenue as was stated in an item yesterday. The name of Mrs. Rockwell's eldest son was given incorrectly as Theodore instead of Fletcher. He is head of the National Lead company.

Mrs. Mary Jaster.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jaster, 87 years old, will be held today in Woodstock, McHenry county. Mrs. Jaster, who came to Woodstock from Germany forty-five years ago, died Tuesday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Vogt. Besides Mrs. Vogt, two sons, five grandchildren, and a great-grandchild survive.

UNITED AIR LINES HEAD MARKS 10 YEARS' SERVICE

W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, yesterday observed the tenth anniversary of his service with the company. He became assistant to the president of the Boeing Airplane company in 1929. When that system joined with National Air Transport to form United he became vice president in 1931. He was elected president in 1934. Co-workers honored Patterson at a party in the Morrison hotel last night. Among those sending him congratulatory telegrams were Postmaster Farley, Mayor Kelly, Maj. Gen. Henry Arnold, chief of the army air corps, and Lew Palmer of the National Safety council.

Horticulturist Honored on Fiftieth Anniversary

One hundred and fifty members of the Chicago Cactus society met last night in the Graemere hotel to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of August Koch in horticulture. Koch, veteran chief horticulturist of the Chicago park district, came to Chicago in 1912.

Trucker Dies in Home After Mentioning Wreck

Joseph Costello, 39 years old, a truck helper, died yesterday in his home at 1039 Garfield boulevard after remarking that he had been in a wreck. Police and the coroner's office will conduct an investigation to determine whether he was injured in an automobile accident.

SHOTGUN BACKS SWEET LOOK OF LITTLE OLD LADY

Mrs. Mary Bicwal, 70 years old, is a sweet looking woman. But she has one disturbing trait. She settles quarrels with a shotgun.

Yesterday Mrs. Bicwal and Mrs. Stella Fedorga, who live in different apartments at 2742 North Artesian street, were quarreling on the back porch of their building. Mrs. Bicwal suddenly retired into her flat, then reappeared with an ancient double barreled shotgun.

"You can't scare me with that old thing," scoffed Mrs. Fedorga.

Mrs. Bicwal took careful aim then pulled the trigger. A section of the porch disappeared. She pulled the second trigger and another section, closer to Mrs. Fedorga, vanished.

Mrs. Bicwal spent last night at the Racine avenue police station. Today she will appear in the Woman's court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

RITZY ARTICHOKE STEPS DOWN TO SPINACH PRICES

It's Great with a Sea Food Such as Crabmeat.

BY MARY MEADE.

It's news when the aristocratic artichoke gets cheap enough to compete with spinach, carrots, peas, and the other commoners of the vegetable kingdom.

You'll not be able to find them in every store, but when you do artichokes will be selling at around 5 cents for a globe large enough to serve two persons more than generously.

These big heads are ideal for stuffing and when filled with a rather hearty mixture will make an unusual main dish for your Sunday night supper. For stuffing there should be a choke apiece. They're great with a sea food filling such as this:

ARTICHOKES WITH CRABMEAT STUFFING.

[Serves Six.]

6 medium to large artichokes
1⅓ cups flaked crabmeat
¾ cup dry bread crumbs
½ cup light cream
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon sherry
Salt and pepper
Paprika
Buttered crumbs
1 cup milk

Wash artichokes and cut off tip and stem. Remove discolored outer leaves and cut off tough tip end of leaves. Cook uncovered in rapidly boiling salted water to cover for 30 to 40 minutes or until almost tender. Spread leaves and remove furry 'chokes. Meanwhile combine crabmeat, bread crumbs, cream, and seasonings. Fill artichokes with crabmeat mixture and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Place in baking pan, into which the cup of milk has been poured. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes in a moderately hot [375 degrees] oven, basting occasionally with milk in the pan. Serve with cream sauce or cheese sauce, using the basting milk as part of the liquid.

Vegetable Prices Lower.

Artichokes aren't the only good vegetable buy this week-end. Cauliflower is being featured in a large number of stores. It's priced quite reasonably. New cabbage and new onions are lower. Beans are cheaper on the whole, although better grades remain at about the same level.

Peas are of a much better quality than they have been all winter. Pods are well filled out. This vegetable is down to normal again and is a good buy. Have you tried them served with cream and chopped chives?

PEAS WITH CHIVES.

Cook 2 cups shelled peas [about two pounds] in a small amount of boiling salted water. Cook uncovered for 10 to 20 minutes, or until tender. Melt 2 tablespoons butter and add 2 tablespoons cream, 1 tablespoon chopped chives, and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Pour over drained peas and serve at once.

Louisiana strawberries are still cheaper this week and you may want to make some of them into a pie. A glazed strawberry pie has special advantages aside from its goodness. There is no chance for this extremely juicy fruit to run out of the crust or flatten out when part of the berries are mashed to make a thick cornstarch glaze and the rest remain uncooked. This makes a most attractive pie. You'll like the suggested cream cheese topping, too.

GLAZED STRAWBERRY PIE.

[One 9 Inch Pie.]

1 quart strawberries
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
Pastry for 9 inch pie

Line cooled pie shell with whole strawberries which have been washed and drained. Reserve one cup of berries for the glaze. Add three-quarters cup of sugar and water to the reserved berries and cook to a thick sirup. Strain over cornstarch mixed with remaining sugar. Cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Cool slightly and pour over berries in pie shell. Cool and serve with cream cheese topping. A few drops of red food coloring may be added to the glaze to heighten the color.

CREAM CHEESE TOPPING.

Gradually blend ½ cup whipped cream into one 3 ounce package of soft cream cheese. Beat with rotary beater until smooth and fluffy. Spread over pie.

As far as the wholesale market is concerned, veal has been one of the best meat buys for weeks. Demand is lagging far behind supply. Perhaps one reason more homemakers do not buy veal is that they do not know how to cook it to best advantage. Veal never should be broiled. There are some cuts, sold as roasts, which may be roasted, but the rest should be braised. This is because veal contains a great deal of connective tissue which must be softened in moist heat.

To cook a veal steak or cutlet properly dip it in egg and crumbs, or dredge well with flour, then brown over a moderate flame. When browned cover pan and continue cooking for 30 to 45 minutes, or until tender. If desired some other liquid, such as sour cream, chili sauce, tomato sauce, or catsup, may be added in small amounts during cooking.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Sing Out the Blues

RHUBARB AND CHEESE MAKE A TASTY SALAD ON BRIDGE PARTY MENU

Rhubarb is such a soft, juicy fruit that it's the last thing in the world one would think of as suitable material for a salad. But here it is in a delicious molded rhubarb and cheese salad. It's the kind of salad that's at its best on the bridge party menu as a salad dessert or an important part of luncheon or supper.

RHUBARB CHEESE RING.

1 package orange flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup cooked rhubarb
1 3 ounce package cream cheese
½ cup cream, whipped
⅓ cup mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and lemon juice and rind. When cool add rhubarb. Blend cream cheese, whipped cream and mayonnaise and fold into gelatin mixture when it is slightly thickened. Pour into ring mold and chill until firm.

LUNCHEON TREAT: BAKED MACARONI WITH EGGPLANT

There's no need to sing praises of baked macaroni as a luncheon dish. Have you tried it with eggplant? It's a good combination from both the nutritional and the taste standpoint.

BAKED EGGPLANT AND MACARONI.

1 package macaroni
1 eggplant
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced celery
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt

Cook macaroni in plenty of boiling salted water. Wash eggplant and cook whole in boiling salted water. Drain and peel. Cut pulp into small pieces. Melt butter and cook onion, green pepper, celery, and parsley in it for about three minutes. Combine with eggplant and macaroni. Add seasonings and turn into a buttered baking dish. Top with butter crums and bake in a moderate [375 degrees] oven until brown, about fifteen minutes.

The River Bend Feud

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1939: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail, by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. He stops at a cabin occupied by a young woman.

INSTALMENT V.

A PORT IN A STORM.

"You have no business on this ranch," the young woman said. "You know that as well as I do."

Jeff did not like her manner. It had too much of the high and mighty about it. But no resentment showed in his answer. "I don't even know what ranch I'm on, but I can promise I won't be here any longer than I can help."

"You don't need to promise," she said bluntly. "Our men will take care of that."

His thin smile was derisive. "A little southern hospitality," he suggested.

"Trespassers are warned not to cross our fences," she replied, a flare of anger in her eyes. "They are not wanted here."

"So I see," he retorted coolly. "You make that quite plain. Now about matches. Do I get them? Or don't I?"

Frowning down on him she saw that his clothes were well made and that whatever else he might be he was not a ruffian. Though plainly close to exhaustion he made no plea for sympathy on that account. Nor did he apologize for being here, nor offer any explanation of his presence. The man was a cool customer. She knew that direct gaze was appraising her, taking in her slim person and her stiff attitude with an air of slow indifference. It might be assumed. Very likely he was allied with the ranch enemies. But under the circumstances, in view of the frontier traditions of hospitality she had inherited, it would not do to turn him away without aid.

"You had better come in and dry." Her invitation was born wholly of a sense of duty. It held no warmth.

"If you'll give me matches I'll light a fire in the brush and dry," he replied. "It will be more convenient there."

She reflected that this was better and brought him matches from a box in the cupboard. Despite her coldness she was curious about him. He did not look like a spy, but of course anybody sent in to gather information probably would not look like one.

"Are you hungry?" she asked abruptly as he was turning away.

There was a touch of whimsy in his grin. "I hadn't thought of it, but I think the answer is yes."

"Come back after you are dry," she said, declining to answer his smile. "I'll have food ready for you."

"Thank you, Lady Bountiful. I'll be here for the hand-out."

He took away with him a vivid memory of her quick, animal grace, the lustrous coils of blue-black hair, the deep dark eyes in the mobile, dusky face. She was young, scarcely more than 20, and she carried herself with a pride, a distinction that was almost insolent. He guessed that she had been born with a silver spoon and had been brought up to have all material wants gratified.

In an open place, 200 yards away from the house, he gathered broken brush, lit a fire, and stripped. His clothes he spread out to dry. The fire was hot and he shifted the garments as the moisture steamed out of them. Half an hour later he was dressing. His suit was still damp, but he did not care to keep his hostess waiting any longer.

His mind was full of her. He wondered who she was, what she was doing here. Evidently she was connected with this ranch. Very likely her father was its owner. She had spoken as though he ought to know what ranch it was. But Hunter had no local habitat here. It was true that he had helped work cattle in the Lone Star state near the Oklahoma line, but he had spent his youth until college days in Montana.

The delicious fragrance of coffee came to him before he knocked on the door. Without leaving the stove she called to him to come in. She put bacon into a skillet to fry and presently broke eggs into it.

"Sit down at the table," she told him.

There was a setup on the oil cloth . . . tin plate and cup, knife and fork and spoon a bit inclined to rust.

"Sunnyside up?" she asked.

"That will be perfect," he assured her.

The girl's loveliness might be and was decorative, but as she took care of his needs, jacket off and sleeves rolled up to the elbows of dark, satiny arms, he recognized also her competence. She was sure of herself, with some justification.

After he had eaten he washed the dishes and put them away, a function at which she did not offer to help. Back of the smoke of her cigaret she made judgment of him. His age might be 30. That he was a seasoned man, hard and perhaps flinty, she could guess. A shade under six feet, with well packed shoulder muscles and a strong, easy stride, he was plainly a man of force and strength. His body was of the tiger cat rather than the grizzly bear type. He did not have the knobby bulges of the gymnasium built athlete. From his closeshut jaw it would be deduced reasonably that the man had determination. There was a steely quality in the light blue eyes looking so steadily out of the bronzed face which gave warning of one who could be dangerous when aroused. He did not look like one hired to spy on others, still less like a cheap trespasser who had come to kill game in the preserves of the River Bend ranch. She wondered how he had got that purple weal across his cheek. That it was a recent one, she knew.

"Perhaps you will tell me now what you are doing on our land," she drawled in her husky voice, contriving to make the words sound as a command.

Hunter owed her something for her kindness, even though hospitality to a benighted traveler was the law of the frontier. But he did not feel that he owed her enough to justify her manner.

"I was looking for a port in a storm and this was the most available," he said.

"How did you get here?"

"By way of the river."

"Where is your horse?"

"I didn't have a horse."

She thought of his wet clothes. "You mean you swam the river?"

"Go to the head of the class."

"Why? And why were you in such a hurry?"

He smiled. "I'd better make a clean breast of it. I'm an escaped prisoner."

"From a Mexican prison?"

"At Los Portales."

She looked at him with surprised disdain. He knew what she was thinking, that only riffraff from the States got into prisons across the line. He had been going to tell his story, but he decided instead to let her think what she pleased. She was a good deal too imperious to suit him.

He rolled down the sleeves of his shirt, put on his coat, and turned to go. To his surprise she offered him a cigaret, then a moment later shook two or three into his hand.

"Since we're both lost on a desert island and sharing rations," she said.

"Thanks awf'ly," he replied. "Mine got into a mush while I was crossing the river."

"I heard shots," she mentioned. "Was there some trouble?"

"Not at all," he laughed. "A couple of Mexicans shooting at me. They had their fun, and they missed me by a city block. I've always heard Mexicans can't hit the side of a barn and I know it now," he added, to make light of his experience. "What do you mean, both of us lost? Haven't you been here before?"

"No. The ranch is very large and the jungle deceptive. Several of our men have lost themselves in it. I was hunting and I ought to have brought a compass with me, but I did not."

"You don't know the way back to your home?"

ROLL YOUR OWN ROLLS; ALL YOU KNEAD IS DOUGH

Pastry Type Determined by Way It's Cut.

Given a good recipe for yeast rolls, a woman may be fancy-free to shape them as she chooses. The same dough will make Parkerhouse, butterhorn, crescent, cloverleaf, bowknot, foldover rolls, and others, too, for the name of the roll describes shape, not ingredients.

PARKERHOUSE ROLLS are shaped by rolling the dough out thinly, cutting it in rounds, spreading the rounds with butter, creasing each round through the center, and folding the two halves together.

How to Make Butterhorns.

BUTTERHORN AND CRESCENT ROLLS may be made thus: Roll dough into a circular sheet like pie crust, about a fourth inch thick. Cut into pie shaped wedges, eight to a circle. Spread with melted butter and roll from the wide end, pressing the tip against the roll to keep it from unraveling. For butterhorns leave the rolls as they now are; for crescents, curl the shaped rolls into half-moons.

CLOVERLEAF ROLLS are simplest of all. Shape the dough into small balls by rolling between the palms. Dip each ball into melted butter and arrange in groups of three in greased muffin pans. Twosome rolls may be made in the same manner, using only two balls to a muffin cup.

BOWKNOT ROLLS are partyfied, and dainty. Roll the dough to a fourth inch in thickness and cut into strips a half inch wide and six inches long. Brush lightly with melted butter and tie each strip in a knot, leaving the ends free. These are wonderful with marmalade for tea.

Foldovers are Easy.

FOLDOVER ROLLS start out in the same way, from a sheet of dough rolled a fourth inch thick. Cut into three-inch squares. Fold opposite corners of each square to the center and press the points together firmly. Cut the squares with a pastry wheel to give a scalloped edge to the rolls.

The Tribune cooking department still has plenty of mimeographed recipes for plain and rich refrigerator rolls, which may be used to make any of these variations. A sheet containing both these recipes is available for the asking—and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address requests to Mary Meade, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

YO, HO! FOR SAILOR'S LIFE — IF THEY GET TASTY DUFF LIKE THIS

An occasional steam pudding isn't out of place even at this season of the year. This very simple Sailor's Duff is a marvel of economy. It's best served with a ginger flavored custard sauce. The pudding must be served hot.

SAILOR'S DUFF.

2 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
½ cup molasses
1½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup boiling water
1 cup raisins

Cream shortening and sugar together and beat in egg. Stir in flour which has been sifted with dry ingredients. Add water and raisins. Beat well. Place in a greased mold or baking dish and cover tightly. Steam for 1½ hours. Serve while still very hot, or reheat.

UNUSUAL SAUCE FOR STEAK MADE OF RIPE OLIVES

For an unusual steak sauce, try one made with ripe olives. It's good with any beef or veal cut.

RIPE OLIVE SAUCE.

4 tablespoons meat drippings
2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon celery salt
2-3 cup cold water
⅓ cup chopped ripe olives

Blend drippings, flour, and seasonings. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 3 minutes. Serve hot.

NOTICE TO COOKS: IT'S ANGEL FOOD CAKE TIME AGAIN

Eggs, Main Ingredient, at Lowest Price.

This is the angel food cake season. If you want to polish up your sponge and angel cake baking tricks now, when eggs are at their lowest, is the time to do it.

If you've never tried making an egg cake in your electric mixer, you've a pleasant surprise in store for you. It's possible to make beautiful tall cakes, as light and tender as any cake carefully made by hand. And it's all done in no time.

For the best method of mixing a cake mechanically, see Mary Meade's "Baking the Perfect Cake." She gives step by step procedure for mixing by hand, too.

Tables Give Answers.

And there are tables to give you the answer when something goes wrong and the cake falls, is heavy, as has a thick crust. Recipes include butter and sponge cakes, fillings, and frostings.

"Baking the Perfect Cake" is on sale for 20 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the Tribune Tower. It will be mailed for 23 cents in stamps. Address mail requests to Mary Meade.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Striking Information

Better Than Average Soup

Grated raw carrots and bread crumbs distinguish this tempting cream soup from the average. Cook 2 cups grated raw carrots and 1 minced onion in butter. Add ½ cup dry bread crumbs, 1 quart meat stock or water, salt and pepper. Simmer 20 minutes and add 1 cup evaporated milk. Heat through and serve. This will serve 6 persons.

TRY MUSHROOM EGG STUFFING FOR VARIED DISH

Most stuffed eggs are deviled eggs, but this time the eggs are stuffed with mushrooms and are a main dish for luncheon or supper. The filled eggs are served hot, of course.

HOT STUFFED EGGS.
[Serves Four.]

- 8 hard cooked eggs
- 1½ cups mushrooms
- 1 tablespoon parsley
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne
- 1⅓ cups drained, canned tomato pulp
- ¼ cup Parmesan cheese

Cut thick slices from narrow end of each egg. Carefully scoop out yolk. Sauté mushrooms and parsley in butter. Combine with mashed egg yolks and chili sauce. Add seasonings. Heap into egg whites and arrange in a greased baking dish. Pour tomato juice over eggs and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a moderately slow [325 degrees] oven for about 20 minutes.

STUFFED CANNED PIMIENTOS MAKE A BRIGHT SALAD

Had you ever thought of stuffing those little red pimientos you buy in cans? They get all flattened out in the canning process, but will open up to form perfect little cups. Stuffed with a peppy cream cheese mixture and sliced, they make a bright and beguiling salad.

STUFFED PIMIENTO SALAD.
[Serve 6.]

- 1 clove garlic
- 2 packages [3 ounce] cream cheese
- 2 teaspoons minced chives
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 1 can [4 ounce] pimientos

Rub inside of mixing bowl with cut clove of garlic. Mix cream cheese, finely chopped chives, parsley, salt, and paprika in this bowl. When smooth and thoroughly mixed, pack filling into drained pimientos. Chill until firm and cut in slices. Serve on lettuce or crisp salad greens.

WANT A SPEEDY DESSERT RECIPE? THEN, HERE IT IS

You can substitute lemon juice for lime juice in this dessert if you like, but lime is more of a novelty. The dessert is one of those speedy ones that doesn't require cooking.

LIME CREAM DESSERT.
[Serves Four.]

- ⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
- Juice of 3 limes [or 2 tablespoons lemon juice]
- Grated rind of 1 lime [or ½ lemon]
- 1 egg, separated
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1½ dozen vanilla wafers
- Shredded coconut

Mix milk and lime juice together. Fold in grated rind and beaten egg yolk. Beat egg white until stiff; beat in sugar. Fold into first mixture. Line four sherbet glasses with cookies and crumble remaining cookies. Put crums in bottom of each sherbet glass; fill with lime mixture and garnish with shredded coconut.

CURRY POWDER GIVES SCALLOPED TOMATOES TANG

Tomatoes blend with and absorb the flavors of spices so well that they sometimes seem to swallow them. Any tomato dish needs plenty of salt to bring out its flavor, and other spices will enliven the dish immensely. In this recipe for scalloped tomatoes, for instance, curry powder is the zip-giving ingredient.

CURRY SCALLOPED TOMATOES.

- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- Butter crackers, crumbled
- 1 bay leaf
- ½ teaspoon curry powder
- Salt and pepper
- 1 onion, minced
- ½ teaspoon celery seed
- 1 cup grated cheese
- Paprika

Add enough crackers to tomatoes to absorb most of the liquid. Combine with onion, bay leaf, curry powder, salt and pepper to taste, and celery seed. Place in buttered casserole dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 45 minutes.

Watch Other Girl Attract; Follow Suit

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

When young women write us that they are getting morbid because they have no beau we see plainly why they haven't one. How could a boy be attracted to a girl of such make-up?

Dot is a case in point. She is nearing twenty, has had a few dates, not particularly attractive ones. She admits to being good looking, a good dresser and very much interested in young men.

"I realize I'm young," she explains, "but because I cannot seem to attract young men as other girls do, I am getting morbid. I want to go hide in a hole in the wall. I don't want to hear other girls talking about their conquests. So, I just hide away and feel terribly blue at times."

The quickest way in the world to cure morbidity is to crowd it out of existence with activity.

Why don't you try looking hard at and listening to those girls you could hear telling of their conquests? Are they such knockouts pictorially that you could never hope to compete? Probably not. Probably have not a thing on you in this respect. But they have something you haven't got, Dot. They've got a way with the boys.

Now, instead of retiring into a corner, keep right out in circulation and learn what it is that subscribes to their winning way with boys. You've got it in you just as much as any one of those girls. But you don't catch them sneaking off like a whipped dog.

No sir-ee! They're right out there in front putting up a merry face, a twinkling eye, an encouraging smile, and a cheering tongue. That's their formula.

Hair and Hands Lead in Beauty Conversations

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

What is your answer to the query: "What are the most discussed beauty subjects of the moment?"

Our answer, we think, would be hair and hands. Our heavy mail indicates that reducing is still foremost in general woman interest and pursuit, but conversationally, hair styles and colorings, and hand beauty and nail tints absorb most interest.

Just the other day we heard that famed concert-pianist, Sascha Gorodnitzki, saying that "a woman's hands may be the clew to her character, but her fingernails are the clew to her good taste—or lack of it." There's a neat sermon in Gorodnitzki's remark. You do see nails that indicate impeccable taste and you see nails that shout a woeful lack of it.

Gorodnitzki went on to say that she's found that men don't mind long, lacquered mandarin nails on women who look the part of fragile Chinese princesses, but on the up-and-doing American woman they're as out of place as a queue hanging from a go-getter American male head.

Functional fingernail tips is the famed pianist's idea of what would be more becoming to American woman nail tips, what with modern woman's world of typewriters, automobiles, golf clubs, and homemaking demanding "functional" fingernails.

War Mothers Meet; Avoid Mention of the Last One

Ottawa, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Illinois war mothers, who gathered here today for their 19th annual convention, keep their meeting sessions free from any discussion of war. "I hope it's not mentioned," Mrs. A. Reis of Aurora, state president, told reporters. "The mothers know what it means and get nervous the minute mention is made of the subject. I lost a son in the war and know just what war means."

Simple Frock Is Graceful

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Everything about this simple frock is graceful. Both soft silk crêpes and silk and cotton sheers are perfect fabrics for this model, which has shirring under the novel shoulder yoke to lend softness to the bodice. The neckline may be either round of V. No collar is used, because it would be gilding the lily to add anything to this neckline!

The bodice drapes softly and gracefully above a trim waistline, which is encircled by a narrow sash of either the fabric or ribbon. The paneled skirt is cut for moderate flare.

This is a grand dress for all your informal social occasions, and if you like jewelry, this simple dress is a beautiful background for it.

You may use either plain shades or prints to advantage.

Style No. 2680 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measurement.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Every woman who has bemoaned the fact that she's not deft enough with her fingers to give herself a manicure that's even passing fair will love the polish remover pads. You've no idea how they simplify and speed up the process of renewing nail lacquer.

These are rounds of thin felt, or some such material, saturated in remover lotion. The ones we like best make use of a lotion that is distinctly oily, which makes it kinder to the nails than the acid ones. There are a flock of the little pads in the jar, and one is sufficient for removing enamel from the fingers of both hands.

This removal act is accomplished in an amazingly short time. And what we like best is the lack of messiness. Fussing around with cotton and a bottle is an irritation to any one as clumsy as we are. Then, too, if you put the saturated cotton down anywhere or spill any of the remover you'd better watch out when the housekeeper comes around. Usually it will ruin fabric or furniture.

These pads are packed in airproof, leakproof containers. You must be sure to replace the top securely so the solution won't dry out. For the quick change, when you must renew polish on your way out to dinner, the pads are a tremendous help. You can keep a jar in your desk. They're swell for travelers, too.

The manufacturer of these pads has a cuticle lotion that's excellent. One of its virtues has a special appeal for the business girl. It removes ink stains from the fingers! Just sprinkle a bit on cotton and rub the inky spots for a few minutes. The badge of the working girl will be completely erased. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Invite Officials to Party for Crown Prince

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE city of Chicago will be represented officially by Mayor and Mrs. Kelly at the musical and reception Consul General Reimund Baumann of Denmark and Iceland and Mrs. Baumann will give Monday night for the crown prince and princess of their countries. Postmaster and Mrs. Kruetgen will be among the guests representing the federal government.

The navy's representatives will be Rear Admiral and Mrs. Ellis, Miss Ellis, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Binford, and Capt. and Mrs. Wolleson. The army people who will be there are Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Ford, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Truesdell, Col. and Mrs. Thuis, Col. and Mrs. Newgarden, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Johnson, and Maj. and Mrs. Besse.

The party is to be given at the Woman's Athletic club at 9:30 o'clock. That would mean about half an hour later for the average party, but this one really will start promptly at the hour named. Prince Frederik and Princess Ingrid will arrive at the club at 8:15 to dine quietly with their host and hostess in the Silver room on the fourth floor. At 9:20 the royal party will ascend to the ballroom, which is on the seventh floor, and it is expected that every guest will be in his chair by that time. The musical program will commence promptly on the stroke of the half hour.

Hold Reception on Second Floor Lounge.

After the music, which will be given by American artists—Rudolph Reuter, pianist; Lois Johnston, soprano; Robert Speaker, baritone, and Jeanne Boyd, accompanist—the hosts and their royal guests will go down to the lounge on the second floor, where all the guests will be presented to the prince and his Swedish born princess.

"Your royal highness, may I introduce Mrs. Blank?" is the way in which Mr. or Mrs. Baumann will present their guests. It will be up to the prince and princess to indicate whether they will shake hands, but since they are very democratic, it is probable that they will shake the hand of every one they meet that evening.

Disagreements, jealousies, fears, all these will be forgotten that night, of course, and the consuls of many European and South American countries will be presented to the Danes. Those representatives of other countries who have accepted the Baumanns' invitation are Mrs. Lewis Bernays, wife of the British consul who is ill; the British vice consul, Robert Ross, and Mrs. Ross; German Consul Leo Baer, Cuban Consul Cesar Barranco and Mrs. Barranco, Grecian Consul and Mrs. Benetatos, Norwegian Consul and Mrs. Maseng, Norwegian Vice Consul and Mrs. Berg, Swiss Consul Ulrich Beusch, Jugo-Slavian Consul and Mrs. Cabric, Lithuanian Consul and Mrs. Dauzvards, Col. Edward Davis, the Honduran consul, and Mrs. Davis; Finnish Consul and Mrs. Forsberg, and Italian Consul and Mrs. Fontana.

Also Polish Consul and Mrs. Gawronski, Czecho-Slovakian Consul and Mrs. Holy, the consul from Uruguay and Mrs. Lebret, Gen. MacChesney, the Siamese consul, and Mrs. MacChesney; Hungarian Consul and Mrs. Medgyesy, Swedish Consul and Mrs. Oldenburg, Belgian Consul and Mrs. Rossier, French Consul and Mrs. Weiller, and Attaché Aka M. V. Sjolin of the Swedish consulate.

Stripes Are Smart for Sports Events

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Striped chambray is used for this new active or spectator sports dress, a dress that is also good for casual country life. The dove grey stripes appear against a cool white background and accentuate the slender lines of the figure. Short sleeves, convertible collar and an unusual color accent in the dubonnet red belt provide the few but telling details.

Green or Gray Are Good Colors for Background

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Two new colors that can be used for foundation backgrounds for both late spring and summer wardrobes are gray and green. These are flattering alternates for the overused navy blue or black. Building a distinctive wardrobe around either is one of the smartest ideas of the season.

Using cypress green or sage green as the basic color, you can find long coats teamed with a print dress repeating the dark green in the background of the print. For chilly days you can choose yellow or wheat colored accessories, dusty pink or copper. For warm weather nothing equals the cool charm of dead white costume accents, footgear, hat, gloves and bag.

Green and white striped cotton active sports clothes; crisp green and white dotted swiss for daytime, liberally contrasted with white; green and white checked taffeta and ginghams, together with some stunning plaids also in shades of green, and all kinds of good looking green costume accessories are now abundant all over town.

For the gray enthusiasts . . . first, a stone gray flannel long coat, nipped in at the waistline . . . a gray and white striped or gray and white printed silk suit, as a beginning. Dove gray chambray for a summer daytime outfit . . . cool gray linen in a nunlike one-piece dress . . . for hot weather a pale gray organdy two-piece short sleeved outfit with angelic accents of sheer white. For dinner, a romantic clinging gray chiffon with French cerise color notes, or the gleam of bright silver in wide belt and slippers worn with snood of orange with dozens of orange colored bows like butterflies over the hair.

For a Sunday go-to-meeting dress a precise gray and white checked paper thin taffeta with quaker frills of white at the collar and around the wrists of the long sleeves.

Fashion photograph. . . . The first of the crisp gray and white chambray spectator sports dresses. Widely spaced dove gray stripes are smart against cool white when the color accent is a dubonnet lether belt. Short sleeves, meticulous tailoring, and a convertible collar all combine to keep the dress a classic selection for daytime country wear or for active as well as spectator sports wear.

LONDON, April 20.—Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain has banned fashionable short skirts from her wardrobe for the American-Canadian tour. This was revealed tonight after she had spent five hours with dressmakers at Buckingham palace trying on new outfits.

The design of the dresses is a closely guarded secret, but fashion experts say the queen is taking several crinoline evening frocks, though not all new ones. Shoes are being made in court style, with rounded toes and extra high heels to give added stature.

To contrast with her evening wear, the queen's day clothes will be plain, consisting of dresses and coats to match. Skirt hems will be eight or ten inches from the floor at the most, instead of the present fashion of anything up to sixteen inches.

The advisability of sending King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth across the Atlantic in a passenger ship instead of the battle cruiser Repulse again is the subject of discussion tonight. The Beaverbrook Press, which has been clamoring for cancelation of the trip, now points out that with the Repulse due to take the king and queen to America and the Renown being rebuilt, Britain will have only one battle cruiser, the Hood, on hand in the event of an emergency. "The Repulse should stay where it is needed," the Daily Express argues in its Friday morning issue.

The quarters of the club, membership of which is made up of college fraternity folk, have been completely refurnished as well as remodeled. A game room, a library, and a new cocktail lounge have been added.

Interfraternity Club to Open New Quarters with "April Formal"

The newly remodeled quarters of the Interfraternity club on the top floor of the La Salle hotel will be opened tomorrow night with an "April formal."

The chairman for the evening is George Ladley Martin. Hosts and hostesses for the celebration are Mr. and Mrs. Perry D. Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander D. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Mints.

Letter of Askance.

Christopher Morley's new book, Letters of Askance, probably drew its name from a letter the author's daughter once wrote, according to Anna Hansmeier O'Connor, who writes in the tale after reading mention of the book in this space.

When his daughter was 12 and her allowance had been increased to twenty-five cents a week she began answering advertisments in magazines in order to receive mail. An advertisment promising fine returns on bets on horse races caught her eye, and she sent in a dollar, which she wanted placed on a hundred to one shot. Angered and disappointed at the results, she sat down to write a letter. She was interrupted and the unfinished epistle was found by her father. It read:

Sir: You have stolen my dollar and I am writing you a letter of askance . . .

Urban Album.

Arthur Treacher, famous butler in the movies, taking his derby-hatted, six-foot-four self down State street toward the Chicago theater. . . . Pierre Roy, French painter, stopping to admire the pictures at the Chicago Art institute on his way back to Paris after a 17,000 mile jaunt to make two sketches for a pineapple company's advertisment. He will do the pictures when he gets back home. . . . Collector Richard Goetz, whose famous Tintoretto, now on exhibit at Knoedler's in New York, never before shown in America, shortly will be at the Art institute for six months. A boy and girl on the bench in the Renoir gallery absorbed in the funnies. . . . Picketer in front of store on Roosevelt road doing a crossword puzzle as he paced up and down. . . . Woman in book department inquiring for that new book of Steinbeck's, Sour Grapes.

In Memoriam Bessie Bennett.

Outstanding among the memorabilia of the week were the eighteenth century flower arrangements at the memorial services held at the Art institute for the late Bessie Bennett, for many years curator of decorative arts at the institute. Eighteenth century silver urns held just such an arrangement of flowers as are found in the flower pieces painted during the period. Deep red snapdragons, the long slender spears of ixia topped with clusters of white blossoms with crimson centers; red, and, pink, and yellow tulips, blue larkspur and iris, the purples of cineraria, and the delicate pink of wild roses were combined in the arrangements. Smaller arrangements repeated the colors on antique tables and chests down the sides of gallery M-6, off Hutchinson court, with its Milles fountain.

The flower arrangements were as thoughtful a tribute to Miss Bennett as the words spoken during the services.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Erwin of Oak Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Roger Boyd Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Evans of New Rochelle, N. Y. The wedding will take place in the fall. Miss Erwin is a graduate of Mount Holyoke college, and Mr. Evans was graduated from Lawrenceville school and Princeton university.

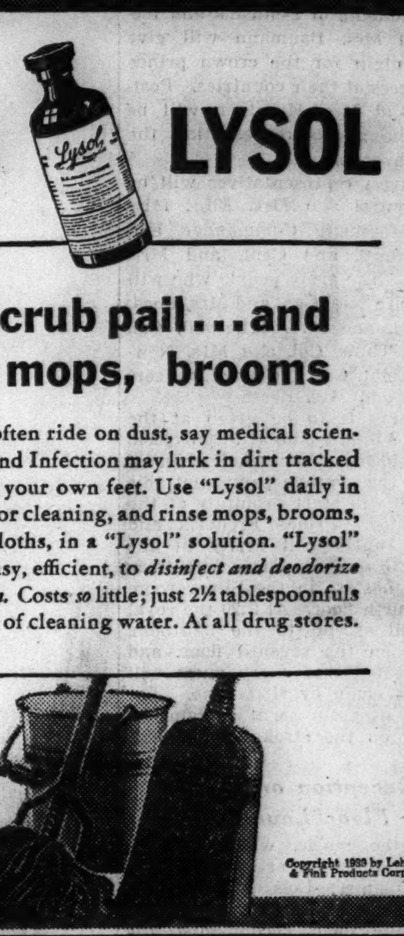
Mr. and Mrs. James Chester Woodley of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Belle, to Kingsley Phelps Karnopp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Karnopp of Winnetka.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert E. Hume of New York have announced the engagment of their daughter, Jane Williams, to James Patton McCormick, son of Mrs. James P. McCormick of Winnetka and the late Dr. McCormick.

Miss Hume, a graduate of Mount Holyoke college, attended Oxford university last year and is studying at the Columbia law school. Mr. McCormick was graduated from Northwestern university and is on the faculty of Wayne university.

The wedding will take place this summer.

Use LYSOL



in scrub pail...and on mops, brooms

GERMS often ride on dust, say medical scientists, and Infection may lurk in dirt tracked in even by your own feet. Use "Lysol" daily in the water for cleaning, and rinse mops, brooms, cleaning cloths, in a "Lysol" solution. "Lysol" makes it easy, efficient, to disinfect and deodorize as you clean. Costs so little; just 2½ tablespoonfuls to a gallon of cleaning water. At all drug stores.

Both Parents Should Agree on Guidance

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Mom, can I go to the movies?"

"Not tonight, Jim. You know you haven't touched your homework."

"Aw, mom, I want to see the show. The kids say it's swell. Please, mom."

"You can go tomorrow afternoon, dear. It's on for four days. You know how low your arithmetic mark was last month."

Here dad comes into the living room, lighting his pipe.

"What's all this?"

"I just want to go to the movies, dad, and mom says I can't."

"Why not, Mary?"

"John," says mother patiently, "Jim nearly failed in arithmetic last month and he has yesterday's and today's homework to do. I told him he could go tomorrow afternoon. The picture will be on."

"But dad, I want to go tonight. Sam and Hal are going. Can't I, dad?"

"O, let the boy go, Mary. You're too strict with him. Here, son, here's a quarter. Now scram."

Seen on the printed page, as I have presented this problem today, isn't it clear that argument, bickering, disagreement in management are distinctly unwise?

Stand together before your children. If you must disagree about them, do so privately. But better, try to find some working basis. Get together. Each compromise a little, and decide on a general scheme of managing them. And, if possible, when one has started to handle a situation let the other keep out of it.

"What Shall We Do About Homework?" is a leaflet of interest to parents and teachers. Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

The Housewife

You can brighten your clothes closet and give it a fresh, new tailored look by ranging a set of matching, chintz covered hat boxes and utility boxes along its shelves and by hanging matching garment bags from its hooks or poles.

These sets come in glossy black with a floral design in bright pink, white, and green; in green with a pattern in beige and wine, and in brown tones. If you're going to repaint your closet it would be fun to have it match one of the colors in these pretty boxes. EDITH WEIGLE.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

The Mirror.

Hollywood, Cal., April 20.—What nonfiction book tops all others in Beverly Hills' sales? . . . Hitler's "Mein Kampf." . . . Martindale's store, where most of the flicker colony go to get their books, tells me that they've sold more than a hundred copies within the last few weeks. . . . "Grapes of Wrath" tops the fiction sales this week. . . . Rochester [Eddie Anderson] will take out a wedding license any minute.

Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh discussing the Mediterranean war maneuvers between scenes on the "Gone with the Wind" set. . . . This picture at last is beginning to shape up and for the first time the attitude on the Selznick lot is that the film has been licked. . . . The atmosphere of tension, so plainly marked only a few weeks back, has completely disappeared . . . even serious David Oliver Selznick has relaxed.

You can always sense when a picture is in trouble—director, producer, and players all indicate it. . . . When a picture is flowing easily, you can "feel" it the minute you walk on a set.

Local golf club bulletin boards warn you not to drop your cigarets on the course if you intend to pick 'em up again. Reason being that most southern California courses at the moment are using an arsenic preparation to kill parasitic growths. . . . June Collyer and Stu Erwin, who runs Ned Sparks a close second for gravity. . . . Douglas Fairbanks Jr. congratulating Tyrone Power [they took out wedding licenses within a few hours of each other]. . . . Boris Karloff chasing his hat in front of the Beverly-Wilshire.

In the old days we had golf widows. Out here the wives complain that they are radio widows, because their hubbies are forever rehearsing their programs. . . . Deanna Durbin chatting with John Steinberg in the Victor Hugo foyer. . . . Felix Young busy with plans for the Trocadero reopening.

Darryl Zanuck in a huddle with Al Jolson. . . . Paramount's Bob Gillam and Joel McCrea looking at Omaha time tables. . . . Perspiring, shirt sleeved newspaper boys yelling out their papers: "East buried under snowdrifts."

A funny looking hat, with Bing Crosby under it. . . . He's the Mad Hatter of Hollywood. . . . Greta Garbo looking at the marquee of a theater advertising the Louis-Roper pictures, but she doesn't enter. . . . Mrs. Rathbone calls to say that Ronald Colman sent a check for $100 to the Ann Lehr fund. . . . Parkyakarkus will be a proud parent about May 1.

Patricia Ziegfeld with her Bill Stevenson at Club Bali. . . . Queenie Smith with Casey Roberts. . . . Slip Madigan, St. Mary's famed coach, with Dr. Deno O'Connor of Chicago at the Vine street Brown Derby. . . . Friends congratulating Mervyn Le Roy on his appearance on the Cantor program [Le Roy did not appear; Irving Brecher doubling for him]. . . . Winnie Sheehan attending the local fights with Junior Laemmle.

Six weeks more scoring before "Wizard of Oz" will be previewed. . . . Madeleine Carroll with her agent, Bert Allenberg, Allenberg groaning to her because his golf has gone sour. . . . Zeppo Marx matching pennies with Barbara Stanwyck. . . . Prince Mike Romanoff with a very pretty girl at the Beverly Brown Derby. . . . Vi Andrews and her husky hubby with Mrs. Leon Belaser and Cy Ritter. . . . Carl Brisson's son, Fred, with Ann Sheridan.

Geraldine Fitzgerald getting her tickets to Ireland at a Beverly travel bureau. . . . Gene Markey, Hedy Lamarr Janet Gaynor, and Adrian at a drive-in eatery. . . . Errol Flynn and Big Boy Williams stagging it. . . . Mrs. Al Ritz studying the Bowie race entries, because she and Ida Cantor had a tip on a nag. [It lost.]

On the M.-G.-M. lot, Director Sam Wood, King Vidor, and Jack Conway, three American directors who went to London and clicked mightily. . . . Wood directed "Goodbye Mr. Chips," Vidor scored with "The Citadel," and Conway four starred with "Yank at Oxford." . . . Greatest asset in London, Wood tells me, is that the finest British actors will play small parts provided the parts have some meat to them. . . . "They read the part without wondering how LONG it is," he says. . . . "As a result the smallest parts in pictures made abroad are gems of characterization because you can get the A1 actors to play them."

I asked him about Robert Donat. . . . "He's more like Spencer Tracy than any performer I've directed. There's nothing he won't do to improve his work." . . . Greatest drawback to American directors in London is that they are not permitted to import their camera men or camera crews from Hollywood, a ban having been slapped on American technicians in the last year.

yesterday, when the Queen Mary arrived, to welcome home her daughters, Evelyn and Kitty Lawrence, who left their European schools earlier than planned in answer to a cable from their mother.

Evelyn, who was in school in Florence, and Kitty, who was in Lausanne, will be debutantes of the coming season. The trio will remain in New York for a brief visit with Mrs. Rowe's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hickox, before returning to Chicago next Tuesday.

The infant daughter born on Tuesday at St. Luke's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Platt has been named for her mother, the former Elizabeth Harrison Leavitt, and is the fifth to bear those names. Mrs. Platt is the daughter of the Franklin Leavitts of St. Louis.

Second Son Born to Alexander MacKenzies.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Innes MacKenzie of Evanston are being congratulated on the birth of a second son on April 6 at the Presbyterian hospital. No name has been chosen for the baby, whose 4 year old brother is Alexander Jr.

Following the last concert this season of the Chicago Symphony orchestra the Cliff Dwellers and the Cordon will serve teea this afternoon. Instead of women pouring at the Cliff Dwellers, past presidents will take turns at the tea tables: Irving K. Pond, Thomas E. Tallmadge, and Herbert E. Hyde.

The innovation was the idea of Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, chairman of the club's tea committee. Dr. Frederick Stock, conductor of the symphony orchestra, will be the especial guest.

Members of the Country Club of Evanston and their guests will be entertained tonight by fellow members. The floor show to be given during a dinner-dance at the club will be given by members and has been written by members. Miss Betty Lindsay, Mrs. Edward M. Tourtelot Jr., and Mrs. Roger Sherman are among those who will take part.

The Lake Forest academy's midwinter festivities, which were postponed from Washington's birthday because of Chicago's flu epidemic, will be held this week-end in the form of a spring festival. Durand House, one of the school's dormitories, will be turned over to the boys' feminine guests and their chaperones for tonight and tomorrow.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

If every error came home to roost in terms of points we would soon see an enormous improvement in the general caliber of bridge. Unfortunately, however, the error of one player often is put aright by a subsequent error on the part of his opponents, with the result that the first player never finds out that he made a mistake. In today's hand, for example, the contract was "kicked around" by both declarer and defenders as though it were a football.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 diamonds	2 spades	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

West's two diamond overcall was the sort of bid that makes experts shudder. Not that they would pass with West's hand, but they never would be guilty of making a bid that had so much to lose and so little to gain. They would work on the principle that the one outstanding chance to "get anywhere" with the East-West hands was for West to invite a heart bid from partner. Hence, they would double one spade for a take-out rather than make the ambiguous and probably ineffectual minor suit overcall. As it happened, even though East had a five card heart suit headed by the king, he could not have taken much action and North-South still would have landed the contract, but that is neither here nor there. The fact is that West should have selected his bid with more logic.

Against the four spade contract West could find no sounder opening than a trump. Declarer won in his own hand and drew a second round, then led a club toward dummy. West went right up with the ace and, unwilling to start the heart or diamond suits, exited with his remaining club. This gave declarer a chance to get rid of one of his heart losers, which he promptly proceeded to do on dummy's fourth club. West discarded the nine of hearts on the third club and then, intent on telling East that he [West] also had excellent diamonds, blatantly discarded the nine of diamonds on the fourth club. Now declarer attempted to strip hearts from dummy and his own hand. He led the seven spot, praying that East would not put up a high card which would permit him to shift to diamonds. East obliged and declarer's ten spot lost to West's queen. Now West laid down the heart ace. Declarer ruffed and entered dummy with a trump, then led the eight of diamonds. East, realizing that his partner was about to be thrown on lead, tried to save the ship by covering with the ten.

If declarer had paid the slightest attention to West's previous discard of the diamond nine he now could have assured his contract by covering the ten with the queen. West, on winning with the king, would have to return a diamond from his J-6 up to declarer's A-7, or another heart that would permit a ruff and discard. But now the declarer came forward with a beautiful "bull" of his own to cover up the slips previously made by the defenders. Perhaps he forgot that the nine of diamonds was gone. Perhaps he hoped that East's ten spot was a singleton. I cannot be sure of his reason, but I do know that he deliberately played the seven on East's ten, permitting it to hold the trick! East promptly returned his remaining diamond and declarer's contract went up the flue.

Consider the variety of errors that took place in the play of this hand! First, West permitted declarer to discard a heart on dummy's club. [I am not inclined to stress this point since it might have been fatal for West to have shifted to a heart and, of course, it would have been fatal for him to have shifted to a diamond.] Second, West let go the nine of diamonds. Third, East failed to rise with the heart king when the heart seven was played from dummy. And, finally, in order to return victory to the defenders, where it belonged in the first place, declarer overlooked a sure throw-in play. As I have said, this was more like football than bridge!

Inspired Music Ends Thursday Concert Series

BY EDWARD BARRY.

In an Orchestra hall filled with such splendor that the most sophisticated subscriber could hardly have remained unmoved, the Thursday concerts of the Chicago Symphony orchestra last night came grandly to an end. Among us others—the unsophisticated and enthusiastic majority—feeling ran so high that demonstrations became the rule rather than the exception before the evening was done.

The splendor was musical. Frederick Stock and his men played as if possessed. In the Brahms First symphony alone were more heart storming bits of eloquence than a whole three evenings of average music making are likely to bring forth. Again and again conductor and orchestra completely transcended the business of time beating and instrument playing and gave us instead blinding and wildly exciting glimpses of an ultimate musical reality.

That is, they pierced to what Brahms was trying to say, grasped it themselves emotionally, and succeeded in externalizing it magnificently. Those searchingly lovely nuances of tempo and tone were examples of the genuine article, for they resulted directly from the performers' understanding of and identification with the music and were none of them dragged in by the hair of the head.

Never an exponent of the dead pan school of conducting, Mr. Stock permitted himself a satisfied little smile at the symphony's conclusion. "You ain't never heard a better show than that," it seemed mischievously to say. And the applause and the "Bravos" answered "No, we never."

The excitement engendered by Brahms [and by the Beethoven "Coriolanus" overture which had preceded it] lasted all through the second half of the evening. The brasses which had spoken so solemnly and in so genuinely epic a fashion in the symphony devoted themselves now to the task of evoking, among other things, the windy and exalted feeling tone of the last act of "The Twilight of the Gods."

For this post-intermission period was given over entirely to Wagner. The tremendous story of the love and the death of Tristan and Isolde was adequately synopsized in the Prelude and Love Death from that music drama. And the evening closed with the lordliest and most golden music that even Wagner was ever able to produce—the overture to his single comedy, "Die Meistersinger."

At the end of the concert Mr. Stock thanked his virtuoso group for its work, acknowledged handsomely the coöperation of Associate Conductor Hans Lange, and promised that the orchestra would be on hand for the Evanston Music festival in May and the Ravinia season this summer. Edward L. Ryerson, president of the Orchestral association, bespoke the continued and even increased support of the city for the ambitious projects of next year.

This afternoon the program of last evening will be repeated. Tomorrow night a special popular concert will bring to a close the Chicago Symphony orchestra's forty-eighth season.

Apostolic Delegation Opens New Home in Washington

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—The new $550,000 home of the Apostolic delegation was opened today. The spacious stone building is on Massachusetts avenue not far from the British and other embassies.

Central Eleanor Club.

The Central Eleanor club will give its annual spring dinner for the juniors at 6 o'clock this evening at headquarters, 16 North Wabash avenue.

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Mark O'Dea of Millwood, N. Y., formerly of Winnetka, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcia, to LeRoy Thrift Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy O. Gordon of Ossining, N. Y.

Miss O'Dea was educated at the Scarborough school, La Ruche, in Paris, and at Smith college. Mr. Gordon is a graduate of the Stevens Preparatory school and of the Stevens Institute of Technology. The wedding will take place in June.

The engagement of Miss Margaret Vail to Edwin Birrell Payne, son of Mrs. Edwin Birrell Payne and the late Mr. Payne of Hutchinson, Kas., has been announced by Miss Vail's mother, Mrs. Arthur Hamilton Vail of 5136 Kimbark avenue. The wedding will take place June 24 in Bond chapel of the University of Chicago. The young couple will make their home in Philadelphia, where Mr. Payne is in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Apter, 2212 East 68th street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion Gertrude, to Irving Allan Zisook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Zisook, 4800 Greenwood avenue. Miss Apter attended the Art institute, and Mr. Zisook attended the University of Chicago and De Paul university.

BRITISH BOXERS TAKE LEAD IN GOLDEN GLOVES MEET

SIX STILL LEFT AFTER SECOND NIGHT'S FIGHTS

2 Champions Lose in Dublin.

The Survivors

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, April 20.—The number of contestants each nation has remaining in the All-European amateur boxing tournament after two nights of fighting follow:

Great Britain	6	Sweden	4
Germany	5	Finland	3
Italy	5	Belgium	3
Ireland	4	Hungary	2
Poland	4	Estonia	2

BY STEWART OWEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, April 20.—Three British victories and the defeat of two former international Golden Glovers marked the second night's fighting in the European amateur boxing tournament in the Irish National stadium tonight.

The triumphs of the Britons were somewhat surprising to the big crowd. The squad was not expected to have much chance for the titles after the elimination of Cyril Gallie, great Welsh lightweight who was beaten in the opening round last night.

Great Britain now has six fighters left to go into the third night and the team is confident it will be represented on the All-European squad which will meet Chicago's Golden Gloves champions in Chicago Stadium on May 12. In tonight's battling Poland and Germany each scored two victories. Sweden, getting into action for the first time, and Ireland also were victorious in two bouts. Italy, Estonia, and Belgium each won one bout.

Polish Heavyweight Beaten.

The two defeated former Golden Glovers were Michael Murach of Germany, welterweight member of the European squad which fought Chicago two years ago, and Stanislaw Pilat, heavyweight champion of the Polish squad, which lost to Chicago's titleholders in 1934.

Pilat's conqueror was another former Golden Glover, Herbert Runge of Germany, twice runner-up for the European heavyweight crown. Murach was beaten by Dick Thomas of Great Britain. Thomas met the German's bull-like rushes with skilful boxing to gain the decision after three fast rounds. The veteran Pilat had no chance against Runge, Great Britain's first victory was scored by Jamie Watson, featherweight brother of Bob Watson, who competed in last night's bouts. Jamie lacked the skill of his opponent, D. Frigyes of Hungary, but launched a two fisted attack which kept the Hungarian retreating throughout. The other British victory was scored by Arthur Porter, who stopped Peter Van Deuren, Belgian heavyweight, in the second round with a vicious two handed attack.

Irish Boxer Wins First Bout.

Featherweight boxers opened the program with Pat Dowdall of Ireland gaining a decision over August Graaf of Germany in three fast rounds. The two clever boxing boys mixed it vigorously in the final round. T. Genot of Belgium won a decision over K. Tregers of Latvia in a bout which was almost a duplicate of the Graaf-Dowdall match.

Dowdall's victory qualified him to appear in the semi-finals against Jamie Watson. Genot will meet An-

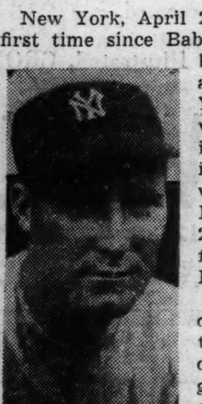
YANKEES AND ATHLETICS WIN IN 2-0 SHUTOUTS

Ruffing and Caster Beat Red Sox, Senators.

New York, April 20.—(AP)—For the first time since Babe Ruth was the big gun of their artillery, the New York Yankees won their American league opening game today, whipping the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 0, despite fine pitching by Bob Grove.



Red Ruffing.

Grove made only two mistakes, and they cost him the game. In the second inning he grooved one for Bill Dickey, who knocked it into the lower right field seats for a homer. In the fifth he tossed another good one to Jake Powell. Powell sent it into the right field corner for three bases to score Red Rolfe.

Meantime, with 30,278 fans on hand to see the first game of the season for the three time world champions, Red Ruffing set the Red Sox down with seven hits.

Brucker, Caster's battery mate throughout their major league careers, batted in one run off Jimmy De Shong with a first inning double and scored the second himself on an infield out after opening the fourth inning with a single.

Love flies out of the window

We've had so many depressions,
But we never seem to fall,
We used to buy a lot of things
We didn't need at all.

We've had to do without.

COLLINS' HOMER AIDS AS ANGELS WIN 18TH IN ROW

Los Angeles, Cal., April 20.—[Special.]—Jim [Ripper] Collins' seventh home run of the season, hit with two men on bases, helped the Los Angeles Angels score their eighteenth straight victory today by beating the San Diego Padres, 9 to 5, in a Pacific Coast league game. One more victory will tie the league mark set by the Seattle club in 1903.

San Diego took a 2-1 lead in the first half of the third inning when Rip Collins' throw to the plate arrived too late to prevent Williams from scoring. The Angels came back with a six run rally in their half of the inning. Jigger Statz opened with a homer. Collins scored three more by knocking his circuit drive to tally English and Moore. Rothrock, Cihocki, R. Collins, and Lieber then hit to add two more runs. Van Fleet and Lieber pitched for the Angels. The Padres used four hurlers.

WHITNEY ENTRY RUNS ONE-TWO IN DERBY TEST RACE

Arcaro Scores Easily on Third Degree.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 20.—Mrs. Payne Whitney today brought out another one of her Kentucky Derby candidates which hadn't run since last fall. The horse was Third Degree, which had campaigned against El Chico, Challedon, Eight Thirty, and other high class juveniles at Belmont, Saratoga, and Pimlico. Third Degree won with ease today, Eddie Arcaro bringing him home at a lope, half a length ahead of his stablemate, Roll and Toss. Tom Taggart's Yale O'Nine, the third Derby candidate in the field, finished fourth.

The race was little more than a good workout for Third Degree, for the opposition wasn't strong enough to extend him. He ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46 2-5, which was 3 1-5 seconds over the record.

Whitney Horses Set Pace.

Thus far in the Keeneland meeting Greentree stable has been able to dominate most of the events which have brought out Derby candidates. Mrs. Whitney won with Hash yesterday and with Roll and Toss on opening day.

The crowd couldn't see any way of beating the Greentree horses today, so the entry was backed down to one to four in the mutuels. It paid off at $2.60 to win.

No other horse was able to get near the Whitney pair from start to finish. Roll and Toss went out on top and led the way around the first turn, with Third Degree close beside him. They ran in that order until the sixteenth pole, when Arcaro sent Third Degree past his stablemate. Third Degree was drawing away as they crossed the line.

Opelika Out of Derby.

Opelika, J. Cal Milam's Kentucky Derby and Preakness candidate, was declared out of both races today because of an injury suffered Tuesday. The colt struck his knee against the starting gate while awaiting the start of a race, broke late and finished sixth in a field of ten. Milam said Opelika was the most promising 3 year old he ever prepped for the Derby. He has another Derby eligible, Decatur.

Tom Young, who is campaigning quite a few horses at the Keeneland course, was talking things over with some of his friends in the lobby of

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Ted Lyons, the White Sox pitching veteran who refuses to grow old, will have the honor of facing the Browns in Comiskey park today in the south side club's opening game. Ted came to the Sox direct from the Baylor campus in 1923 and has been on the pay roll ever since.

Cubs Rained Out 3d Time; to St. Louis

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Now let those White Sox see if they can get the major league baseball season under way in Chicago. The Cubs made a valiant try yesterday after being encouraged all morning by brilliant sunshine. When the crowd started to assemble in Wrigley field, however, rain busted loose and at 3 o'clock the thing was called off and the Cubs prepared to embark for St. Louis. They are scheduled to help the Cardinals open their home season this afternoon.

The postponement was the third and last of the scheduled opening series with the Cincinnati Reds. It was the seventh straight washout for the Cubs since they returned from their exhibition tour, four games that were to have been played with the White Sox having been splashed away.

It will be quite a spell before Chicago fans get a chance to see the alert Reds. They will not be back to Chicago until June 30. The Cubs, however, are scheduled to play in Cincinnati April 27 and 28.

Every effort was made to get the opener out of the way yesterday. If there had been any slackening in the rain the athletes would have proceeded. When it became apparent that the same old story was in the making, Vice President Charles Weber of the Cubs, General Manager Giles of the Reds, Managers Hartnett and McKechnie and Umpire in Chief John Reardon held a meeting and decided to give up.

It was said at headquarters that the tickets bought for Tuesday will be good whenever the opener is played, possibly next Monday against the Pittsburgh Pirates. The same is true of rain checks from tickets presented yesterday. Refunds also are made on request.

Hartnett said he would stick by the lineup he had announced when it appeared yesterday's game could be played. Bill Lee will pitch and Gus Mancuso will catch. Stan Hack will play third, Billy Herman second, Jim Gleeson left, Hank Leiber center, Joe Marty right, Phil Cavarretta first and Dick Bartell expects to be able to play short.

DYKES CHOOSES TED LYONS TO FACE NEWSOM

Lose to Tigers, 8-7, in 14 Innings.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox, weary from slogging around in the mire of Detroit's Briggs stadium, will arrive at the 53d street station of the Michigan Central at 7:07 this morning and scatter at once to their quarters to get what rest they may before opening their home season with the St. Louis Browns in Comiskey park at 3 p. m.

Although they dropped the two games they played against the Tigers they do not feel the showing was an indication of their possible showing in the American league race, because of the Detroit weather.

The Boys Did Their Best.

Ted Lyons will pitch today, although Manager Jimmy Dykes would prefer to have the veteran make his season debut in weather more favorable to his ageing arm. Dykes was forced to use John Whitehead, Jack Knott, Clint Brown, and Thornton Lee in losing to the Tigers, 8 to 7, in fourteen innings yesterday, which leaves Teddy as the only man he feels confident can match the skill of Buck Newsom, who will start for the Browns.

In Detroit yesterday the Sox did the best they could about heralding, in gala style, their approach toward today's homecoming, but their best wasn't quite enough. Twice they rallied under a big handicap of runs to throw themselves back into the ball game. In the ninth inning they finally reached a tie and then battled their way heroically until that Hank Greenberg fellow stepped up in the fourteenth inning with a homer that gave the Tigers a sweep of the two game series.

John Has Trouble.

The main difficulty with the Sox in their efforts to get started for home with their No. 1 victory of the season was a weakness in the pitching department. Chief among those who failed was Whitehead, who didn't seem to have what it takes, a fact eloquently attested to by one dozen hits off his delivery in five innings. Then Knott did an unhappy turn of one inning, Brown an impressive two inning act, and finally came Lee, who after five successful innings succumbed to Greenberg's power.

During Whitehead's five inning régime, five Tigers skipped across the plate on those dozen hits. Meanwhile, the Chicagoans were in the grasp of one Alton Benton, who beat them twice last season. For four innings Benton didn't permit even one man to reach base, but in the fifth the Sox finally tagged him for two hits and as many runs. Then they rapped him for four runs in the seventh and chased him in the eighth. But from this point to the end the Sox came up with only two hits off Roxie Lawson, leaving the final tabu-

MRS. HILL OFFERS SOME IDEAS FOR WOMEN IN GOLF

Open Tournament Play First on Her Platform.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Open tournaments for women golfers? Why not, asked Mrs. Opal S. Hill yesterday as she arrived here from one of the lectures which make up a part of her duties as business woman golfer. The subject of open competition among the feminine swingers is becoming an increasingly interesting one on the tournament circuits, and the Kansas City veteran was quick to voice her views on it.

Mrs. Hill, for years one of the ablest competitors in golf, became a field representative for the Wilson Sporting Goods company last October. Since then she has traveled nigh onto 11,000 miles, delivering lectures and giving demonstrations before clubs and associations, and attending a majority of the winter tournaments for women.

Women's Open Golf? Decidedly.

Mrs. Hill feels that there is a place in women's golf for open competition. She pointed out that there are now two open tournaments on the tournament schedule, the annual event conducted by the Women's Western Golf association and the Augusta, Ga., open.

"A schedule of open events as a regular part of the competitive season would be a fine thing for the game," Mrs. Hill offered. "Above all else, it would increase the standard of competition, which is the life of any sport. Furthermore, a number of the top flight women golfers are of a mind to welcome open events. Among them is Patty Berg, the present national champion, who has said that she would feel herself a real champion if she met all comers."

It Would Be a Free for All.

If a national women's open tournament should ever come to be a reality, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, and Mrs. Mildred Didrickson Zaharias, the three leading American business women players, would be permitted to match shots against such amateurs stars as Miss Berg, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Dorothy Kirby, Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, and others. From England could come Joyce Wethered and Enid Wilson.

Asked her views on the recent letter sent out by the amateur status committee of the United States Golf association, warning girl tournament players about accepting free or low rate arrangements from the resorts and hotels which conduct events, Mrs. Hill said that she is in favor of giving such players a proportionate rate. Many of the better players, she said, would be unable to pay the higher fees which the regular and naturally more well-to-do guests do at these hotels.

Favors Stable Tourney Rules.

Uniformity in the conduct of the winter tournaments for women was another issue brought up by the Missourian.

If it were possible to organize an association governing all of these tourneys, Mrs. Hill would recommend that matches be played either all in the morning or all in the afternoon. U. S. G. A. rules would be in effect for every event, and the approved pairings for the sixteen or thirty-two players would be used in making up the match play brackets. The schedule of the tournaments would be such that the itinerary of the players would be made more convenient and naturally less expensive.

In between her various duties as lecturer and consultant, Mrs. Hill has not forgotten how to swing a club. In winning the recent Asheville open, she shot a 70 for a new course record in the title match.

The pleasant Kansas City matron has one of the best records in American golf. She has won the women's western closed three times, the western open twice, the national qualifying medal three times, and twice has been in the national semi-finals.

Reach Semi-Final Round of Women's Squash Play

Mrs. E. C. Grelle, Evelyn Bouscaren, Mrs. George Leahy and Mrs. P. A. Clements advanced to the semi-finals of the first annual western women's squash tournament on the Chicago Town and Tennis club courts yesterday. Mrs. Grelle will oppose Miss Bouscaren and Mrs. Leahy will play Mrs. Clements in the semi-final round this morning. The winners will meet for the championship this afternoon.

WHITNEY IS TOO BUSY; DISBANDS OLD WESTBURY

New York, April 20.—(AP)—A new American open polo champion will be crowned this year as the result of C. V. Whitney's announcement today that he was disbanding his powerful old Westbury team.

Whitney gave pressure of business as the reason for breaking up probably the strongest team that ever held the American championship. Handicapped at six goals, Whitney rode at back with three ten-goal players, Stewart Iglehart, Michael Phipps and Cecil Smith, in front of him.

All three ten-goal players are candidates for the American team, which will meet the British four in an international series at the Meadow Brook club in June.

Pabst Bowlers Roll 3,032 for 5th in A. B. C.

Cleveland, O., April 20.—[Special.]—The Pabst Blue Ribbons of Chicago rolled into fifth place in the American Bowling congress tournament tonight by getting 3,032 on games of 966, 1,056, and 1,010.

Paul Krumske drew an 8-10 split on a pocket hit in the tenth frame of the last game, which cost the Chicago lineup second place.

Herbie Freitag, lead-off man, paced the squad with 685. Herbie kept the team in the running when he opened with 237. He scored 203 in the second game despite a No. 6 pin error in the tenth frame. He finished with 245. The Pabst squad had ten errors and ten splits in the three games. Adolph Carlson was low man with 557; Joe Sinke collected 602; Les Fuller, 616, and Krumske, 572.

The Elizabeth, N. J., Elks rolled up 3,066 to take second place. The easterners shot 990, 981, and 1,095.

Chicago's Schlitz, off to a slow 900 start, closed with 1,004 and 983 to total 2,887.

The White City Recreation team of Chicago scored 2,932, closing with 1,059 after games of 919 and 954.

MAT PROMOTERS TESTIFY COST OF 'GOOD WILL' HIGH

Sacramento, Cal., April 20.—[Special.]—The assembly committee investigating California boxing and wrestling ripped the lid off financing today and disclosed contributions by promoters to sports writers, lobbyists, and political campaign funds.

For all promotion, good will, and entertainment about $77,000 in one year was spent by the Daro brothers, Lou and Jack, described as the wrestling czars of California, according to testimony taken today.

The totals paid by the Daros to sports writers and a handful of others for good will and advice alone were, according to Jack Daro: In 1935, $39,578; in 1936, $41,303; in 1937, $24,541, and in 1938, $22,593.

Record 45,112 See Opener in Jersey City

Newark, N. J., April 20.—(AP)—The champion Newark Bears lost their opening game and Jersey City set a new minor league attendance record of 45,112 today as the International league opened its 56th season before a total of 64,993 customers. Newark won the championship in 1937 and 1938.

The Bears, broken up and revamped since winning last year by 18 games, were stopped by Veteran Si Johnson of the Rochester Redwings, who hurled two hit ball and fanned ten to spoil Newark's home opening with a 1-0, ten-inning triumph before 7,881 fans. An error, a sacrifice and a double by Rookie Dannie Murtagh drove home the winning run.

For the third straight year the Jersey City Giants broke the minor league attendance mark. Set at 31,324 in 1937 and boosted to 32,652 a year ago, it climbed another 12,460 today with the aid of a promotion campaign backed by Mayor Frank Hague. But the 1938 tail-enders dropped their inaugural, 3 to 2, to the Buffalo Bisons.

Burleigh Grimes made his debut as the Montreal Royals' manager a successful one. His team invaded Baltimore and whipped the Orioles, 10 to 4 before 9,000. Raw, windy weather kept attendance at Syracuse down to 3,000 as the Chiefs defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5 to 2, back of effective pitching by Johnny Gee, who retired the Leafs in order in the last five innings.

Last year four International league opening games in the same cities attracted 66,000 fans.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 20.—(AP)—Attendants reported Mrs. Harold J. Traynor, wife of the Pittsburgh Pirates' manager, doing well today after an operation for a spinal injury suffered several weeks ago in a fall in her home.

CHAMACO SPLITS IN CUE SERIES WITH BOZEMAN

Jay Bozeman of Chicago and Joe Chamaco of New York divided the seventh and eighth blocks of their 600 point exhibition three cushion match in Bensinger's Wabash Avenue Recreation yesterday, but Bozeman increased his lead over the champion to thirty-nine points.

Chamaco, trailing 300 to 269 at the opening of yesterday's play, took the afternoon block, 61 to 50, in sixty-one innings, with the high run of eight. Bozeman came back last night, however, winning, 50 to 31, in forty-five innings, gaining back the eleven points he lost in the afternoon and adding eight points more to his lead. In total scores Bozeman leads Chamaco, 400 to 361.

The two stars will play in the afternoon and evening today and tomorrow. The games start at 3:30 and 8 p. m.

$10,000 MIDGET AUTO RACE MEET PLANNED IN JUNE

Chicago will have a world's championship midget auto race meeting in Soldiers' field on the nights of June 18, 20, 22, 24, and 25.

Plans for the meet, with the best auto racers in the country competing for $10,000 in prizes, were announced last night by the Chicago Bowl corporation, sponsor of the meet, at a dinner meeting in the Sherman hotel. Ted Doescher, zone representative of the contest board of the A. A. A., was present and indicated the meet will have the sanction of the Triple-A.

Under the plans, according to Arthur F. Folz, president of the Chicago Bowl corporation, a quarter mile banked board track is to be built. The banks will be fourteen feet high, slanting at approximately 35 degrees. The track will be 26 feet wide, with a retaining wall to carom cars that get out of hand and a wire mesh screen as an additional safety measure.

PHILS HELD TO 3 HITS BY FETTE; BEES WIN, 2 TO 0

Dodgers Whip Giants, 5-3; Split Series.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, playing as if they were in their annual midseason slump, made only three hits off Lou Fette today as the Boston Bees scored a 2 to 0 shutout and a sweep of the two game series here.

Lou Fette.

Fette, in top form, yielded nothing longer than a single, and only First Baseman Les Powers was able to go as far as third base. He singled in the ninth, went to second on an infield out, and took third on Fette's wild pitch, but stayed there as the Bees' right hander retired the side.

The Bees put the game away in the seventh. Eddie Miller's long single off the left field bleacher fence scored Al Simmons, who had singled and reached second on Cuccinello's bunt.

Sox Open at Home Today with Browns

lation nineteen safeties for the victors against nine for the losers.

Tigers Fight Back.

The Greenberg homer was the second such item. During Knott's brief appearance in the sixth Barney McCosky, the local semi-pro graduate who is setting such a stiff pace it may cause him embarrassment in the near future, doubled for one of his four hits of the day. Right on top of this came a four base tap into the right field seats by Dixie Walker, the lad traded to Detroit more than a season ago for Gerald Walker and others.

The Tigers' three run second began with Fox's single to center. He scored on a double to left center by Rogell. Croucher singled into the left field mire and Rogell scored. Benton had orders to sacrifice and took them so seriously that he kept trying until he had fouled one off for a third strike. McCosky singled to right, putting Croucher on third. Dixie Walker hoisted a fly to Steinbacher, Croucher scoring.

As soon as the Sox had pulled into striking distance with their two run fifth the Tigers drew away again by exploding four hits good for a pair of runs in their half. Dixie Walker started it with a single Steinbacher might have captured if he hadn't skidded on the soggy turf. Gehringer also singled to right, Dixie taking third. At this point Silvestri erred in returning the ball to Whitehead and Dixie scored. Gehringer hiked to third on Greenberg's single to center. After York had fouled into Silvestri's glove Fox singled to left and Gehringer counted.

Four for the White Sox.

Knott didn't have to wait long for excitement when he succeeded Whitehead in the sixth. He got rid of Benton, but McCosky stirred up some action with a double to right. A moment later Dixie Walker compiled two more runs for the Tigers by sailing his homer into the upper right field deck, which is only 315 feet from home plate.

The Sox scored four in the seventh after Gerry Walker had been thrown out by Croucher. Appling beat out a slow roller to Rogell and Kreevich walked. Steinbacher slapped a single into left Appling scoring, Kreevich going to third and Steinbacher to second on the return throw. McNair singled past Rogell, scoring Kreevich and Steinbacher. Silvestri doubled to right center, McNair stopping at third. Radcliff was rushed forth to bat for Knott and spanked a fierce liner to center but it went straight into McCosky's hands, McNair scoring.

The Sox got their tying run without much exertion in the ninth. With one out McNair walked and sprinted to third on Silvestri's single to center. Thompson batted for Brown and sent a fly into right field foul territory. Fox caught it and thereby let McNair run in from third with the tying tally.

Lee Handley to Rejoin Pirates in St. Louis

Peoria, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Lee Handley, Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman, plans to rejoin the club in St. Louis next week. Ordered home to rest up from the head injury suffered when Johnny Allen, Cleveland pitcher, hit him with a pitched ball, Handley has been resting,

N. U. to Play Minnesota in Big 10 Opener

Northwestern university's baseball team will open the Big Ten season today against Minnesota on Roycemore field in Evanston in the first of a two game series. The second game will be played tomorrow.

Addition of three sophomores in the starting lineup has strengthened the Wildcats defensively, but the hitting of such veterans as Nick Conteas, catcher, and Bob Sampson and Fred Shinkevich, outfielders, has stood out this season.

The newcomers in the Wildcat lineup include Dick Smith, first; George McKinnon, shortstop, and Irv Madsen, third base. The only veteran infielder is Chuck Melchoir.

The lineup:

CHICAGO AT PURDUE

The University of Chicago's baseball team, remembering that it took forty consecutive days of rain to set Noah's ark afloat, hopes to start the Western conference season, playing two games with Purdue at Lafayette today and tomorrow.

Chicago's hopes of beating the Boilermakers were lessened by the fact that the last three scheduled games as well as almost all practice sessions in the last two weeks have been canceled by the wet weather.

Bob Reynolds, veteran right hander, probably will start in the first game. Art Lopatka, brilliant sophomore, who pitched Chicago to victories against Wheaton college and Armour Tech, will pitch tomorrow.

ILLINOIS MEETS IOWA

Champaign, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Iowa's veteran baseball team, cochampion of the Western conference last year, is scheduled to open Illinois' conference season here tomorrow and Saturday.

The Hawkeyes, coached by Otto Vogel, teammate of Coach Walter Roettger of Illinois on the Illini nines of 1922 and 1923, will be meeting Illinois for the first time since 1929.

Ed Prasse, three-sport star and football captain next fall and most valuable football player, plays second for Vogel's varsity.

Dodgers Release Sewell; Spent 18 Years in Majors

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 20.—[Special.]—Luke Sewell, signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers last winter after spending eighteen seasons as a catcher in the American league with Cleveland, Washington, and Chicago, today was given his unconditional release. The Dodgers had claimed Sewell on waivers from the White Sox. It was reported the 38 year old Sewell might be signed by the St. Louis Cardinals, who have a short catching staff. Luke broke in with Cleveland in 1921.

REMEMBER THESE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS 10 YEARS AGO?

The baseball picture has changed a lot since 1929—but not the cigar picture.

Phillies still leads the field—and by an even wider margin. And no wonder. You can get Phillies today for only 5c...guaranteed identical in quality, size and shape...exactly the same cigar that was good enough to become the national leader at twice the price.

Phillies is by far America's largest-selling cigar at any price. And what better reason could you have to at least give Phillies a trial? That many smokers can't be wrong.

1929..GOOD ENOUGH TO BECOME THE LARGEST-SELLING BRAND AT A DIME...1939 you can enjoy the same cigar today for only 5¢

J. R. S. WRITES:
"I figure I've cut my cigar bills in half since I switched to Phillies. I used to smoke 10c cigars but I consider Phillies at 5c every bit as good."

You owe it to yourself to try

Pick up any good pointers on Golf in England?

You bet! Always play the 19th hole with Bass

American golfers have brought back from England few finer trophies than the pleasant custom of drinking Bass. While Bass is known as an ale it is decidedly different...much as a matched set is different from just golf clubs. For 161 years Bass has been famous the world over for its distinctive flavor.

COLD WEATHER? DEPOT REFUGEE ISN'T BOTHERED

Because Exhibit Case Is Always Warm.

BY BOB BECKER.

There's a white throated sparrow living in Chicago under unusual circumstances and in a place that hardly would be called an ideal habitat. This bird, a beautiful songster which nests in the north country, has been calling the Union depot its home.

We went over to see this white throated sparrow a few days ago. We wanted it in a small exhibit containing pine trees, balsams, and other vegetation from the north woods. The material in this exhibit has been assembled to portray a northwoods scene . . . a corner of the northern Wisconsin fishing country. Thousands of people pass by this home of the white throat every day, in the main concourse of the depot, but only a few know that hidden among the small pines and balsams is a little bird that has been living in this curious home for many months.

Worried About Bird.

Walter P. Hill of La Grange, Ill., first called our attention to the presence of the white throat in this Union depot exhibit. He was worried about it and asked us to take steps to get the bird out of the depot so it could continue north with the rest of the white throats that are migrating through Chicagoland. We asked Frank J. Newell of the Milwaukee railroad to tell us how the white throat took up its abode in the depot. He said that it just flew in an open window last fall, found the small imitation of the north [its summer habitat] in the concourse and stayed there. There were two of them in the depot for a long time. But one morning one of the birds was found dead. Now there is just one white throat staying in the exhibit. Depot attendants see that it is well fed and watered.

Visitor Drops In.

We stopped by to get a look at this songster, which didn't migrate south last fall and probably will not fly north this spring. We stood off a few feet and whistled at it. Then came a surprise, because we saw not one but two birds. The second occupant of the brushy exhibit proved to be an English sparrow!

Walter H. Hill writes us that he, too, has seen the English sparrow visiting the white throat. He says:

"This last time I went to the depot to see the white throat, I saw not only the white throat but a flutter of wings and there was an English sparrow flying up, high in the depot. I noticed that the white throat does not lack for food or water and seems to be alert, happy, and healthy."

Kansas Relays to Open Today with Decathlon

Lawrence, Kan., April 20.—[Special.]—Track and field stars from all parts of the nation will converge on Memorial stadium here tomorrow for the opening events of the Kansas relays. The program will start with an interscholastic meet and five events of the decathlon.

In the decathlon E. Lee Todd, unattached, Imperial, Neb., will draw attention, for he finished third last year and ranks as the favorite this time. First and second place winners of last year will not be back. Athletes in the decathlon will start their two days of competition with the 100 meter run. Then, successively, they will participate in the broad jump, shot put, high jump, and 4,000 meter run.

On Saturday the bulk of the college and university athletes will arrive for the main part of the meet, a record field of some 700 being entered. The decathlon will be completed Saturday morning.

Entrants in the decathlon are Alex Cain, Arkansas City Junior college; Ell Cain, Arkansas City Junior college; W. L. Clapham, Oklahoma A. & M.; Kenneth Cole, unattached, Norris City, Ill.; Donald Dunn, unattached, Kansas City, Kas.; Leroy Floyd, unattached, Stillwater, Okla.; Eric Friesen, Bethel college; Robert Graham, unattached, Lawrence; Jack Knight, unattached, Coffeyville; Clarence Odell, Oklahoma A. & M.; Allen Scisco, Tuskegee institute; Bob Seymour, University of Oklahoma; Vern Sumner, unattached, Emporia; E. Lee Todd, unattached, Imperial, Neb., and Forrest A. Todd, unattached, Grant, Neb.

British Lead Golden Gloves After 2d Round

thony Czortek of Poland, who scored his second victory of the tournament by stopping K. Kabi of Estonia in the third round. Czortek, a good boxer who can punch with both hands, tore into Kabi and had him clearly beaten at the end of the second. Kabi was unable to come out for the third round.

Estonia's H. Kenepi advanced to the lightweight finals by taking a slugging match from Georges Jacobs of Belgium. Kenepi weakened under the fast pace toward the finish, but won the decision on the lead piled up in the first two rounds. Kenepi's opponent in the finals for the lightweight championship will be the German veteran, Herbert Nurnberg.

Nurnberg Again Extended.

Nurnberg, all-European champion, again had trouble staying in the running for the title, but finally won over Zbegny Kowalski of Poland in an exceedingly close battle. The German had a slight edge in the first two rounds, but Kowalski put up a furious battle in the third. A storm of boos greeted the verdict, the same as last night when Nurnberg defeated Great Britain's Gallie.

Anthony Kolczynski of Poland, who knocked out Jimmy O'Malley, Chicago's great champion, in the European-Chicago matches last year, led the way into the welterweight semi-finals, defeating Georges Byron of Belgium. The Pole was the aggressor all the way, incessantly raining rights and lefts to the head and body. Byron showed little other than an ability to take a lot of punishment.

Kolczynski's opponent in the semi-final round will be Charley Evenden of Ireland, who finished gamely in the third round to win from S. Rossi of Finland. Rossi staggered Evenden several times in the second round, but the Irishman came back with a wild swinging attack in the third to punch out the victory.

Swedish Welter Shows Punch.

Eric Agren of Sweden qualified to meet Great Britain's Thomas in the welterweight semi-finals by stopping K. Tjasto of Latvia. Agren floored Tjasto with a terrific right to the head in the first round and had him reeling at the bell when the referee halted the bout.

Runge will get a chance to atone for the loss of the 1937 championship in the semi-finals, where he meets Oscar Tandberg of Sweden, reigning European heavyweight champion. Tandberg advanced to the semi-finals by defeating James McMullan of Ireland in a dogged battle. McMullan amazed the crowd by holding the giant Swede on even terms in the first round and kept up the fight to the finish, but Tandberg's punches began to tell in the second round and eventually wore the Irishman down.

Tandberg triumphed over Runge in the finals for the 1937 European heavyweight championship and already holds a victory over the German this year. However, Runge tonight looked like the better fighter.

Italian Heavyweight Wins.

Italy's N. Lazzari, fourth heavyweight semi-finalist, qualified to meet Great Britain's Porter by defeating M. Linnamagi of Estonia. Lazzari, a fast, hard puncher, had no trouble with Linnamagi. However, he will face a much tougher opponent in Porter. The Briton battered Van Deuren all over the ring in the first round. He floored him once with a right to the head, then knocked him into the ropes, where the Belgian surrendered without a count.

LOYOLA SENDS MEDLEY TEAM TO KANSAS RELAYS

Four Loyola university trackmen and Coach Alex Wilson left for Lawrence, Kas., yesterday, where tomorrow they will compete in the college medley relay race of the 17th annual Kansas relays.

Entered in the distance medley relay, Bill Elson will start the team in the 440, Charlie Beauregard running the half mile, Tom Layden the three-quarter mile, and Max Lenover the mile. The same quartet won first place at the University of Illinois and Butler indoor relays.

Arch Ward, Lynn Waldorf Guests of N. U. Alumni

Coach Lynn Waldorf and other members of the Northwestern football coaching staff and Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE will be the guests of the Northwestern University Alumni Club of Chicago at a luncheon in the Bismarck hotel at 12:15 o'clock today. The coaches will discuss the results of spring practice and tell of plans for the intrasquad game at Dyche stadium tomorrow, which will conclude spring practice.

BOXING AND MAT FANS BOTH GET A CHANCE TONIGHT

White City, Coliseum Will Present Shows.

Fans will have their choice tonight of attending a boxing show in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, or a wrestling card in the Coliseum, 15th street and Wabash avenue.

Eight bouts of four rounds will comprise the White City program. Original plans called for ten matches, but Co-Promoters Sam Abruscato and Bill Rand were unable to locate sufficient talent to fill the card.

The White City show is topped by Chester Rutecki, Catholic Youth organization middleweight, and Billy Martin of San Francisco. Boys in supporting contests are evenly matched. The pairings:

Orlando Trotter vs. Sol. Robinson, 175.
Eddie Meleski vs. Tony Sopko, 155.
Nick Castiglione vs. Sam Scully, 138.
Tony Motisi vs. Bruce Atwell, 155.
Joe Law vs. Kelly Cohen, 133.
Russ Nyberg vs. Norman Roth, 148.
Perk Daniels vs. Johnny Brown, heavyweights.

Jim McMillen and Ralph [Ruffy] Silverstein will be the principals in the windup of the Coliseum mat program. The match is scheduled for one fall with a one hour limit. Co-Matchmakers Ed White and Fred Kohler have announced that Silverstein will be defending his Illinois heavyweight championship. The award was made by the state athletic commission after Ruffy had scored a decision victory over McMillen in a previous meeting in the Chicago Stadium one year and a half ago.

Preliminaries:

Lee Wyckoff vs. Paul [Frenchy] Amnotte, Matty Matsura vs. Chin Lee, Ray Clements vs. Arthur Van Saxon.

Sammy Angott of Louisville, Ky., yesterday was signed to meet Milt Aron in a 10 round contest heading the boxing show in the Coliseum May 3. It is a handicap match, Angott, who never has weighed more than 135 pounds, agreeing to permit Milt to come in at 147 pounds. Angott is listed as the fourth best lightweight by the National Boxing association, which also rates Aron as the No. 4 welterweight contender.

Mike Sopko, East Chicago middleweight, faces Bill Duncan in a five round amateur fight this evening in Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. In a five round secondary feature Walter Schramm, East Chicago heavyweight, tackles Jack Lebovitz. Additional matches involve Al Calpalley and Columbus Mitchell, and Red McGregor and John Duncan. F. Teddy Yarosz Defeats Archie Moore in 10 Rounds

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—(AP)—Teddy Yarosz, Pittsburgh, former middleweight champion, handed Archie Moore, 158 pound St. Louis Negro, a ten round beating tonight. Yarosz weighed 165. Only in the seventh and eighth rounds did Moore land any stiff blows, but Yarosz weathered the storm easily. Fritzie Zivic, also of Pittsburgh, knocked out Tiger Walker, Cincinnati Negro, in the first round of their scheduled ten round preliminary to the battle.

Third Degree Scores Easily in Derby Test

one of the Lexington hotels this morning.

"Running anything today, Tom?" somebody asked.

"O, I'm running a maiden in a claiming race," he drawled.

His reply drew a derisive snort from Sam Look, son of David M. Look, master of Castleton, one of the prominent breeding farms northwest of Lexington.

"Running a maiden in a claiming race," Look echoed sardonically. "Where have I heard that before?"

Country Prince Pays $39.

But Young made Look eat his sarcasm before the day was over. His horse, Country Prince, was making the third start of his career against veteran runners, so most of the folks at the track were not inclined to take him seriously. The Indian Lake Stable's My Crest got most of the betting support in the six furlong sprint.

But when Charley Bierman went to the whip at the sixteenth pole, Country Prince came home flying, wore down by My Crest in the last few strides and won by a head. He paid off at $39 in the $2 mutuels.

For a long time Kentuckians were skeptical about the riding ability of Johnny Oros, Aurora youngster who is leading the national standing. At first they were inclined to think his winning streak was just a break of luck. Day by day their skepticism has been broken down, however, and when Johnny made his move with Little Ruler to catch Maenerva just short of the winning post in the second race the hardboots turned to one another and agreed that Oros is one of the greatest finishers who has ever ridden at Keeneland.

Edgar J. Hartney Named Squash Racquets Chief

Officers were elected for the 1939-'40 season at the Chicago District Squash Rackets association's annual meeting yesterday in the Chicago Athletic club. Edgar J. Hartney was named president. WEIGH CHICAGO FAULTS IN DRIVE TO RIGHT THEM

Business Men Hold First 'Clinic.'

Some 20 Chicago business leaders in a "clinic" at the Palmer House yesterday gave their views as to what can be done to make Chicago greater. As a first step, Chicago's faults were discussed for the purpose of correcting them. These business leaders held that if these faults can be corrected Chicago's future will be assured.

Holman D. Pettibone discusses taxes and housing.

George A. Richardson, trustee of the Marshall Field estate, presided at yesterday's clinic. It was the first of a series of 100 to be held in all parts of the city in connection with the "Greater Chicago campaign" of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Emphasize These Points.

Almost all of the speakers emphasized two or more of these problems:

1. Taxes. The collection of delinquent taxes, reduction of present taxes, and workable tax base for the future.

2. Real estate. Elimination of the depreciated areas. Civic organizations working together instead of individually. Passage of public service building corporation bill now pending in the state legislature.

3. Labor. Coöperation between citizens and government leaders to improve labor relations, particularly in the building trades.

4. Transportation. Development of satisfactory streets and highways, including elevated and west side highways, to end congestion.

Taxes Are No. 1 Problem.

Holman D. Pettibone, president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, was the first of the group to speak. He declared that Chicago's No. 1 problem is the tax situation which he discussed from three aspects: 1. Delinquent taxes. 2. Current taxes. 3. A workable tax base for the future.

Pettibone said that delinquent taxes should be treated from a business instead of a legal point of view. The citizens should be educated to the realization that they must pay their tax bills; that if they don't their property will be taken from them. Current taxes, he said, are related to the first point because an essential in the current tax situation is reduction. It is difficult to accomplish reduction while many persons are not paying their taxes. The broad tax problem must take a long time for consideration, Pettibone said, and he suggested the appointment of a tax commission to study the subject.

Supports Housing Bill.

Pettibone said that the housing bill now before the state legislature marks the first time that an intelligent method has been set up for handling the depreciated area problem. Passing of this bill, he said, would make it possible to convert large blocks of property which cannot now be improved, into usable property. "It gives us the way to use some of our most valuable property," he said.

The housing act would authorize the creation of public service building corporations [privately owned but state regulated] which would have the power to acquire land for housing sites through condemnation. It has been indorsed by the Chicago Building Congress, Inc.

With respect to labor, he said that whether rightfully or not the impression exists in many parts of the nation that Chicago's labor, and especially in the building trades, is difficult to handle. Citizens and government leaders should coöperate to improve labor relations, he said.

Real Estate Big Problem.

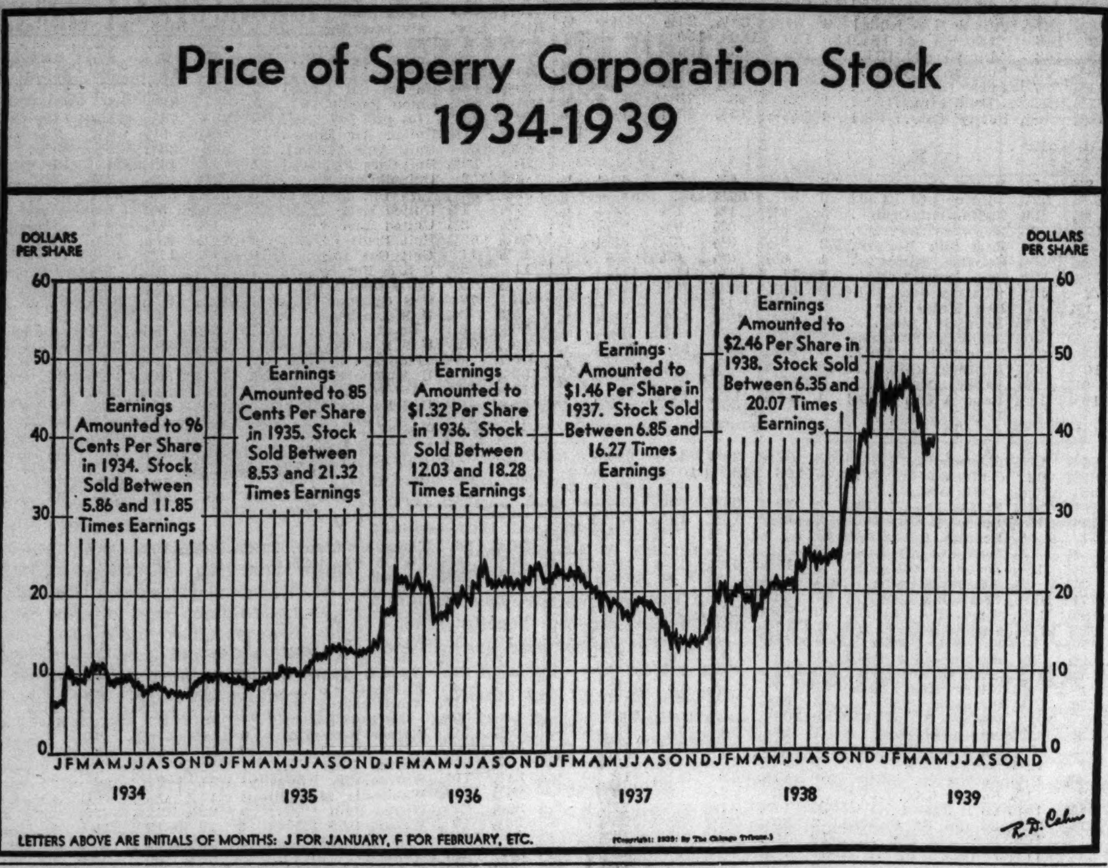
Britton I. Budd, president of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, declared that "the deplorable condition of its real estate is Chicago's big problem. All the ills that Chicago has fallen heir to are reflected in its real estate." He urged the citizens to concentrate their efforts on the three problems listed by Pettibone.

John F. Gilchrist, vice president of the Commonwealth Edison company, said that among Chicago's most urgent needs is a satisfactory west side highway. He also said that under present conditions it is impossible to solve the slum area problem, because no one individual could start an improvement. When it is possible to condemn large areas in the public interest, the problem will be solved, he said.

Other Views Given.

Emil Stake, vice president of the First National bank of Chicago, suggested that steps be taken to get elevated highways to avoid trafic congestion, to encourage new enterprises to come to Chicago, to reduce unemployment, to improve the tax situation, and to eliminate the depreciated areas.

Bertram J. Cahn, chairman of the board B. Kuppenheimer & Co., said ways should be found to make the large foreign groups an integral part of the city working for its improvement.



Illinois Coal Miners' Group Ignores Strike

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Fifteen thousand Progressive Mine Workers of America employed in 200 Illinois mines will ignore the May 4 strike call issued by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, it was authoritatively said here today. The P. M. W. A. scale committee met Illinois coal operators to negotiate a new wage contract.

Although not announced officially, reliable sources said that P. M. W. A. members would continue to work regardless of action by the U. M. W. A.

Members of the P. M. W. A. resent Lewis' demand for a closed shop—one point of contention between Lewis and the national coal operators—because he seeks by such a clause to prevent the entry of any union other than the U. M. W. A. in mines controled by the operators with whom he is negotiating.

Serve Stoppage Notice.

In the meantime, Ray Edmundson, president of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America, notified the Illinois coal operators that the temporary agreement under which the men have been working will be suspended, effective at midnight, May 4.

(F. S. Wilkie, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators association, said in Chicago that with the coal now above ground and that which may be produced within the two weeks remaining until the temporary agreement expires, Illinois should have a thirty to forty day coal supply.)

The Peabody Coal company announced it would reopen two of its closed mines this week-end and may hire an additional 1,000 men in working mines to prepare for the ordered walkout.

Conference Still Deadlocked.

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Despite the threat of a nation-wide coal strike which looms for May 4, representatives of the Appalachian coal field operators and the unions were unable to reach an agreement today. They have been deadlocked for six weeks on the contract, which expired at midnight March 31.

John R. Steelman, head of the United States labor department's conciliation service, returned to Washington to make a report on the situation to Secretary Perkins. The secretary then gave the report to President Roosevelt.

Anthracite operators tonight declared themselves uniformly opposed to four of the twenty-eight demands of the United Mine Workers in negotiations for a new wage and hour contract. Another session will be held tomorrow. The present contract expires April 30.

INSURANCE FIRM ALLEGES FRAUD IN HALSEY BOND SUIT

A federal jury yesterday heard charges of "misrepresentation" and "fraudulent concealment of facts" lodged against Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago investment company, by the Equitable Life Insurance company of Iowa. The insurance company's suit, demanding a judgment of $266,000 against the investment company, was begun in 1935 as an outgrowth of the sale in 1930 of a bond issue by the city of Longview, Wash.

The jury in the court of Judge Michael L. Igoe returned a sealed verdict last night. It will be opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

The insurance company charges Halsey, Stuart with responsibility for depreciation in the value of the Longview bonds for which it paid $250,157 and which now, according to the suit, are worth only $22,000. It alleged that in the original sale of the bonds Halsey, Stuart wrote that Longview had no funded debt prior to that issue, although actually $4,000,000 of bonds ranked ahead of it.

60 BIG CORPORATIONS' FIRST QUARTER PROFIT IS 25 PCT. ABOVE 1938

New York, April 20.—(AP)—March quarter net earnings of the first sixty large corporations to report totaled $83,901,000, an increase of 25 per cent over the $67,322,000 reported for the same period last year, a compilation by the Associated Press disclosed today.

American Telephone and Telegraph company accounted for almost 50 per cent of the total net income reported by the group. Excluding American Telephone, earnings of the remaining companies were 55 per cent larger than a year ago.

Earnings of six food concerns rose 9 per cent. Six steel companies showed a net profit of $1,410,000 against a net loss of $3,503,000 for the first quarter last year. Earnings of four chemical companies were up 60 per cent; three electrical equipment manufacturers, up 8 per cent.

GEORGE P. REA, BANKER, CURB'S FIRST PAID HEAD

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Reaching almost half way around the world to get their man, governors today elected George P. Rea, former banker of Honolulu, as president of the New York Curb exchange, the country's second largest securities market. His salary will be $25,000 a year.

Rea is the first paid president of the exchange. Formerly curb presidents, like former stock exchange presidents, were chosen from the memberships, and served without pay. Securities and Exchange commission recommendations that leading securities markets should have paid chief executive officers without outside connections lead to a new system.

Born in Buffalo, N. Y., forty-five years ago, and a graduate of Cornell university, Rea was the man who organized and became first president of the Buffalo Stock exchange in 1928. In 1931 he took over the management of Bishop National bank of Honolulu, a job he held until last December.

Senate Group Approves Two Nominees for I. C. C.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—(AP)—The senate interstate commerce committee approved today the nomination of J. Haden Alldredge, of Alabama, and William E. Lee, of Idaho, to be members of the interstate commerce commission.

Wrigley Profit in 1st Quarter Best Since '31

The trend of first quarter earnings of corporations in various business and industrial fields was disclosed yesterday in reports to stockholders and in remarks of executives at annual meetings. Although several corporations were shown to have operated at reduced profit levels or at losses, most of the reports indicated a continuation of the improvement evidenced previously.

Thomas H. McInnerney reports profit gain for dairy company.

One of the most encouraging reports was that of the William Wrigley Jr. company, which revealed first quarter net earnings were the largest for the period since 1931. Net profit of the chewing gum company for the three months ended March 31 was $2,193,356, equal to $1.11 a share, compared with $1,433,823 in the corresponding period of 1938, or 73 cents a share.

Walgreen Reports Gain.

In an interim report covering the six months ended March 31 the Walgreen company, drug store chain, announced net income of $1,341,712, equal to 87 cents a share. The company had net income of $881,832, or 51 cents a share, in the six months ended March 31, 1938.

Commenting on the six months' income, Charles R. Walgreen, president, said "This is about the same as two years ago. Last year we earned 51 cents, but, as I pointed out at the time, expansion costs in that period were heavy. Our sales have in recent months shown a moderate upward trend."

Improvement in the automotive field was reflected in the first quarter report of the Houdaille-Hershey corporation, which had net profit of $407,140. This equaled 38 cents a share on class B stock, after dividends on the A stock. First quarter 1938 profit was $29,329.

Another to benefit from the upturn

DOUBLE GRAIN TRADE MARGIN IN FEAR OF WAR

Chicago Board Acts; Prices Firmer.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the May delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Yr ago.
Wheat	$ .69⅝	$ .69¼	$ .84¼
Corn	.49½	.49¼	.59⅝
Oats	.30½	.30⅛	.29½
Rye	.41⅝	.41⅝	.61¾
Soy beans	.88½	.88⅝	.94

Increased uneasiness regarding the European political situation was apparent in the grain markets yesterday. Fear that there might be an outbreak of hostilities in Europe led directors of the Chicago Board of Trade Clearing corporation to double the margin requirements of member firms on trades in wheat, oats, rye, and soy bean futures.

The new margin requirements on the Board of Trade effective tomorrow will be 4 cents a bushel on wheat, rye, and soy beans, compared with 2 cents heretofore. The margin on corn will be increased to 3 cents from 2 cents. On oats the new rate will be 2 cents, against 1 cent previously.

Customers' Margins Raised.

Since Board of Trade rules provide for an initial minimum margin of 150 per cent of the clearing house rate, the new schedule will apply proportionately to customers of the grain firms.

Although officials of the exchange said the war scare was responsible for the sudden increase in margin requirements, there were intimations that the large amount of uncompleted contracts in May wheat, corn, oats, and soy beans had also been taken into consideration.

Grain markets showed a firm undertone yesterday. May oats advanced ½ cent and sold at 30⅝ cents at one time, a new high for the season and the highest price quoted for any delivery of that grain since March, 1938. Cash oats sold at 35½ cents and went to a new high since January, 1938. Closing trades were unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

Wheat Futures Higher.

Wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅛ to ⅜ cent higher. Corn finished unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

The world demand for forward supplies of cash wheat broadened materially yesterday, following announcement that the British government had formulated a plan under which bakers would be compelled to increase their stocks of flour. It was estimated that the United Kingdom purchased about 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat yesterday. In addition about 500,000 bushels of Australian and 375,000 bushels of Argentine wheat was bought.

Revise Silver Buying Law, Head of Reserve Board Urges

Washington, D. C., April 20.—(AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve system, urged congress today to revise the government's silver purchase program, which has brought a large part of the world's silver to this country. The administration monetary leader testified there was "no justification from a credit or monetary standpoint" for the United States to continue paying a premium price for foreign silver.

Marriner S. Eccles.

Furthermore, he said, a continuance of silver buying ordered by the 1934 silver purchase act threatened "to destroy the domestic silver industry in this country."

Consider Bill to End Buying.

Eccles testified before a senate banking and currency subcommittee considering a bill by Senator Townsend [R., Del.] which would end purchase of both foreign and domestic silver and terminate all related administration monetary powers.

Eccles said he did not favor going that far and suggested the government should continue to purchase surplus production of domestic silver mines. He said this might be bought at about 50 cents an ounce, compared with 64.64 cents now being paid by the treasury under the silver purchase act.

His testimony led to a round table and at times highly critical discussion of the administration's gold, silver, and credit moves. Senator Glass [D., Va.], veteran authority on monetary and banking matters, interrupted Eccles at one point to criticize issuance of gold certificates by the federal reserve.

Jail Goes with Gold.

"They're supposed to be redeemable in gold, but if you get the gold they put you in jail and fine you," the Virginian observed.

Other committee members questioned the government policies which have attracted much of the world's silver and gold to this country. Glass broke in again to say it was unwise "to bury the gold in a hole in Kentucky and have the army guard it."

Eccles observed that the gold and the currency issued with gold backing were acceptable to most nations for settlement of international trade balances, but this was not true of silver. Earlier he had explained that the silver act permitted issue of silver certificates or currency on a fixed value of $1.29 an ounce for silver, which was much above world silver prices.

Silver Money Increases.

Eccles said that since 1933 silver certificates and coins in circulation here had increased $1,000,000,000 while other types had decreased $900,000,000. He added that silver certificates had displaced federal reserve notes until "we might reach the point where we have nothing but silver certificates."

The reserve chairman said the surplus of bank deposits had created an "excess reserve situation where the federal reserve board is unable to exercise effective control of the domestic situation. Silver purchases make the problem of credit control—which was made difficult by the influx of gold—that much more difficult."

FREIGHT TRAFIC EXPANDS; MORE COAL IS MOVED

Coal shipments in the week ended April 15 gained 8,598 cars over those in the preceding week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. The increase was caused by heavier movement of coal from regions not affected by the Appalachian mine workers' contract deadlock.

In the preceding week, coal holdings had declined 58,274 cars to 46,451. Last week 55,049 cars were moved.

The total freight volume last week was 547,816 cars, an advance of 12,346 cars, or 2.3 per cent, over that of the preceding week. It was 10,231 cars, or 1.9 per cent, ahead of that of the same 1938 week, but was 198,707 cars, or 25.6 per cent, behind that of the like 1937 week.

The railroad association's weekly classified report of loadings follows:

	Week ended April 15.	—Change from— Preceding week.	Year ago.

BANK CLEARINGS GAIN OVER WEEK AND YEAR AGO IN CHIEF CITIES

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Total clearings for twenty-two leading cities of the United States in the week ended April 19 were $5,391,193,000, an increase of 13.3 per cent over the $4,759,234,000 for the corresponding 1938 week and a gain of $864,761,000 above the total for the week of April 12, 1939, according to figures compiled by Dun & Bradstreet.

New York City clearings rose to $3,318,709,000 for the week, which compared with $2,866,381,000 last year, or an increase of 15.8 per cent. The turnover for outside cities, amounting to $2,072,484,000, was 9.5 per cent larger than the $1,892,853,000 recorded in the like period last year.

Chicago turnover amounted to $299,300,000, or 8.6 per cent ahead of $275,700,000 last year. All other centers reported advances as compared with last year, the more important of which included Atlanta, 30 per cent; Detroit, 22.2; Richmond, 19.3; Baltimore, 14.1; Buffalo, 13.8; St. Louis, 13.4; Philadelphia, 12.7, and Pittsburgh, 11.6 per cent.

HOUSE DEBATES FURIOUSLY ON DEVALUE BILL

Act Today on Power of Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 20.—The house today furiously debated a proposal to strip President Roosevelt of his extraordinary powers to devalue the United States dollar. A vote is scheduled for tomorrow on this vital question of whether congress shall begin to take back some of the constitutional authority it surrendered to the chief executive during the "emergency" period.

Rep. Dirksen attacks President's use of money power.

With the 169 Republicans almost solidly in favor of the change, success of the drive depends upon the assistance of some fifty or more Democrats in tomorrow's balloting. Two hundred and eighteen votes are needed for a majority if all members are present.

Texas Democrats Urge Change.

Chairman Hatton W. Sumners of the judiciary committee, Texas Democrat, called last week upon congress to reacquire the rights it gave away. Another Texas Democrat, Martin Dies, chairman of the committee on un-American activities, backed him up with a plea to the house that it resume its constitutional duty to coin money and regulate its value.

Neither Republican nor Democratic leaders ventured to predict the result of the voting.

The bill before the house seeks to continue in the hands of Mr. Roosevelt the authority to operate the two billion dollar stabilization fund created in 1934; the power to devalue the dollar within a 50 per cent limit; the power to continue the unlimited coinage of silver and the issuance of silver certificates, and the power to reduce the weight of the silver dollar.

Extended Three Times.

These powers, given to the President five years ago, when he proclaimed that disaster threatened if he were not delegated such authority, have already been extended on three occasions. The President now seeks their extension from June 30 of this year, when they would otherwise expire, until June 30, 1941.

Despite minority opposition, extension of the stabilization fund is expected to be approved. The coinage and weights committee recommended

Taxes Affect Estate Plans

PAYMENT of taxes is a necessity in practically every estate. Administration by an executor is greatly simplified and expenses are lower when foresight is used by the maker of a will to provide funds to meet taxes. No estate plan can be called complete unless life insurance, salable securities, or cash have been provided in amounts sufficient to prevent the sacrifice by forced sale of assets not readily marketable.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 20.—The stock market extended its recovery today, although substantial early gains were pared toward the close. Advances ranged from fractions to about 2 points.

Trading increased moderately over the two preceding sessions. Volume of 516,258 shares today compared with 436,880 shares Wednesday and 441,770 shares Tuesday.

Stocks opened with gains of 1 to 2 points among the leaders, reportedly in response to Premier Mussolini's speech. The temperate tone of his remarks was construed as a favorable omen.

New demand around midday enabled many issues to improve on their initial gains. Toward the close, however, some selling cropped out. Brokers reported that professional traders accounted for the bulk of business.

Chrysler featured the trading. General buying and some short covering lifted the stock 3 points at one time. It closed at 62⅛ for a net gain of 2 points. General Motors also relinquished part of its early gain to close ⅝ point higher.

Other leading industrials, including United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, United States Rubber, Goodyear, International Nickel, and Montgomery Ward backed away from their best quotations. Fractional gains ruled. Anaconda and Sears-Roebuck slipped back into the minus column.

Carrier shares quieted after showing some life in the morning.

In the utility section, Consolidated Edison sold above 30 for a time, then slipped back to close at that mark.

Most aviations worked fractionally higher, although Sperry corporation rose 1⅜ points. Bendix was active. Loft made a fractional gain on good buying.

New York Bonds.

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Helped, apparently, by an easing of the European crisis, bond prices worked upward today. Rails and foreign governments led the rise. Italian bonds made the best showing with gains of a point or more in various issues. Utilities were little changed.

Among the advancing rails were Delaware & Hudson refunding 4s, up 1½ at 57¾; Illinois Central 4¾s, up ½ at 42¼; Nickle Plate 4½s, up ½ at 45; Southern Pacific 4½s, up ½ at 45, and Southern Railway 4s, up ¾ at 48.

Early advances in United States Treasuries were chipped down a little in the final hour's selling and closing quotations were 1-32 to 6-32 point ahead of yesterday's close.

Chicago Stocks.

Further recovery in Chicago stock values carried prices up fractions to more than a point yesterday. Although trading remained light at 19,000 shares, fifty-two of the eighty-six issues involved in trading showed advances. Only seventeen declined and an equal number closed unchanged.

The Chicago Tribune average closed at 9.42, compared with 9.20 Wednesday. Commonwealth Edison was less active than in recent sessions and finished with a minor fractional gain. Edison "right" closed at 17 cents, an advance of 1 cent over the Wednesday level.

Zenith made the largest advance, gaining 1⅛ point. Borg-Warner featured the local automotive section by advancing 1¼. Noblitt-Sparks was ⅞ higher.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were irregular in light trading yesterday, dealers said. Nominal closing bids were $1 lower to $3 higher. First National shares gained $3 and Chicago Title and Trust, $1. City National stock declined $1.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The liveliest market of the year developed for hogs at the Chicago stockyards yesterday. Receipts at 19,000, including 8,200 direct to packers, were the largest since March 28. Prices sagged mostly 10 cents under pressure of supplies, with some off 15 cents, but the clearance was good for everything offered.

Reports from the wholesale markets for fresh pork were encouraging. Packers are finding a good outlet for all kinds of fresh pork at prices that apparently are satisfactory to consumers.

Supplies of cattle continued small and prices rallied. Advances of 10 to 15 cents were fairly general in steers and yearlings, although no strictly top grades arrived to test quotations. Stronger rates prevailed for lambs yesterday, with some sales unevenly higher.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

COTTON

Liquidation by holders of May cotton contracts and aggressive selling of that delivery by Bombay houses resulted in a decline of .08 cent a pound in early dealings yesterday. Buying by mills and spot firms brought a rally from the low point. Closing sales were at losses of .01 to .04 cent a pound.

Spot cotton closed .12 cent lower to .02 cent higher, with New York, 8.97 cents; New Orleans, 8.58 cents; Houston, 8.40 cents, and Galveston at 8.31 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

Commodity future prices eased moderately in light trading yesterday. A further cut in the price of domestic copper upset the metals, and little buying interest was displayed in other basic staples.

Copper futures closed unchanged to .03 cent a pound lower. The domestic copper price was reduced ¼ cent a pound to 10¼ cents by producers in the late afternoon, meeting a similar cut made in the morning by a prominent custom smelter.

During the last week the domestic copper price has been slashed 1 cent a pound through a series of cuts started by the custom smelter interests. The quotation is now back to where it was Sept. 14, 1938.

Silk futures were under pressure, falling .05½ to .15 cent a pound in the wake of lower Yokohama prices. Rio and Santos coffee were easier on European liquidation. Rubber, cocoa, and domestic sugar also declined.

The world sugar contract closed .005 cent lower to .02 cent higher. Trade and speculative purchases were reported, but best prices were shaved on profit taking in the last hour.

I. C. C.'S RULING PROTECTS LABOR IN RAIL DEALS

Reorganizations, Leases Are Involved.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission today ruled that, in authorizing railroad leases and consolidations, it has authority to impose conditions for the protection of labor. The vote was 6 to 4.

The commission's ruling was in a decision authorizing the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railway to lease the properties of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf railway. The commission imposed conditions designed to protect employés who would be required to accept reduced compensation, those who would be dismissed, and those who would be required to change their places of residence to other points of the Rock Island system.

I. C. C. Explains Position.

"We are not attempting to exercise jurisdiction to regulate employment, nor the compensation of employés, nor their expenses," the commission said. "We are simply attempting in the public interest reasonably to protect those employés of the applicant who may be adversely affected economically by the grant of authority herein against unavoidable but unreasonable and unjust burdens which are not in the public interest."

Chairman Marion M. Caskie dissented. He said he did not agree that the commission had authority to impose conditions for the protection of employés who would be adversely affected by the lease.

"I am fully sympathetic with the humanitarian efforts of the majority," Caskie said. He added, however, that he did not believe the interstate commerce act gave the commission jurisdiction to prescribe labor conditions, "notwithstanding that they are inherently just and reasonable."

Means $100,000 Saving.

Trustees of the Rock Island estimated the leasing of the Gulf line would result in an annual saving of $100,000. The plan involved the transfer and dismissal of employés. The Rock Island contended that the commission had no authority to impose labor conditions.

Commissioners who joined with the majority were B. H. Meyer, John L. Rogers, Claude R. Porter, Frank McManamy, Walter M. W. Splawn, and Joseph B. Eastman. Commissioner B. Aitchison did not participate in the case.

In another decision the commission authorized the Louisiana and Arkansas railway to acquire control of the Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas railway.

Milwaukee Line Employes to Honor 60 Year Veteran

A record of 60 years of service in one department of the Milwaukee road will be celebrated tonight when fellow officers and employés will give Benjamin A. Dousman a dinner at the Traffic Club of Chicago. Dousman started as an accountant with the road on April 21, 1879, and is still in the accounting department. He will be given a gold button emblematic of his 60 years service. He resides at 112 South East avenue, Oak Park.

RCA TO OFFER PUBLIC TELEVISION RECEIVERS MAY 1, SAYS SARNOFF

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Television receivers ranging in price from $175 to $600 will be offered to the public beginning May 1, David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, announced today. When the receivers go on sale, the corporation will begin regular television broadcast programs of seventy hours a week, Sarnoff said.

David Sarnoff.

Television models on display at the broadcast ceremonies ranged from an attachment which reproduces pictures only and which plugs into a radio set for sound, to a large console type combination television and sound radio receiver, employing a 12-inch kinescope tube.

The attachment model is the direct viewing type, showing pictures 3⅝ inches deep by 4⅝ inches wide. The largest model reproduces pictures 7⅝ inches by 9⅝ inches which are reflected from a mirror in the lid of the cabinet. A charge of $50 will be made for installation.

At present, the range of television broadcasts is limited to approximately the horizon. From RCA's broadcasting station atop the Empire State building, images can be reflected accurately approximately 50 miles away, it was said. Portable units also will "telecast" from various points.

PULLMAN SHARE VALUE REDUCTION GETS APPROVAL

Stockholders of Pullman, Inc., at their annual meeting in Wilmington, Del., approved reduction in the amount of capital represented by its shares from $193,727,600 to $154,982,080, the company announced yesterday. This was accomplished by reducing share value from $50 to $40.

The reduction was made to restore the company's surplus account preparatory to writing down by $33,143,225, the figure at which the stock of the Pullman company, transportation subsidiary, is carried on the parent company's books.

The new figure will reflect the depreciated original basis of all carrier property, as required to be shown on the books of the Pullman company in accordance with interstate commerce commission regulations.

MOST OF MARKETS WILL CONFORM TO DAYLIGHT SAVING

Principal security and commodity markets will set their opening and closing hours back when daylight saving time goes into effect Sunday, April 30. On Monday, May 1, security and commodity markets will open and close at the same hours, under the new time, as they now open and close under standard time.

The New York stock and curb exchanges will open at 10 a. m. and close at 3 p. m., eastern daylight saving time. The Chicago Stock exchange will open at 9 a. m. and close at 2 p. m., central daylight saving time, which means the New York and Chicago exchanges will continue to open and close simultaneously. The Chicago Board of Trade will open at 9:30 a. m. and close at 1:15 p. m., central daylight saving time.

DEMANDS OUSTER OF UTILITY FOR CAMPAIGN GIFTS

Missouri Prosecutor Sues Union Electric Co.

St. Charles, Mo., April 20.—(AP)—Forfeiture of the corporate charter of the Union Electric company of Missouri was asked today by Prosecuting Attorney David A. Dyer in a suit accusing the public utility of violating the state corrupt practices act.

The petition, filed in Circuit court, charged that the company had contributed financial aid to certain favored candidates in the St. Charles municipal elections of 1937 and 1938.

These alleged unlawful contributions, the suit asserted, were "a great harm and injury to the public and to its [Missouri's] form of government, and are a misuser of the franchises granted to it [the company] by the state of Missouri."

Owns Big Hydro Plants.

Union Electric, a subsidiary of the North American company, owns the Keokuk, Ia., and Bagnell, Mo., hydroelectric plants. It distributes electricity in St. Louis and adjacent communities and, through subsidiaries, to towns in Illinois and Iowa.

The state corrupt practices statute, under which Dyer brought his suit, makes it unlawful for any corporation to contribute money, directly or indirectly, to the campaign funds of any party or individual, and provides for charter forfeiture as a penalty.

Dyer also asked, in accordance with a provision of the act, for an order enjoining the corporation from doing business in Missouri. This would not prevent operation of the utility property owned by the company under orders of the court.

Charges Campaign Contributions.

The suit charged specifically that in the St. Charles city election of April, 1937, Union Electric subscribed money to the campaign funds of Mayor Edward J. Schnare and three candidates for the city council. Schnare was defeated for reëlection.

It charged also that in the city election of April, 1938, the company similarly contributed money to the campaign funds of four candidates for councilmen.

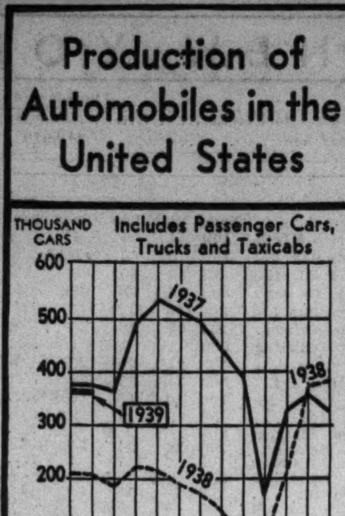
The question of constructing a municipal power plant in St. Charles, now served by Union Electric, was an issue in both elections.

HEAVY BUILDING AWARDS DECLINE FOR LAST MONTH

Engineering construction contracts awarded in the week ended yesterday totaled $53,947,000, according to Engineering News-Record. This represented a decline of 33 per cent from the preceding week, but an increase of 37 per cent over the corresponding period of 1938. The figures [last three ciphers omitted] follow:

	Last wk.	Prev. wk.	Last yr.
Private	$ 9,723	$20,864	$13,770
Public	44,224	60,003	25,660
State, municipal	41,396	56,428	24,170
Federal	2,828	3,575	1,490
Total	$53,947	$80,867	$39,430

The construction total for the first sixteen weeks of the year was $993,540,000, or 22 per cent above the aggregate of $813,039,000 for the corresponding period last year. Public awards of $742,543,000 were 66 per cent above those of a year ago, and private awards of $250,997,000 were 31 per cent lower.



43 MILLIONS IN GOLD ARRIVES ON THE QUEEN MARY

The liner Queen Mary docked at New York yesterday with foreign gold unofficially estimated at $43,000,000 in her holds. This gave one of the largest in recent weeks, added fresh momentum to the record breaking stream of gold flowing into this country since the Munich conference last September.

Most of this metal represented "official" shipments and therefore was unreported in the federal reserve bank's daily gold statement.

The Federal Reserve bank's gold statement for the week ended April 19 showed total imports of $51,185,000. This consisted of $38,941,000 from England, $4,494,000 from Argentina, $3,035,000 from Switzerland $2,475,000 from Canada $1,124,000 from Belgium, $591,000 from India, and $525,000 from Holland.

The ninety day Belgian belga sold at a discount of 0.80 cent below the spot rate, compared with 0.60 cent Wednesday. In spot transactions the belga and the British pound gained in terms of the dollar, closing at 16.81 cents and $4.68 1-16 respectively.

REPORT UNIQUE FEATURES FOR CROSLEY'S CAR

Cincinnati, O., April 20.—(AP)—The Times-Star says a new low priced automobile to be manufactured by the Crosley corporation will be a "one seat three passenger vehicle with a wheelbase of about six feet, powered with a two cylinder, four cycle air cooled engine" that will provide 50 to 60 miles per gallon of gasoline. The car likely will be manufactured at Crosley's Richmond, Ind., plant.

Quoting an "independent source," the Times-Star says: "The same source explained the rear wheels would be only 16 to 18 inches apart, the differential between them, and the front wheels much farther apart, giving an almost triangular suspension. According to reports, the car will sell for about $300 and in addition to a passenger model, there will be a delivery body."

Declining any information, Crosley officials said yesterday the car would be unveiled at the Indianapolis speedway, April 28.

Monopoly Committee Asks Petroleum Firms for Data

Washington, D. C., April 20.—(AP)—The monopoly committee has asked forty corporations in the petroleum industry for information which will form the basis for public hearings, probably early in June. Among other things the committee questionnaire inquired concerning price methods and the extent to which the so-called "basing system" and other methods "are used to establish and change the price the consumer pays in various sections of the country."

Bendix Appliances Loan Is Expected Next Week

Public offering of a new issue of $625,000 of 5 year 5 per cent convertible debentures of Bendix Home Appliances, Inc., South Bend, Ind., is expected to be made next week by Burr & Co., Inc., New York, it was announced yesterday. Proceeds are to be used for new working capital, additional manufacturing facilities, and to pay a $200,000 note held by the Bendix Aviation corporation. The company produces home washing machines and other products.

Business Bits

Philip W. Moore, vice president of Poor & Co., has been elected to the executive committee of the Personal Loan and Savings bank.

F. N. Bard, president of the Barco Manufacturing company; J. A. Cunningham, secretary of the Peoples' Gas, Light and Coke company; C. S. Davis, president of Borg-Warner corporation, and J. H. McNabb, president of Bell & Howell company, have been named to the public relations committee of the National Association of Manufacturers.

J. J. Snyder, assistant chief clerk in the office of the Rock Island superintendent of transportation, will retire May 1 after forty-five years of service.

Les H. Forman, former Chicago and St. Louis newspaper man, has been named executive secretary of Brewing Industry, Inc. He was formerly executive secretary to Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri.

Herbert Delafield has been elected a director of De Mets, Inc., replacing A. A. Chapell.

Alfred Marchev has been elected a director of the Signode Steel Strapping company, succeeding H. C. Porter.

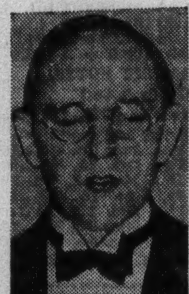
William H. Lewis and Frederick W. Conant have been elected directors of Douglas Aircraft company. The latter replaces Harry H. Wetzel, former senior vice president, who died, and Reeves Taylor, who resigned.

The board of directors of the Aluminum Company of America has been increased to ten members with the addition of George J. Stanley and I. W. Wilson, vice presidents.

VISIONS SCIENCE MAKING JOBS FOR IDLE MILLIONS

Research Expert Predicts Industrial Expansion.

Scientific research, which has created many new industries and millions of jobs since America's rise to industrial supremacy began, can stimulate further expansion that would return to pay rolls the millions of men now unemployed. The prospect of this solution of the unemployment problem was held out last night in an address by Dr. James K. Hunt, research expert for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., before the twelfth annual meeting of the Economic Club of Chicago, in the Palmer House.



Dr. James K. Hunt.

He based his prediction on the fact that one out of every four persons gainfully employed today owes his job to industries which have been developed in the last half century, many of them in the last twenty years.

Cites Many New Products.

Illustrating the contribution to industrial progress made by scientific research, Dr. Hunt asserted that products developed since 1929 now account for 40 per cent of the total sales of the Du Pont company, big Delaware chemical enterprise.

Citing this country's former dependency on other nations for chemicals, and chemistry's contribution to America's self-sufficiency in event of national emergency, he said:

"Come what may throughout the world, American manufacturers in many important lines will find the chemical industry ready to supply various man-made materials to take the places of natural materials which often are to be found only in different and distant places in the world."

Challenge to Imagination.

New developments, Dr. Hunt asserted, challenge the imagination of the country's builders. As an example of what lies ahead, he said "fame and fortune await the man who will devise a simple method for the mass production of comfortable, attractive homes which can be assembled, erected and maintained at a cost within the means of the average family."

More than 500 Chicago business men, bankers and industrialists attended the meeting.

George W. Roessler, head of a Chicago accounting firm, was elected president of the Economic club, succeeding William J. Kelly, who was appointed honorary chairman of the board. Kelly is president of the Machinery and Allied Products Institute and the Arthur J. O'Leary and Sons Steel company.

Other Officers Elected.

Other officers elected were: First vice president, Thomas H. Beacon Jr., of the First National Bank; second vice president, Richard Wagner of the Chicago corporation; secretary, H. E. Christiansen, of Henri, Hurst & McDonald; and treasurer, Harold Byron Smith, of the Illinois Tool Works.

New additions to the club's directorate are T. J. Carney, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Frederick D. Corley, president of Marshall Field & Co.; Thomas Drever, president of American Steel Foundries; and Ralph N. Larson, executive vice president of the Upper Avenue National Bank.

HOUSE DEBATES FURIOUSLY ON DEVALUE BILL

Votes Today on Powers of Roosevelt.

that this provision of the bill be amended to stipulate that the accounting of the treasury report to congress, as well as to the President, concerning the operations of the fund.

The fight will center about an amendment ending the President's power to devalue the dollar. It is upon this proposal that supporters of the campaign to restore to congress its right to regulate the value of money are basing their hopes.

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.], led the attack on President's use of his monetary powers.

"Five years of devaluation and stabilization have not stabilized anything," he said. "Devaluation of the dollar has resulted in a substantial gift of dollars exchange to foreign countries and the time has come to put an end to this stupid practice. As a result of transactions between the United States and France, as one example, France has been given a virtual gift of one and a quarter billion dollars in gold. Who will contend that such a monstrous policy is fair to the American people?"

Gold Stock Unhealthful.

Dirksen pointed out that the United States has an unhealthful stock of gold as a result of its gold purchasing operations. Two-thirds of the world's visible monetary gold stocks are now in this country and the percentage is steadily increasing, he said.

"This is more than an unhealthy condition, it represents a definite danger," he remarked. "Why should we aggravate this condition by continuing the power to devalue the gold dollar if the President so decrees?"

Dirksen asserted that the stabilization fund has been used to make loans to foreign countries. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau officially denied this charge, he said, but Assistant Secretary Wayne C. Taylor, when he resigned Feb. 16, indicated that such loans were being made.

Resigned Because of Loans.

"Taylor, who was in charge of the stabilization fund, declared that his resignation was caused by the disagreement with the treasury department about loans to foreign countries," Dirksen told the house. "If he was shown an official statement from the treasury department which stated that the fund was not being used for any loans. He remarked: 'I don't care where that statement came from. It is not true.'

"Congress ought to know what countries are benefiting from these loans. Are they being made to France, Britain, and other countries who are still indebted to us for the last war, in violation of the Johnson act?

May Be Path to War.

"Is this stabilization fund the means whereby we shall be sucked into the European mess? The fund may yet be the instrument whereby the United States may be dragged into European conflict in defiance of the determination of the people of this nation to remain free from foreign controversies."

From Representative Robison [R., Ky.] came a statement that in devaluing the dollar originally, in 1934, "we treated our own citizens worse than Hitler treated the Jews of Germany." He asserted Hitler had put a 20 per cent tax on the wealth of Jews, whereas devaluation, in effect placed a 40 per cent levy on every American.

GLASS WORKERS APPEAL NLRB'S RULING FOR C. I. O.

Cincinnati, O., April 20.—(AP)—The National Flat Glass Workers' Union of America took to the Sixth United States Court of Appeals today its fight to upset a National Labor Relations board ruling that the C. I. O. Federation of Flat Glass Workers of America was the appropriate bargaining agent for employés of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company.

The petitioners, an A. F. of L. affiliate, contended the A. F. of L. represented all employés of the company's Parkersburg, W. Va., plant. The board so found at a hearing preceding issuance of the order on Jan. 30, but ruled that elsewhere the C. I. O. held a majority and that all plants should be considered accordingly.

Illinois High Court Asked to Affirm Gas Rate Decree

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday asked the Illinois Supreme court to reaffirm the court's finding of last Feb. 22 voiding an increase in household gas rates in Chicago by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company. The court on April 5 granted the gas company a rehearing of the case. The rate increase, which was put into effect in February, 1938, was at the rate of about $3,000,000 a year.

Two Hiawatha Trains Carry 30,648 Persons in March

The two streamlined Hiawatha trains of the Milwaukee road in March carried a total of 30,648 passengers, 11,148 passengers on the Morning Hiawatha and 19,536 by the Afternoon Hiawatha, the road announced yesterday. The Morning Hiawatha was placed in service last month. In March, 1938, the Afternoon Hiawatha carried 20,116 passengers.

Underwear Industry Says It Is Prepared for War

Philadelphia, Pa., April 20.—(AP)—The underwear industry is prepared for war. Roy A. Cheyney, president of the Underware institute, disclosed at a meeting today the manufacturers are ready to produce two suits—shirts and drawers—for every soldier even though 5,000,000 men should be mobilized.

FARMERS SUE CHAIN STORES FOR $8,328,576 ON MONOPOLY CHARGE

Little Rock, Ark., April 20.—(AP)—The Louisiana Farmers' Protective Union, Inc., and Ellis M. Jenkins, its president, filed suit in federal district court here today for $8,328,576 against six chain grocery companies. They charged the companies sold Louisiana strawberries below cost in an attempt to create a monopoly.

The defendants named in the suit were: The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of America, Inc., New York; Atlantic Commission Co., Inc., New York; Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., Inc., Cincinnati, O.; Wesco Food Co., Inc., an Ohio corporation; Safeway Stores, Inc., Reno, Nev., and Tri-Way Produce Co., Inc., Reno, Nev.

The suit asserted the defendants were "attempting to create a monopoly unto themselves for the exclusive distribution of all agricultural and foodstuff commodities at retail in the continental United States." It charged the strawberry farmers of Louisiana suffered an actual loss of $2,776,192 on the crops of 1937 and 1938 "due to the illegal acts of the defendants," and sought under the Sherman anti-trust law to recover three times that amount.

ALTER RAIL PLAN TO OBTAIN MORE WORKING CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., April 20.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today modified its plan of reorganization for the Chicago Great Western Railroad company to provide about $800,000 additional working capital. The modification calls for a total capitalization of $63,091,827, instead of $62,291,827 provided in the original plan.

The capitalization will be increased by providing for an issue of $16,386,350 of first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, instead of $15,586,350. This will be brought about by increasing the amount of new bonds for working capital from $1,250,000 to $2,050,000.

The amended plan calls for total fixed charges for the calendar year 1939 of about $849,000. This amount will be increased to $863,000 for 1940.

The plan goes back to the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, where the railroad is in process of reorganization. If approved by the court, it will be submitted to security holders for approval.

FOREIGN OWNED U. S. STEEL STOCK SETS NEW PEAK

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Foreign holdings of common stock of the United States Steel corporation were more than 10 per cent of the amount outstanding for the first time on record on March 31.

A report issued today showed that 872,499 common shares, or 10.02 per cent of the total issue, were owned abroad. This compares with 862,561 shares, or 9.91 per cent, on Dec. 31, and with 848,816 shares, or 9.76 per cent, a year ago. On Sept. 30, 1936, foreigners held 592,858 shares, or 6.81 per cent.

Heavy purchases by British investors accounted for the advance during the first quarter, the report showed, with Canada also adding to its holdings. Stock holdings of England were 367,153 common shares, against 359,322 on Dec. 31, a gain of 7,831 shares.

Holland, second largest holder, owned 327,200 shares, against 328,072, a decline of 872 shares and Canada, in third place, held 131,404 shares, a gain of 4,353 shares.

IDLE CASH SETS ANOTHER RECORD OF FOUR BILLIONS

Gold Stocks at New Peak of $15,605,000,000.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Idle money in the nation's banks soared to the unprecedented peak of 4 billion dollars in the week ended April 19, the federal reserve board reported today. Excess reserves increased $120,000,000 over the preceding week.

The amount of idle money has been rising rapidly during the last two months largely because of the continued flow of gold and other wealth from Europe to this country for safekeeping. Gold imports in the week ended April 19 totaled $175,000,000, bringing the gold stock to a new all-time record of $15,605,000,000.

Have Vast Loan Power.

The nation's banks now have a potential loan power, based on the estimate that a bank can lend $8 for every $1 of idle money, of approximately 32 billions. The federal reserve board regards it as a source of potential credit inflation and has asked congress for powers to deal with the situation.

A gain of $10,000,000 in loans to brokers and dealers in securities during the week was reported by New York City member banks. Commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans there declined $4,000,000. Chicago member banks reported a gain of $1,000,000 in commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

By BOB BECKER

April Keeps Faith.

With creeks full of dirty brown water, the woods soaked by recent rains, and every depression on the farm covered with shallow pools of water, spring apparently is keeping in mind the old phrase, "April showers bring May flowers." If the drizzling rains of recent days are any criteria, the woods on the Du Page county farm are due to have one of their most showy displays of flowers this spring, for the ground has enough moisture in it to give the wild flowers and other vegetation a big start once the weather warms up.

Dr. George D. Fuller, professor emeritus of ecology at the University of Chicago, visited the farm this week to see the wild flower parade. He walked through the east woods with us and in this tract we have an unusually beautiful and interesting display of flowers every season. Dr. Fuller remarked that due to the cool weather some of the early wild flowers were delayed in blooming and that the trillium and other flowering plants which ordinarily blossom later on will catch up with them.

Hepaticas Blossoming.

The wild flowers are more numerous than they were a week ago. There are many hepaticas showing their varicolored blossoms. Some of the delicate flowers of the spring beauty also were open when we walked through one large patch. Countless spring beauty buds could be seen on the plants, all waiting for the touch of a warm sun. The trilliums have got a start despite the cool weather. Their three-leaved shoots are well above the ground.

The dogtooth violets also have sent their dark colored leaves through. When we were in the east woods we looked twice at these leaves to make sure of their identity. The dogtooth violet presents little leaf surface when it first shows itself. The leaves are tightly wrapped to form such a slender shoot that it looks like the point of a small spear pushing its way up through the dead brown leaves and wet humus. Judging by the number of dogtooth violets already visible, there will be a beautiful display of these flowers next month.

Spring Mimics Fall.

The purple coloring in the first shoots of Jacob's ladder and in the budding wild cherry trees is one of the most interesting things in the farm woods. The same chemical reaction which causes coloration in autumn leaves now is present in the wild cherry and Jacob's ladder. This purplish tint ordinarily comes in the fall with cool weather, but the cool weather this spring has brought it out already.

The fields are so wet that the men on the farm are unable to do any work. Fence building kept them busy this week. One stretch of fence erected during the last few days incloses an orchard. Scattered among the apple trees we could see a number of new beehives which were placed there several days ago.

ILLINOIS CITIES SHOW BUILDING GAIN THIS YEAR

HomeConstruction Makes Largest Increase.

BY AL CHASE.

Building in 166 Illinois cities during March was greater than for the same month last year in both number of permits and cost of construction. According to the state department of labor there were 2,282 permits issued last month for buildings costing $7,471,965. In March last year there were 2,066 permits, totaling $5,357,197.

Last month's building also was larger than the preceding month of February. In that month there were 933 permits for buildings costing $5,952,613.

Home Building Gains Most.

The largest gain last month was in home building. Permits were issued for 682 new residences costing $3,986,483, compared with 348 permits valued at $2,017,875 in March, 1938. The March, 1939, figures also were considerably higher than February, 1939, when 331 permits valued at $2,895,397 were issued.

Building of all types during the first quarter of this year increased both in number and cost over the first quarter of 1938. For January, February, and March, this year, there were 4,198 permits for buildings valued at $16,967,696. For the first quarter last year there were 3,942 permits costing $12,347,922. This was a gain of 6½ per cent in number and 37.4 per cent in cost.

Gains Over Last Year.

A much larger gain was made in home building. During the first quarter of 1939 there were 1,318 permits for residential construction costing $8,596,192. These compare with 624 permits for buildings valued at $3,713,684 during the first three months of 1938. This is a gain of 111.2 per cent in number and 131.5 per cent in cost.

Hard Liquor Output Gains in March Over Year Ago

Distilleries in the United States produced 13,019,223 gallons of distilled spirits during March, against 12,283,369 in March, 1938, according to the bureau of internal revenue figures made public yesterday. Warehouse withdrawals totaled 8,569,183 gallons, compared with 7,255,241 in March, 1938.

BIG AIRCRAFT MAKERS.

Investors' Guide: Who is the biggest manufacturer of airplanes in the country. Also which company makes the highest profits? It seems that news here and abroad now is so concerned with aviation factories that I should like to know something about them. What per cent of airplane sales are for military use and how many are exported?—A. T. D.

Answer: The United Aircraft corporation is the largest producer of aircraft in this country and has also been the biggest money maker. Here is a list of sales for the first six manufacturers in 1937 and 1938:

	1938.	1937.
United Aircraft	$36,800,000	$29,295,000
Curtiss-Wright	33,103,000	24,116,000
Douglas	28,347,000	20,950,000
G L Martin	12,417,000	7,839,000
Consolidated	12,245,000	11,907,000
Lockheed	10,275,000	5,210,000

A look at the 1938 earnings records shows that United had net income of $5,426,000, Curtiss-Wright was second with $3,599,000, Glenn L. Martin third with $2,349,000, and Douglas fourth with $2,147,000.

Last year sales of military planes were about $96,000,000, or 64 per cent of the $150,000,000 total for all kinds of planes. Forty-five per cent of last year's production was exported, compared with 35 per cent exported in 1937.

BRIEF SKETCH.

Investors' Guide: Please give me a brief sketch of the American Seating company. I want to know what its business is and also want figures showing trend of operations in the last five years.—T. M.

Answer: Feeling the recession, American Seating last year had the smallest profit since 1934. Curtailment of orders in 1938 by chief customers—schools, theaters, churches, and public buildings—brought a 16 per cent drop in sales.

Five year sales and profits record:

	Sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1938	$7,030,000	$238,000	$1.08
1937	8,419,000	637,000	2.88
1936	7,032,000	541,000	2.45
1935	4,918,000	330,000	1.63
1934	3,871,000	134,000	.66

Dividend disbursements have been conservative in view of earnings. The dividend record is: No payment 1931 through 1935, $2.50 a share in 1936, $1.25 in 1937, 50 cents in 1938, none so far in 1939.

Payment of $150,000 notes due in 1938 left current liabilities at the end of the year of only $434,000. This amount was favorably small compared with current assets of $4,331,000, but only $277,000 of the assets were in cash.

The capital structure consists of $1,668,000 of 6 per cent convertible debentures and 221,000 shares of common stock.

The debentures are a business risk—good now but need watching—and the stock is speculative.

WRIGLEY PROFIT IN FIRST QUARTER BEST SINCE 1931

Many Companies Report Earnings Gains.

in the automotive industry was Noblitt-Sparks Industries, Inc., which converted a first quarter loss in 1938 into a net profit this year. The company's report for the March quarter showed net income of $138,655, equal to 73 cents a share, against a net loss of $89,965 in the 1938 period.

Reduced profits were shown in the first quarter report of the National Cash Register company. Net income was $484,024, equal to 30 cents a share, against $608,196, or 37 cents a share, in the first three months of 1938.

Corn Products Refining company reported net income of $2,003,357 for the March quarter, equal to 62 cents a share. Profit was $2,922,793, or 98 cents a share, in the first three months of 1938.

For the period Jan. 1 to March 25 the National Tea company reported a net loss of $109,732, against a net loss of $207,096 in the corresponding period of last year.

Dairy Reports Upturn.

At the various annual meetings the most substantial improvement in earnings was reported to stockholders of the National Dairy Products corporation in New York. Thomas H. McInnerney, president, said net income for the first three months of 1939 approximated $1,800,000, compared with $697,000 in the opening period last year. The second quarter outlook is favorable, he added.

The most discouraging news developed at the annual meeting of the Shell Union Oil corporation, also held in New York. R. G. A. van der Woude, president, said "profits are not good and much less than in the corresponding quarter of last year," and expressed the belief this condition was general with the petroleum industry. He blamed the reduction to excessive refinery operations and unwieldly inventories.

Walter D. Fuller, president, told shareholders that the Curtis Publishing company's first quarter profits will increase at least 50 per cent over the 1938 level, when the company earned $246,289.

C. E. Adams, chairman of the United States Industrial Alcohol company, placed first quarter profits at $41,000, or about the same as in 1933.

MEN OPPORTUNITY

We don't care what your past work or earnings have been. We are not worried about your education, your religion, or your nationality.

We are interested in how ambitious you are and how willing you are to work and study to qualify for the kind of work and monthly commission earnings being made right now by men already connected with this organization.

You may be employed now, but starving for lack of opportunity. [illegible] However, if you have been out of a job for more than six months, we doubt if you are the kind of man who could hold down the place we have to offer.

It will cost you nothing to investigate this ad and we cannot tell whether you could qualify in our line which is outstanding in the electric unit field unless we can talk with you. Come in for a preliminary interview.

311 NORTH CENTRAL-AV.

ASK FOR

MR. T. N. LIND

Immediate Opportunity

FOR CHICAGO MEN.

NEW, AMAZING PRODUCT THAT ENJOYS THE SAME POSITION IN ITS FIELD TODAY AS THE ELECTRIC LIGHT DID TO THE KEROSENE LAMP YEARS AGO.

Under the unique merchandising plan, men who qualify will be set up in business for themselves and assisted in getting started successfully.

Under the co-operative plan, branch dealers get phenomenal results: earnings as high as $20 daily.

Permanently. No investment necessary. No lean seasons. We can train any intelligent, clear thinker to sell this electrical device and assure him of at least $40 commission for first week.

If you are wide awake and want a business that pays big earnings, investigate this unusual opportunity.

NEAR NORTH SIDE
Why spend time commuting when you can live down here
NEAR THE LAKE
and near so many interesting things, with only a short walk to and from your office in the loop? [Perhaps you need that walk.] You will really feel at home if you live in the Cook estate. We have Fireplaces, Bookshelves,
and other things to make you comfortable, and we try to take care of you after you do get in. Do you like a huge living room of most unusual design, flooded with both north and south light, with 4 other rooms and 2 baths? Or a little heated 2 bedroom shaggy-roofed house in a little Pomander Walk at the second floor level? Or apartments with bay windows and combination dressing and sleeping rooms? 1 to 6 rooms. All on or near North Michigan-avenue.

NEAR NORTH SIDE
Would you like to live surrounded by all the comforts of home, from a grand piano down to a Duncan Phyfe with its dainty table service? It's two stories up to the ceiling and we hope you will see the hanging at the huge studio window. There are 2 bedrooms with baths and one can be used as an upstairs sitting room. A fireplace of course! There is something enchanting and joyous about the whole place.

"How I Got a Loan of $100 without embarrassment or delay."

"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money, with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."

Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?
